Miss Freeman, LWV President In Weston, Has Many Interests

Florence E. Freeman

WESTON — Miss Florence Eleanor Freeman, who has the only law office in Weston, is a woman of many interests. She is president of the League of Women Voters for this year and next, Director of Civil Defense, member of the Methodist Church Board, and a director of the Weston Forest and Trail Association. Besides this sampling of her activities, she finds time to sail her 18-foot boat at her Gloucester summer home and take an active part in amateur dramatics.

Miss Freeman was born in Cambridge but moved to Wilmington, Delaware, at an early age where she lived until she came to Montvale Road in Weston five years ago. After graduating from Wellesley College, she went to the University of Pennsylvania Law School. There was only one other woman lawyer in Wilmington at the time she was admitted to the bar. there she practiced corporation and family law for five years. She has been astounded at the number of woman lawyers in Massachusetts and the country, however.

Miss Freeman says that she cannot remember when she first became interested in becoming a lawyer but it certainly was before she got to college. The intelectual challenge appealed to her, plus her own desire to be of some service to the community. She feels that there is no tendency now to criticize woman lawyers. However, a woman lawyer must adapt her methods of procedure to her sex. She cannot, for instance, rave and rant in Perry Mason fashion as a man might.

When Miss Freeman opened her office here three and a half years ago, she felt that she was following the trend of the times by offering suburbial service. Her work consists of title and family law, trusts, and wills. Weston also happens to be very central for reaching courts and registries—Worcester, Dedham, Lowell, and Cambridge — so Miss Freeman feels that she is happily situated.

Chair Vanishes From Old Wayland Town Hall

WAYLAND — For 20 years, when he was Town Treasurer, Frank G. McKenna sat in an old captain's chair in the office of the Wayland Selectmen in the old Town Hall.

Recently the Selectmen, as a pleasant gesture, decided to present the chair to Mr. McKenna.

Executive Secretary Norman E. Taylor went over to the old Town Hall to look it up. It was gone. Somebody seemed to have had a key to the building. The Selectmen would like to have the chair returned. No questions will be asked.

Church Phone Book To Be Out In January

WESTON — The Weston telephone book containing CEdar numbers, sponsored by St. Peter's Church, will be published and on sale late in January, it has been announced by Mrs. J. W. Wilcock, telephone book committee chairman.

All Weston residents who received listings too late for the new Boston, Waltham or Wellesley directories are asked to call Mrs. Wilcock, CE 5-5338, or write her at 202 Winter Street, Weston, to have their numbers included. These numbers must be in by Jan. 10.

Meanwhile, the Weston "Red Book", a publication of Suburban Guide & Directory of Boston, another book of local information and TWinbrook and CEdar telephone listings, has appeared.

The church committee says:

"Both directories were started about the same time without knowledge of the other's project until plans had been carefully made by each . . . .

"The St. Peter's book will feature only 42 names per page to ensure easy-to-read type. Great care has been taken to secure accurate, up-to-date information on local organizations, church schedules and information known to be of special value to Weston people. . . . The book will be published on an annual basis if it receives favorable support this first year."

The Red Book publishers also say they mean to put out their directory annually.

Wayland's New Communications Center Gives 24-Hour Service

WAYLAND — As of Dec. 29, Wayland's new communications setup, covering both police and fire departments, first in the Town's history, was scheduled to go into operation.

For the first time, there was a center, in the new Town Building, which any citizen in trouble could call at any hour of the day or night.

During the past few years, since the installation of the telephone dial system in Wayland, the Town's telephoned fire alarms have been handled by the dispatcher in Natick. This has been a paid-for service, much appreciated by Wayland officials, but not so satisfactory as a system under Wayland's own control.

To report a fire, one now should call EL 8-4321 or OL 3-4321. No matter which end of Town one is in, the call will go to the Wayland dispatcher, who will take appropriate action.

To call police, one should call EL 8-2121 or OL 3-3031. The same dispatcher as for a fire will receive either of these calls, and he will be able to radio at once to either of the Town's two cruisers.

Men On Duty Now

Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin says this system of combined communications isn't the most common arrangement, but isn't exactly unusual, either. In a big place, police and fire communications would be separate. But Wayland is still small and this combined arrangement is far better than anything the Town has had before.

PLEASE USE THE BOX

WAYLAND—Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin says he wishes all residents wishing to report fires would, if possible, use the fire alarm boxes, of which there are 125 in Town. Use of the box locates the fire instantly, he says, and saves the time and confusion which conversation might involve.

Only a few years ago, Police Chief Ernest H. Damon was the only officer in Town. And there were no regular firemen at the stations. When an alarm sounded, the call men would rush to help. Moreover, a time came when most of the men worked out of Town, and it was sometimes a question whether anybody would be around to answer a daylight alarm.

Now there are permanent fire-

Emphasis will be on individuals rather than group sports, it is said. Letters containing details will be sent home to parents soon.

Mrs. Turgeon Is New Health Center Nurse

Her salary is paid by the Health Center.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

The final returns of our recent United Fund campaign in Wayland have now been tabulated and I would like to report to the Town on our achievements.

Contributions in the residential and general business drive totalled $7125. This amount is exclusive of advance gifts and Raytheon contributions. It is, I believe even more impressive in view of the fact that of the nearly 2000 residential solicitations made in Wayland, approximately 45 per cent of the persons solicited had already contributed at their places of business.

I have no hesitation in saying that this first United Fund campaign in Wayland was a success, and I am grateful to all the residents of the Town who by their contributions and support made it so.

I want particularly to express my congratulations and sincere thanks to each of the 240 persons who worked so hard and so effectively as volunteers. As all of the Division Chairmen, Committee members, District Directors, Captains and Solicitors well know, we started under the handicaps of forming our organization at the last minute and consequently of having little time to plan the campaign or to train ourselves for the job. The results, however, happily show that every one of you served devotedly and well, for which you may certainly be proud.

Sincerely yours,
Edward C. Mendler, Jr.

UF Thank You

To the Editor — The United Fund was a new concept in Greater Boston this year and required a good deal of interpretation. The coverage the United Fund received in the Town Crier helped provide this needed interpretation.

The reports in your paper of the continued progress of the drive, and of the local residents active in the campaign, helped spark the interest and support that was evident in Weston and Wayland.

Thank you for your efforts throughout the entire year and especially during this campaign.

Sincerely yours,
O. Kelly Anderson

Wetlands Project Is Weighed By Trustees

WAYLAND — An experimental demonstration installation, to show the value of bog land in promoting wild life and human recreation, may be put in on the Mill Brook forest area of the Sudbury Valley Trustees, it has been announced.

Conservation and sportsmen's groups have long wanted a test area of this sort. They were convinced that it was a mistake to fill in marshes, because they were sure such areas could be of value. They finally obtained $1000 from the Carling Conservation Club of Natick (the brewery) and they are now drawing plans.

Representatives looked at the Trustees' land, off Concord Road in North Wayland, and found it ideal for their purpose. The plan is to dig a couple of deep pools in the brook, using the excavated soil to build dams, for possible bathing and skating and for the wild creatures. Coarse marsh grass and underbrush would be cleaned out. But no buildings or roads into the area would be built, and most of the time there would be no people near the ponds.

The Trustees have about 50 acres. The pond area would not cover more than five acres.

No work is to be done immediately, however, says Allen Morgan of the Trustees. The plans are still being drawn and the Trustees' directors have not acted. Property owners who live near the forest will be consulted before a decision is reached.

No public beach would be established. But there would be a place to swim for those willing to assume responsibility for their own safety and that of their children. There would be no life guard. It would be mainly a swimming hole for those living near enough to walk in through the woods.

If the work is to be done, and Mr. Morgan thinks it likely that it will be agreed to by the Trustees, no digging would be done before the dry season, probably at the end of next Summer.

The project has had a good deal of publicity. It's interesting because it would be a unique test intended to prove that wetlands have a good deal of value.

LEGAL NOTICES

TOWN OF WESTON

Acting under authority granted by the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under Chapter 111, Sections 31, 123, and 127, and under all other enabling statutes thereof, the following rules and regulations were adopted and approved at the regular meeting of the Weston Board of Health on December 10, 1957.

Said rules and regulations shall be in full force and effect immediately.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

CESSPOOLS, SEPTIC TANKS, PRIVY VAULTS AND PUBLIC SEWERS

Section 1. No privy-vault, cesspool, septic tank or alteration to an existing sewage disposal system shall be permitted or maintained on any lot or premises where a sewer is accessible.

Section 2. The owner or other person or persons having control of any existing building or buildings hereafter erected or converted into a dwelling, to be occupied by one or more families, and where a public sewer is accessible, shall, in a manner and within a period of time satisfactory to the Board of Health, cause such building to be connected with such public sewer.

Section 3. The owner or other person or persons having control of any existing building or buildings hereafter erected or converted into one or more stores or other places of business, and in which one or more persons are employed, shall provide sufficient toilet facilities, and wherever a public sewer is accessible, shall, in a manner and within a period of time satisfactory to the Board of Health, cause such stores or other places of business to be connected with such public sewer.

Section 4. No cesspool, septic tank, leaching works, permanent privy-vault, or other means of sewage disposal, including additions to existing sewage disposal systems shall hereafter be constructed or installed in this town until a permit has first been obtained from the Board of Health.

Section 5. No building permit shall be issued until the Board of Health has approved the proposed lot as suitable from a sanitary point of view. No building permit shall be issued on an unsewered street until a permit for a sewage disposal installation has been obtained from the Board of Health. The Board of Health prior to the issuance of any permit may require that the soil suitability be determined by percolation tests and/or mechanical soil analyses. Percolation tests shall be conducted at depths required by the Board of Health.

Section 6. All disposal works hereafter constructed or installed shall be of approved material and design and unless otherwise specified by the Board of Health shall be located not less than twenty (20) feet from any dwelling, not less than twenty five (25) feet from any stream, not less than five feet from any line of street, court or passageway, not less than five (5) feet from line of adjoining lot, and not less than one hundred (100) feet from any private water supply; fifty (50) feet from a public surface water supply source or any of its tributary streams or drains, twenty five (25) feet from any subsurface drainage system, ten (10) feet from any drinking water supply line under pressure, all measurements being taken from the nearest portion of the sewage disposal works. The use of an abandoned well as a cesspool in areas where water supplies are obtained from the ground is hereby prohibited.

Section 7. No cesspool shall be allowed as a separate permanent, primary system unless specified by the Board of Health. All cesspools or leaching pits, unless otherwise specified by the Board of Health, shall be not less than six (6) feet in depth, measuring from the lower rim of the inlet pipe, not less than six (6) feet in diameter (inside measurement to point of drawing in or invert), and shall be provided with an iron cover and rim laid in a minimum of six inches of reinforced concrete. Reinforcement shall be accomplished by use of steel rods having a minimum diameter of ⅝ inch and laid in a maximum of sixteen (16) inches on centers. Such cover shall not be more than twelve (12) inches, nor less than six (6) inches below the finished grade. The inlet pipe to a cesspool must not be more than eighteen (18) inches below the ground or permanent grade level unless otherwise specified by the Board of Health. Each leaching pit or cesspool shall have a minimum of two (2) feet of ¾ inch to 2½ inch stone at the outer wall permimeter, unless otherwise specified by the Board of Health. Each cesspool shall have an outlet pipe either plugged for future use or leading to a secondary disposal area. This pipe shall be a four (4) inch sanitary tee of approved material, the downward portion of the tee extending eighteen (18) inches below said pipe. The invert of the outlet pipe shall be four (4) inches below the invert of the inlet pipe.

Section 8. All septic tanks hereafter constructed or installed shall be of approved materlal. They shall have an effective capacity as specified in the following table: (or as specified through accepted revisions of said table.)

MINIMUM SEPTIC TANK CAPACITIES

| No. of Bedrooms | Minimum Liquid Capacity of Tank Without Garbage Grinder Gals. | Cu. Ft. | With Garbage Grinder Gals. | Cu. Ft. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 2 or less | 500 | 67 | 750 | 100 |
| 3 | 600 | 80 | 900 | 120 |
| 4 | 750 | 100 | 1125 | 150 |
| 5 | 900 | 120 | 1350 | 180 |
| 6 | 1100 | 147 | 1650 | 220 |
| 7 | 1300 | 174 | 1950 | 260 |
| 8 | 1500 | 200 | 2250 | 300 |

Each septic tank shall drain either into a distribution box of a size sufficient to accommodate the necessary field lateral lines, or into a seepage pit or pits as required by the Board of Health. The effluent from such tanks must be disposed of by proper subsurface systems so as not to cause a nuisance in the vicinity or to pollute any water supply. Field lateral lines shall consist of a minimum of one hundred fifty (150) feet of leaching pipe or such additional length as indicated by the percolation test. Said drains shall be increased at least twenty five (25) per cent where a garbage grinder is installed. Each distribution line shall be of four (4) inch pipe of approved material laid with open joints on an eighteen (18) inch layer of one (1) to one and one half (1½) inch stone. No single line of distribution pipe shall be over one hundred (100) feet in length and shall be at least six (6) feet on centers. All lines must be laid at a grade of four (4) to six (6) inches per one hundred (100) fet. Each pipe shall be surrounded with crushed stone and covered to a depth of four (4) inches of which shall be three quarter (¾) to two and one half (2½) inch size, and two inches of one eighth (⅛) to one quarter (¼) inch. The trench shall have a minimum width of two (2) feet. Construction and layout details not specifically set forth above shall be in accordance with modern sanitary engineering practices as interpreted and ordered by the Board of Health.

Section 9. No rain water leader. cellar drain, or any drain other than those for domestic household wastes shall discharge into, or be connected with any cesspool, overflow cesspool or septic tank; and no discharge or overflow drain leading from such cesspools or septic tanks shall be connected in any manner with any rain water leader, cellar drain or street drain.

Section 10. The owner, person or agent responsible for the construction of local sewage disposal works shall have such construction inspected by the Board of Health or its agent before such construction is covered, and such covering shall thereafter be applied in a manner approved by the Board of Health.

Section 11. The owner of any sewage disposal system which no longer is in use shall notify the Board of Health within forty eight (48) hours from time of abandonment. If upon inspection said disposal system is declared a hazard to either health or safety, the owner or agent shall be required to correct the condition in a manner and within a period of time set forth by the Board of Health.

Section 12. No permanent privy-vault shall be constructed or maintained on premises which are provided with a public water supply. All permanent privy-vaults hereafter constructed shall be of approved material, and shall be fly proof, and unless otherwise specified shall be located not less than twenty (20) feet from any dwelling, not less than twenty (20) feet from line of adjoining lot, and not less than twenty (20) feet from line of any street, court or passageway — all measurements being taken from nearest outer point of vault.

Section 13. Temporary privy-vaults for the convenience of contractors or their employees may be erected or installed without a permit, but only under the following conditions. The vault must be at least two (2) feet in depth and must be so located as to cause no annoyance to persons residing in the vicinity. The owner, contractor or agent shall cause the contents thereof to be covered with chlorinated lime, earth, or ashes twice each day. Immediately upon completion of the contract the contractor shall remove the privy, shall fill in the vault and leave the premises in a condition satisfactory to the Board of Health.

Section 14. No indoor toilet or water closet, except that which is provided with proper means of flushing with water at time of using, where water is available, shall be hereafter installed on any premises in this town. Where water is not available for flushing, indoor chemical toilets of approved material and construction may be installed under special permit of the Board of Health if proper provision is made for the final disposal of the contents thereof.

Section 15. Whenever a water closet, privy-vault, septic tank, cesspool or drain becomes offensive or obstructed, the owner, agent or occupant of the premises shall cause same to be cleaned and made free or otherwise corrected.

Section 16. Every owner, occupant or agent of premises in which there is any private sewer, drain, privy-vault, septic tank or cesspool, shall keep the same in a sanitary condition and shall have every privy-vault, septic tank and cesspool emptied and cleaned when necessary or at such times as ordered by the Board of Health. No privy-vault, septic tank or cesspool shall be emptied except by such parties and in such manner as shall be especially authorized by the Board of Health. If the owner or occupant fails to comply with such order, the Board may cause the nuisance, source of filth, or cause of sickness to be removed, and all expenses incurred thereby shall be paid by the person who caused or permitted same, if he has had actual notice from the Board of Health of the existence thereof.

Section 17. Separability. So far as the Board of Health may provide each section of these rules and regulations shall be construed as separate to the end that if any section. sentence, clause or phrase shall be held invalid for any reason, the remainder of the rules and regulations shall continue in full force.

Section 18. Penalty. Whoever, himself or by his servant or agent or as the servant or agent of any other person or any firm or corporation, violates any provision of these rules and regulations shall be punished as provided by the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Each and every violation of the provisions of these rules and regulations shall constitute a separate offense.

Communications

men on duty in the daytime at both Cochituate and Wayland stations, with 38 call men on the roster.

The communications desk will be manned by Arthur Flieger and John Regan, listed as firemen, and Thomas Murray and George Rousseau, listed as policemen. The department names won't mean much, as the service rendered will be the same.

Wants A Blue Light

Radios on Wayland fire equipment are on the same frequency as that of the Natick, Framingham and Sudbury fire departments. Mutual aid with Weston has to be handled by telephone.

Wayland police can talk by radio with 19 communities, says Chief Damon. These places include Natick, Framingham, Wellesley, Newton and others as far away as Wrentham and Groton. Again, Weston is on a different frequency.

Chief Damon has moved into his new office in the Town Building and his former office in the Cochituate fire station building has been closed. His quarters include the dispatcher's room, a locker room for officers, a block of two cells (first to be used in Town in more than 30 years) and his own office. He wishes he had more room.

Moreover, he'd like to have the traditional blue light over the police station door, which faces Millbrook Road, and another blue light out where motorists on the State Road could see it.

As of the other day, no wrongdoer had been the first to use one of the new cells. There are some good stories about the earlier Town lockups, in the horse and buggy days, but in modern times there hasn't been much picturesque crime.

Another change, says Fire Chief Hartin, is that Boxes 61, for Wayland, and 17, for Cochituate, won't be used any more. The boxes, on the two fire stations, will remain, but for all telephone alarms, anywhere in Town, 77 will be sounded.

Weston Board Of Appeals (Zoning)

Henry W. Clark of 42 Coburn Road. Petition for variance to permit the addition of dormer windows to an existing dwelling and the addition of a wood and tool shed where the setback from the street sideline and street center-line is less than the minimum required under the amended Zoning By-law. Granted with specified distances from the sideline and center-line because the shed was originally planned at a time when it conformed to the Zoning By-law. Therefore a literal enforcement of the present By-law would bring substantial hardship to the petitioner.

James G. Hadge. Petition for variance for use of premises situated on the westerly side of Norumbega Road as a rest home and home for the aged. Denied because the premises are easily adapted for use as a single-family residence; such use would be in conformity with the Zoning By-law and consistent with the present use of property in the neighborhood.

Each check one draws goes through 28 specific operations before it's returned cancelled with the bank statement, says the Massachusetts Bankers Association.

COCHITUATE — Appointment of P. Russell Gordon, of the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co., 74 Main Street, as treasurer in the Cochituate 1958 Heart Fund has been announced by Frank K. Hahn, Cochituate general chairman.

The Heart Fund, sponsored by the Massachusetts Heart Association, devotes the month of February to a campaign of fund-raising and education throughout the state.

The Onaga-Dori, Japanese long-tailed fowl, to be shown at the Boston Poultry Show this month, has probably never been seen by any local bird watcher.

False Alarm Results In A Motor Accident

WAYLAND — The automobile of Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin was damaged on Dec. 28 when he was hurrying along Cochituate Road, near Pequot Road, answering an alarm sent from Box 132, Cochituate bathing beach, which turned out to be false.

A motorist turned quickly in front of the chief. He turned out and scraped both the other vehicle and the fence. He was not hurt and it looked as though body work would fix his automobile.

Later that same afternoon little Margaret Metz, 6, and Cynthia Lucas, 5, of Old Connecticut Path, turned up missing and 20 fire fighters turned out to hunt for them. However, when it got dark they knocked on the door of a house in Birch Road, nearby in Framingham, and were taken home.

John Pelletier Heads The Auxiliary Police

WAYLAND — Police Chief Ernest H. Damon has appointed police officer John F. Pelletier, a member of the Wayland force for 3 and one-half years, to be chief of the auxiliary police, numbering more than 100, Civil Defense Director Francis J. Hartin announces.

Auxiliary Chief Pelletier

Officer Pelletier is a graduate of the State Police School at Framingham, and was a World War II member of the United State Marine Corps. He plans a course of both theoretical and practical work, with intensive training in the use of firearms.

The new range under the Town Building has facilities for both rifle and pistol practice.

Drill sessions will be held every two weeks, with the first one Jan. 9. Auxiliaries are asked to report at the range with notebooks and pencils.

Gilbert Garland To Be University Of Life Speaker

WESTON—Dr. Gilbert C. Garland of 75 Woodchester Drive, Director of Admissions, Northeastern University, will be the first speaker at the "University of Life", sponsored by the Youth Council of the Weston Council of Churches. Four outstanding speakers have been selected to speak on the topics of boy and girl relationships, the work of the church in society, man's relation to God, and preparing for a vocation.

Gilbert C. Garland

Dr. Garland's topic will be vocations, "You and Your Future", and will suggest how preparation to use our talents can begin at the high school level.

The University of Life is a four-week Sunday evening series for high school young people in Weston, beginning Sunday, Jan. 12, at 6:30 p.m. The final meeting will be Feb. 2. All meetings are at the First Parish Unitarian. Cost of the four-week "tuition" and "board" is $1.00 per person.

The evening program begins at 6:30 p.m. with recreation for 30 minutes. One of the four speakers will present his subject to the entire group from 7 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. Then comes a 40-minute period during which the four discussion groups meet with their leaders. At 8:10 p.m., the groups convene for refreshments. Worship closes the evening by 8:45 p.m.

The four discussion group "courses" will focus on these topics: what work do I want to prepare for, boy and girl relationships, understanding the Church and our Churches, and getting the most out of leisure

This moving picture is the result of several trips to the Gaspe region of Eastern Quebec. Mr. Morgan has recorded the antics of Puffins, the courtship of Black Guillemots, the young of Hawk Owls and the mobbing of an owl by colorful warblers.

The travelogue will be presented at 8 p.m.

Water Resources To Be Discussed By Maynard Hufschmidt

Frustrated Muttnik Climbs Weston Tree

WESTON — "Dog and child in tree" was the one call the Fire Department had to deal with on the last day of 1957. The 5-months-old Irish kerry blue terrier belonging to Dr. and Mrs. Peter Angelo of 49 Newton Street ran 18 feet up an old, slightly inclined, willow tree.

As the dog naturally would not or could not come back down, 15-year-old Nell Angelo climbed to the rescue. An impasse was reached, as Nell could not carry the dog down and when she let go of it the dog made ominous motions towards diving off onto the sharp rocks below. So there they stayed until the Weston Fire Department came to the rescue.

Bimbo, Lost Angora, Found In S. Sudbury

WAYLAND — Bimbo, big yellow and white Angora cat reported missing in a letter to the editor in the Crier of Dec. 19, has been found and returned to his owner, Mrs. Mildred P. Purinton of Townsend, Massachusetts.

Bimbo Was Found

Mrs. Purinton wrote that Bimbo vanished from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frederic A. Jenks, of Training Field Road, some time early in September.

Mrs. Jenks reports that Bimbo was in the custody of Mrs. J. W. Broome of Concord Road, South Sudbury, where he appeared soon after leaving Wayland. Presumably he went through the woods and crossed the river on a bridge, traveling four or five miles.

Mrs. Broome asked people in Sudbury to whom he belonged, but nobody seemed to know. She kept him and took care of him, and the other day somebody in Wayland who had read the piece in the Crier told her about it. She called Mrs. Jenks, who retrieved Bimbo on Jan. 2, thanked Mrs. Broome and took Bimbo to Townsend, where Mrs. Purinton was happy to receive him.

Visual Aids To Be Shown At Cochituate PTA Meeting Jan. 9

COCHITUATE — The January meeting of the Cochituate P.T.A. will be held on Thursday night, Jan. 9, at 7:30 p.m. After a short business meeting in the cafeteria of the school, the meeting will move to the auditorium, where Principal Walter F. Doucette will demonstrate the various pieces of equipment used in the Visual Aids program.

"I would like to have parents see for themselves," Mr. Doucette says, "just what it is that Johnny has seen when he turns up at home and tells his mother that they had movies all afternoon in school. There is a great deal more to it than that, and I think parents will enjoy and profit from seeing just how much more."

Kevin Delaney Rescued In Skating Accident

WAYLAND—Kevin Delaney, a freshman at Wayland High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brandon Delaney of Stonebridge Road, fell through the ice of Dudley Pond on the afternoon of Sunday, Jan. 5, and saved himself by swimming and by the help of Edward Lazarian of Emerson Road, who held out a pole to him.

Both Kevin and Mr. Lazarian were taken home, the former by Wayland police and the latter in a Fire Department vehicle. Mr. Lazarian is a call fireman.

The accident occurred 500 feet from shore. Kevin says he swam to a patch of firm ice. Somebody put in an emergency call, and Mr. Lazarian reached out the pole. Both were drenched before the rescue was completed.

Many skaters were on the pond, at the end near the Mansion Inn site, and there was a small traffic jam during the period of excitement.

WESTON — Three Weston women will take part in the Jan. 25 meeting at Wellesley College of The Seven Associated Women's College Clubs of Boston. Mrs. Carl A. Kuniholn and Mrs. Eugene Allmendinger will be ushers from the Boston League of Smith College Clubs and Mrs. Kirkbride Patterson will be a hostess for Wellesley College.

More Than 85% At Weston High Are Taking Mathematics Courses

WESTON — Approximately three-fourths of the student body at Weston High School is enrolled in the study of foreign languages and the sciences, while more than 85 per cent is taking courses in the field of mathematics, according to statistics recently compiled by Principal Julius H. Mueller.

This is contrary to the national trend, where a swing from the "hard" to the "soft" subjects has been noted among more and more high school pupils.

The following statistics, taken from Mr. Mueller's report, present a comparison of enrollment of grades 9-12 in mathematics, sciences and foreign languages in 1948 and 1957:

| 1948 | No. of Pupils | % of Pupils Enrolled |
|---|---|---|
| Mathematics | 95 | 54.0 |
| The Sciences | 138 | 79.0 |
| Foreign Languages | 123 | 70.3 |

| 1957 | No. of Pupils | % of Pupils Enrolled |
|---|---|---|
| Mathematics | 324 | 85.9 |
| The Sciences | 278 | 73.7 |
| Foreign Languages | 123 | 70.3 |

In 1948 there were 175 pupils in grades 9-12, as compared with 377 students in 1957. Thus, while enrollments were being doubled, pupils still continued to manifest a high interest in the more challenging curricular offerings.

Even more noteworthy is the actual increase in popular choice for the so-called discipline subjects of mathematics and foreign languages. This is in complete contrast to the national trend in secondary education, where a drop-off of from 20 per cent to 50 per cent in mathematics and science enrollments has been noted. Findings from this study depict the Weston pupils as realistic and serious of purpose with highly commendable personal goals.

Far from incidental to this encouraging educational picture are the interested parents and teachers of the Weston community. Also, working hand-in-hand in uniquely personalized fashion with pupil, parent and teacher is the staff of the High School Guidance Department under the direction of Charles K. Cummings Jr.

The testing, counseling, informational and other guidance services are of assuring and supportive importance to adequate pupil orientation in modern education.

(This report comes from the office of Superintendent of Schools Anthony Brackett.)

Hockey Players On The Pond

Local skaters had their first good chance to get out on the ice on the weekend of Jan. 4 and 5, when the first cold weather of the Winter provided temperatures of 10 above and lower. Hockey players above are on Frank Kilburn's pond, off Old Connecticut Path, Wayland.

To the Editor:

Through your paper I would like to commend the boy scouts of Wayland for their excellent choice of Christmas trees they had on sale.

I test the needles every day and they are still fresh and supple.

Glad to read in the Town Crier that the sale exceeded their goal. See you next year.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) William A. Dugan

With all our thanks (for greetings sent from Weston), we send to you all on the Weston-Rombas Committee our best wishes for a Happy 1958 . . . and the people of Rombas send their warm thanks to the beautiful Town of Weston, to the "Mayor" and the City Council of Weston.

(Signed): A. Nass

From Andre Roesslinger, from Hagondange, Moselle:

. . . This must be a beautiful time in Weston, and I would like to be there right now. I remember clearly the deep snow, the Christmas trees and especially the many candles that were "litten" (lighted) up at every house. Weston was quite beautiful at that season . . . we are all preparing for Christmas in many ways, and I am sure that it is going to be a successful day, but still, I would like to see my friends from Weston; I miss them. . . .

Other greeting cards were received from: Mademoiselle Ursele Fischbach, scholarship student in Weston, 1954-55; Monsieur Bernard Eypert (and family) representing the Town Council on the Rombas Committee, and from Monsieur Z. E. Harsany, Principal of the College de Rombas.

From Miss Charlotte Naney, former member of the Weston Committee, 1956 - 57, representing Regis College: "I do miss my association with you in the Rombas Association and I sincerely hope that all your plans are fulfilled. My own hope is that the present and future Regis delegates aid you as much as possible in this marvellous mission."

Mrs. Smith, Piano Lessons

WAYLAND — Mrs. Haldon L. Smith of 16 Sedgemeadow Road will begin accepting pupils for private study of the piano starting in January. Mrs. Smith, who has specialized in piano instruction at the elementary level in particular for more than 10 years, studied at the University of Michigan School of Music and with Jeanne Behrend in Oxford, Ohio.

Mrs. Smith plans to include monthly Saturday morning piano "classes" in which all of her pupils will meet to play for each other. Parents interested in starting their children in piano may call Mrs. Smith at ELmwood 8-7434.

From the report of the Wayland Selectmen, dated March 1, 1899:

"In June last, we received notice from Mr. C. W. Dean that the water fountain in Cochituate was in part situated on his land (about one foot) and if it was not removed at once, he should charge the town rent at the rate of $12 per month. We therefore promptly had the fountain moved at an expense of $13.75."

Rummage Cheats Dump

In his nightmares, the economist wrestles with the classic problem of the community in which the people support themselves by taking in each other's laundry.

Around here, that sort of thing is no nightmare. It's actuality. Only difference is that what they take in is rummage, not laundry. All the organizations in Town support themselves by selling rummage.

Rummage, of course, is a broad term, covering everything from the French-English half of an English - French dictionary to stuff which really does belong on the Town Dump.

The Town Dump? If it weren't for rummage sales, the dump would have to be twice as big. It is reported that there is one article which has been kicking around at local rummage sales since 1903, when it should have been thrown away.

In these 54 years, this item has been sold twice a year. That's 108 times, at an average price of 49 cents. There's $52.92 right there, realized from what should be used only for ballast on a Red Sea scow, and it figures out to $.97 for each rummage selling organization in Town.

There's a cake tin, for example, which has been sold 215 times, the record for one article. At 19 cents it looks like a real bargain. The only catch in it is the hole in it, very small. That's why it sells so often.

Typical gift to the rummage sale committee is the cocktail shaker minus top or spout. The theory is that the shaker is still usable, provided the user will cover the top with his hand or thumb. Alcohol cleans, anyway. But this kind of bar tending gets tiresome, after a while, and the topless shaker always comes back.

Some contribute used baby equipment to the rummage sale, but this is a mistake. More parents have given away high chairs and then found out they had to buy new ones. The stork hovers right over every rummage sale, and everybody who turns in a rattle or a stroller is a marked man. Or marked woman, more likely.

As an economic device, of course, the rummage sale beats the income tax.

People give the stuff to the committee for nothing and the committee, at the expense of many man hours of unpaid labor, sells it to the public for money.

As a money raising proposition it is hard to beat this arrangement, especially since there is a built-in supply of customers. It was one of the sensational discoveries of modern times that there are hordes of people who are just nuts about rummage. They will come from far and near, once the word gets out that the dump is going to be cheated again.

In a way, it's remarkable that so much rummage does get collected. At the request for contributions for the sale, the housewife starts looking over the furniture and the junk in the attic, and all of a sudden it takes on new beauty. The crockery umbrella urn, even, begins to look good. So does the souvenir of the 1892 world's fair. Ultimately the lady will part with some cups and saucers, after she has had an expert appraise them and guarantee they're no good, and an 1886 model reading lamp, built for gas and later wired for electricity. Or maybe a radio cabinet with the works missing.

Best part of such a radio set, it has been remarked, is that it's noiseless.

Sometimes people even go through their book cases and turn in old volumes. When that happens, the connoisseur of literature has a golden opportunity to pick up, at only a bit more than they're worth, six assorted best sellers of 1910. — D.B.W.

Weston Shocks Wayland, 47-39

WESTON — Weston High beat Wayland at basketball, 49 to 37, on Jan. 10 at Weston Gym, in a game which delighted Weston fans and left the Wayland team and its supporters sadly surprised.

To make it all the sweeter, from the Weston point of view, Weston came from behind. It was Wayland, 28 to 17, at the half, and it looked like one of the routine victories to which Wayland has become accustomed in recent years.

Then Weston started to run and shoot. In trying to get the ball, Wayland began to foul, and the foul shots began to count up. Wayland players were so closely guarded they had not time to get set to shoot, and when they did shoot they missed.

Weston edged up, point by point in the score, and went ahead at the beginning of the last quarter. After that, Weston just piled up points. At the end, yelling fans carried the Weston players off the floor.

It was the first Weston win over Wayland in a major sport since the Spring of 1956, when Weston won the Dual County League baseball championship. Wayland had a string of triumphs over Weston in basketball and football until Friday night, when Weston got something back.

The next Wayland-Weston basketball game will be at Wayland on Friday evening, Jan. 31. There should be some more excitement then.

Weston Discussions, Issues In Education

WESTON — There will be a meeting for those who wish to participate in a series of ten discussions based upon readings on education ranging from Plato and Aristotle to Dewey and Whitehead on Tuesday evening, Jan. 21, at 8 p. m., at 52 Aberdeen Road. Mr. Jefferson Castle of the Great Books Foundation will present the details.

This program stems from a growing realization that "agonizing reappraisals" are no longer confined to the military. A lively debate concerning education is developing.

Is the purpose of education to turn out happy, well-adjusted individuals? Is it to stimulate curiosity, to sharpen the critical faculties? Is it to train scientists and technicians? Is it to impart wisdom? These are some of the questions upon which participants will reflect.

Those interested may call TW 4-2474.

Evening Grosbeaks Seen In Weston

WESTON—On the brisk morning of Jan. 10, Mrs. S. F. Burtis of 21 Shady Hill Road reports, a flock of a dozen evening grosbeaks visited her dooryard and stayed several hours. They seemed to roost in the laurel bushes.

She had never seen any before, but they matched the bird book description exactly. They are spectacular birds, with cone-shaped bills and a yellow band across the forehead or nose. The book says they breed in the mountains of the Northwest and in Canada. While they are uncommon around here, the book says they have been seen in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Burtis says she has also seen a goldfinch this Winter.

Wayland High School Fire Put Out, Repairs To Be Made Soon

At left, Sal Vespar, who discovered the fire, and right, John Thorburn, who's working on the rewiring job.

WAYLAND — Damage to the Wayland High School building caused by the fire of Jan. 8 is covered by insurance, says Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Anderson, and should be repaired within a matter of days. No exact damage figure was set.

John J. Simoni of Timber Lane, local contractor, will do the work for the insurance company, and Edward F. Thorburn of Valley View Road will do the electrical work.

The fire was discovered at 7:50 a.m., on Jan. 8. Sal Vespar, one of the custodians, had been outside shovelling snow and had not been inside the building until that time, since school sessions had been called off because of the snow. He smelled smoke and called the Wayland Fire Department.

The blaze started in the shop, says Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin and worked its way through a partition up to the home economics room above. Smoke was thick when the fire fighters entered, and they had to spend several hours making sure everything was under control and in order.

There was no damage to equipment, says Superintendent of

Wayland Hist. Society Plans Novel Program

WAYLAND — For its Feb. 6 meeting, the Wayland Historical Society plans a novel program, with members asked to bring articles of historical interest to show and comment on briefly. Items suggested are old newspapers, school pictures, household or farm utensils, Indian relics, an old tin box, a sampler or a pewter mug.

Those with articles to bring are asked to call Mrs. J. O. Post, EL 8-4524, program chairman, beforehand, so that time and space may be allotted to them. Meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the Heard House, with J. Sidney Stone presiding.

Wayland Town Building Dedication On Feb. 16

WAYLAND — The Town Selectmen have set Sunday, Feb. 16, as the day for the open house and formal dedication at the new Town Building, it is announced. The program isn't arranged yet. All the finishing touches should be on the building by Feb. 1, it is said.

St. Ann's Guild Hears Talk On Fabrics By Daniel Kennedy Jr.

WAYLAND — Daniel E. Kennedy Jr. of the Weston Studio told members of St. Ann's Guild about the potentials and limitations of the so-called "miracle fibers" at the Guild's meeting on Jan. 6. The old familiar fabrics, such as cotton, wool and silk, had their drawbacks, he said, and he talked about the values and weaknesses of synthetic fabrics.

Virtuosi Delight Large Crowd At Country Evening Concert

Mrs. and Mr. Leonard Baron and their son, John, of 32 Fairview Road, Weston, at Country Evening Concert.

Shown leaving The Country School after the concert are Mrs. Thomas J. Scott, foreground, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Richardson.

WESTON — The Virtuosi di Roma, a string ensemble from Italy, performed a delightful program of 18th Century music at the first of the Country Evening Concerts on Jan. 10. The auditorium was filled with an audience that was highly appreciative of these artists' interpretations of some of the works of such Italian master composers as Corelli and Vivaldi.

The precision and zest with which the ensemble played the Allegro movements of the five concertos was of special significance, as was the delicacy of interpretation of the slower and pianissimo passages. The group represents some of Rome's finest professional players, as was evident throughout the concert, although the exaggerated directions of the conductor, Renato Fasano, may have puzzled some.

The high caliber of the artists and of the program at the first of these series is to be commended. — H.G.P.

12 New Houses To Go Up At Wayland Post

WAYLAND — Army Engineers have notified the Town of Wayland that they will build 12 new houses on Oxbow Road, opposite the Nike launching site, as soon as weather permits, to house the personnel of the post.

The buildings will be one-family types, with three bedrooms, in about the $17,000 cost range. The Engineers explained what they were going to do, even though the houses are to be on Government property, where local rules do not apply.

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

For the past year it has been my pleasure to serve as a member of the Wayland School Committee, an experience which I have found to be enlightening, educational and a real challenge.

Through attendance at many meetings, discussions of program, operation, and planning, and the cooperation of the other Committee members and the School Staff I have learned a great deal towards becoming a helpful and conscientious member.

In the years just ahead some of Wayland's most important decisions and actions regarding its schools and educational program must be planned.

If it is the pleasure of the voters I would be very happy to serve as one of their representatives in the important planning which can mean so much to our children, ourselves and our Town.

I would, therefore, like to announce my candidacy for the position of School Committee member (three-year term) in the forthcoming election in March.

Sincerely,
John W. Arnold

Chair Reappears

WAYLAND — The captain's chair from the old Town Hall, which was to have been presented to former Town Treasurer Frank G. McKenna if it hadn't turned up missing, has turned up found, it is reported. Somebody revealed its whereabouts after publication of a little piece about it in the Jan. 2 Crier. A misunderstanding, it is said. Mr. McKenna will get the chair.

WESTON — Two gifts of land have been made to the Town. Miss Marion B. Farnsworth has given 10 acres, her third donation to the Town Forest.

Mr. Albert E. Scott Jr. has given one and a half acres, a piece that now gives the Town a continuous property line along the Boston and Maine Railroad from the Wayland town line easterly to the Poole land in Weston.

Cat Rock Ski Tow Opens

WESTON — Thanks to the heavy fall of snow, the Cat Rock reservation was opened for skiing for the first time under the authority of the Recreation Commission on Jan. 11, and hundreds used the facility in the sunny, cold weather of the week end.

John S. Proctor, dean of Weston High School, is in general charge for the Commission. Oliver S. Brown of Lee Road, Wayland, a Weston High teacher, is safety director, and Henry W. DeRusha, also a Weston High teacher, is in charge of tickets. Kip Coburn and Nickie Waters, Weston High students, run the tow.

Some time ago the Town acquired the 65-acre tract for recreational use. There is a slope, a 1200-foot tow and a beginners' slope. At the foot of the hill is a warming hut.

The tow runs Saturdays and Sundays and in school vacations, and the hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. People may ski on weekdays, but there's no tow. Use is restricted to residents of Weston and their guests.

First Storm Of Year Felled Power Lines

WAYLAND—Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin kept extra fire fighters on duty at both stations on the night of the big snowstorm, Jan. 7, and they had plenty to do attending to 10 or 12 fallen power wires, which spat fire on local roads.

The more than a foot of heavy, wind blown snow cracked off many branches and even some trees, which knocked down wires. Many residents were without electricity for several hours. Considerable damage seemed to have been done to shrubbery, particularly evergreens.

During the storm, Wayland fire fighters turned their utility vehicle into an ambulance and made an emergency run to the Framingham Union Hospital, carrying Mrs. Foster Abbott of Parmenter Road.

Snow plow crews of the Highway Department worked all night and none of the main roads was blocked. Motorists homeward bound on the evening of the storm had stories of delays to tell, and many had trouble getting out of their driveways next morning. The wet snow froze on the night after the storm, making a crust strong enough to carry a man's weight.

It was the first snow of the Winter and it was a severe one. Accumulation ranged from 15 inches at Framingham to 3 inches in Boston.

Weston Crews Worked 24 Hours In Storm

WESTON—To clear the roads of snow from the Jan. 7 storm took 24 straight hours of work by the Road Department. The 13 regular men plus several temporary workers began at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon and worked through the night until 4:30 Wednesday afternoon.

The Massachusetts Broken Stone Company loaned the Town three front end loaders at no charge, as it has done many times before. The loaders do such things as push out corners. The Road Department owns eight trucks and hired two more.

The snow was especially hard to remove because it was filled with moisture from rain that came during the storm.

Red Cross Brought Coffee

WAYLAND—The Wayland Red Cross received a request for canteen service the morning of Jan. 8 at the High School. They were informed that about 25 firemen, both volunteer and permanent, would be on duty for the day to see that any subsequent fires that might break out would be quickly taken care of.

Tom Murray, No. 1 dispatcher on the fire and police desk at the new Town Building, did all the necessary checking and Mrs. Pierre Dumaine, Canteen Chairman of the Wayland Red Cross, promptly loaded her jeep with a day's supply of coffee, doughnuts and sandwiches and just as promptly got stuck in the not yet plowed road.

Mrs. Dumaine called Tom Murray, who in turn contacted Police Chief Damon. The Chief provided a cruiser and Mrs. Dumaine arrived safely at the High School with the refreshments.

Vacuum cleaners are the only electrical appliances that should be filled with dust. Keep dust out of motors, electric fuse boxes, switches and unused lamp sockets.

Town House Ski Lessons Begin

ART SHOW

Members of The Natick Art Association will be individually showing their paintings and graphic arts during the next three months at the Cinema Theater, Shoppers' World, under the supervision of Miss Rose Tideman.

For a two week show beginning on Saturday, Jan. 18, a group of watercolors by Dorothy Dow Wallace and paintings by Mary Haigh, will adorn the Cinema lobby.

Arrowhead Is In FTDA

The Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association announces that Arrowhead Gardens, Inc., of Wayland, has been accepted as a member of the association. Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Ewell are the owners of the new F.T.D. shop.

The association now has approximately 11,000 members in United States and Canada who handle flowers sent by wire. Through Interflora, Arrowhead Gardens can have flowers and plants delivered to any point in the civilized world.

This is the first time Wayland has had an F.T.D. member to offer this service.

Meat prices are likely to be a little higher in the first half of 1958 it is predicted.

New Kiwanis Officers Take Over

Receives Plaque

Joseph Hallenbrook, who retired as secretary of Wayland Kiwanis after three years on Jan. 7, was given a plaque in recognition of his outstanding service.

Wayland Nose Count

WAYLAND — The first week of the Annual Listing of Residents has progressed satisfactorily. Assisting the Wayland Registrars in this work (and wearing the now-familiar white badge bearing the Town Seal in dark green) are: Mrs. Fred Berg, Lake Shore Drive; Mrs. Elmer Bigwood, East Commonwealth Road; Mrs. Raymond Carr, State Road West; Mrs. Joseph Carroll, Dudley Road; Mrs. A. B. Delaney, Stonebridge Road; Mrs. Frank A. Larson, Fuller Road; Mrs. Clinton Lee, Westway Road; Mrs. Robert Pierce, Lake Road; Mrs. Waldo H. Russell, State Road West; Mrs. Richard Verrill, Pelham Island Road.

As residents may have noticed, the Registrars' listing does not include the pre-school census of previous years. The school has taken its own census, this winter, starting at an earlier date.

Instead, the Registrars' listing will take a tally of the total number of residents in Wayland as of Jan. 1, 1958 (along with the usual info regarding adults 20 years of age or older, and with the listing of dogs).

Although the necessity has not yet presented itself, this year, we will point out:

(1) Falsification of information regarding the number and ownership of dogs is an offense punishable by fine.

(2) Refusal to give one's age to the census taker, gives the right to guess the age! (Maybe this is an advantage, and sometimes it is not).

Wayland Science Study Committee Helps The High School Program

Mrs. Oiuda Bailey, Wayland High School science teacher, with some of the atomic study equipment she received after studying at Harvard last Summer.

WAYLAND—The science symposium held at the Wayland High School on Nov. 19 for High School students, was the latest in a series of developments in Wayland High science made possible by the Science Curriculum Study Committee.

Under the chairmanship of John B. Gregory, Wayland scientists have been working with the school faculty "to determine the needs of Wayland's secondary school youth as the needs are related to the study of science."

Members of the committee, which published a report last May included: John B. Gregory, Douglas M. Surgenor, S. David Bailey, Christos G. Stergis, George K. Lewis, James L. Schad, Frederick W. Travers, Alden R. Rierasch, Hildegarde Harris, Edwin G. Schneider and Eleanor Schneider. Representing the factuly were Louis Taris, Edward Barry, Dorothy Moss, William Stahl, Lewis Oxford, Ralph Salvati, Ouida Bailey, Max Griffin and Edward Anderson.

"During the past three years there has been a shift here from 20 per cent to 75 or 80 per cent of High School students preparing for college", says Mr. Surgenor. "Our changing needs here and lack of tradition make it possible for us to use new good ideas."

"About 40 per cent of the newcomers to Wayland have a graduate degree in one of the sciences", says John Gregory. "We have a list of 125 who are willing to help with the High School program."

"The report of the Science Curriculum Study Committee is being studied by the High School Building Committee now," says Superintendent Anderson. "Any school is dependent on local interest and in Wayland there is more than the usual interest in science since so many men are working in scientific fields."

People Enlisted

The present combination of town and gown in revaluation of the whole High School curriculum is due to the efforts of John Gregory and Edward Anderson. A member of the Education Committee of the New England Section of the American Chemical Society, Mr. Gregory in 1955 interviewed science teachers in Wayland and surrounding towns "to see how the resources of these communities could be of help to science teachers."

"The biggest single addition to our program so far", says Mrs. Bailey, who teaches the college preparatory classes in science, "has been the advisor system whereby a student working on a project can be assigned to one of the scientists in town, who helps the student plan his project, often making special materials available to him."

At the suggestion of Mr. Anderson, Mr. Gregory invited the group of people to meet with those who are, now that the curriculum study has been completed, known as the Science Advisory Committee. Fairly early in the game a separate committee to study the mathematics curriculum was formed. The conclusions of their report have been sent to Wayland townspeople in the latest Bulletin of the Wayland School Committee.

So far the science committee has, at the request of the School Committee, studied the High School science curriculum with respect to the needs of the students; made a survey of townspeople to determine what local talent may be available to the teaching staff and helped with science fairs and projects.

John B. Gregory

To Provide Ideas

The recent symposium was the first large scale meeting between students and local scientists, with the latter in a guest speaker capacity. Before the symposium Mrs. Bailey and her students selected the fields of most interest to them. Meanwhile all scientists on the committee list were invited to attend and offer a paper or demonstration, and from these replies the symposium speakers were selected, under the chairmanship of James Schad.

"The symposium was planned to give the High School students project ideas for the science fair, so that the science teachers could help get them started and line up adult advisors," says Mr. Schad. "Next year we'll plan to have discussion time at the symposium too. More discussion would have been good."

"One of the problems we had," says Mr. Anderson, "was that so many 'crashed' who hadn't signed up to attend. About 200 came."

Concrete advantages have already resulted from this unusual combination of school faculty and townspeople. One of these was that, partly as a result of her work with the committee, Mrs. Bailey had the opportunity last Summer to attend classes in atomic physics for science teachers sponsored by the National Science Foundation. She was given $1200 worth of atomic study equipment to use as she chose, including three Geiger counters, a Scaler, a Wilson Cloud Chamber, and a Landsverk Electroscope.

"This certainly has been a fine group of new materials," she says. "We had had no such equipment in the schools and now the physics and Junior High teachers can share it too."

English Committee Next

The success of this initial town-school combine is leading to the formation of a similar study group in the English field.

"We feel there is danger today in overemphasizing science at the High School level," says John Gregory. "Wayland now offers enough science courses. A good science program must never be at the expense of English and history in High School."

The question then of whether or not the committee should be continued was thoroughly discussed.

It was finally agreed that, at the request of the School Committee, the committee would reconvene when needed on special problems. For instance, to help reorganize the Science Fair, to review staff work on re-working of the general science courses, to follow up the work of such committees as Zacharius' at M.I.T. and to keep the School Committee informed of such, and to advise the building committee on the new high school.

HIGH SCHOOL FIRE

Schools Edward J. Anderson, and no classes had to be cancelled. There was no telling how long the fire had been going in the shop, which was locked up all night. Mr. Anderson and members of the School Committee were in the building, wrestling with the school budget, until 11 p. m., the night before, and they noticed nothing wrong when they left.

Although the High School looks fireproof, it isn't, says Mr. Anderson. It is built like a house, with wooden beams. There are sprinklers in part of the building. But it is covered by insurance, like other Town buildings, and adjusters were on the scene at once, as were representatives of the State Fire Marshal's office.

No sign of damage was visible, after the fire, from outside the building.

Review Sessions To Help Weston Seniors In Achievement Tests

WESTON — Every year a sizable proportion of the students in the senior class takes the College Board Entrance Examinations, the results of which determine partly, although not entirely, whether these students are accepted by the colleges of their choice. These examinations are of two kinds: 1) Scholastic Aptitude, which tests general verbal and mathematical ability, and 2) achievement tests in subject fields. In March of this year some 30 of the class of 89 seniors will be taking these examinations.

According to the College Board officials, there is no effective preparation that students can make for the aptitude tests. Innate ability and accumulated experience will determine the results. In the subject fields, results will also be determined by the mastery of each course as it is studied.

But here a review of the subject has often been found helpful. For this reason teachers in the subjects in which tests are to be taken are offering candidates weekly review periods after school from Jan. 6 through March 14. Attendance is entirely voluntary, although it should be consistent once it is started. Teachers giving this review are: French, Mrs. Theresa Zamprogno; mathematics, Miss Helen B. Green; social studies, Mr. Charles K. Cummings, Jr. and Mrs. Doralee Helmreich; English, Mr. Paul Mitchell; and physics, Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer.

All the candidates had opportunity to meet with Miss Green and Mr. Mitchell to discuss the aptitude tests. Although coaching in the subject matter of these tests is of no value and is not being attempted, it has always proved helpful to have some foreknowledge of the type of test and test question that will be asked and of the general procedure to be followed.

Train Curtailment Protest Meeting At Wayland On Jan. 20

WAYLAND — Several Towns along the Boston & Maine line are expected to be represented at a protest meeting against proposed local train service curtailment to be held in the Wayland Town Building at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Jan. 20.

Executive Secretary Norman E. Taylor says the meeting was called by the Department of Public Utilities at the request of the Town of Wayland. Weston has been invited to send a representative, and Executive Secretary J. Ward Carter of Weston says he thinks somebody from Weston will attend.

What the railroad wants to do is reduce the number of trains from four a day each way to one a day each way. Fifty years ago or so, there were more trains than there are now. The curtailment would leave commuters of Hudson, Sudbury, Wayland and Weston with one train in each day, and one train out at night. Hudson and Sudbury have also been invited to send representatives to the meeting.

Weston is a little better off than Wayland for train service, as it also has a station, Kendal Green, on the Fitchburg Division.

Town Counsel Frank Kilburn will present the case for the Town of Wayland at the meeting. All are welcome to attend, as this is a public meeting.

Weston Cub Scouts

WAYLAND — To make room for the new Wayland shopping center, a house belonging to Edward A. Veno is being moved from the State Road across the site of the center to a new position on Pelham Island Road. The house, at the left, is being turned around in its journey, so that it will face Pelham Island Road. St. Ann's Church is at left center. New location of the house will be near the causeway which connects the High School grounds with Pelham Island Road, at far right corner of picture.

WAYLAND — Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Macmillan Jr. of 31 Pequot Road announce the birth of their fourth child and second son, James Philip Macmillan, on Dec. 27.

WAYLAND—Plans have been completed for the Wayland Mothers' March on Saturday, Jan. 25. No coin card mailers were distributed this year in favor of this one drive, augmented by the coin boxes available in many stores and business establishments throughout the town.

Even though the threat of paralytic polio has been dramatically reduced, there lies ahead the enormous task of providing rehabilitation for the thousands who were left crippled or incapacitated by the disease. "Operation Comeback" this year is dedicated to the belief that survival is not enough.

Please Clear Hydrants

WESTON—Fire Chief Maurice L. Upham suggests to householders that shovelling out hydrants on or near their premises might be a good idea. Should there be a fire, the fire fighters might have to waste precious time digging out the fire plugs.

Weston Legion Will Collect For March Of Dimes On Jan. 31

WESTON—Members of Weston Post 214, American Legion, will canvass the Town for the March of Dimes between 7 and 8 p.m. on Jan. 31, as they have for the past three years. This will be the conclusion of the polio fund campaign. Canvassers will call only at homes where porch lights are on.

John S. Myers Jr. of 95 Merriam Street is chairman for the collection drive.

The Middlesex County Chapter, March of Dimes, says it collected $313,000 last January, and that the expense of patient care in the county this year will be almost $400,000. Within the past four years, it says, there have been 10 polio cases in Weston and 24 in Wayland.

Evening Grosbeaks Are Following Seed Trail

WESTON—Apropos of the report of evening grosbeaks seen recently by Mrs. S. F. Burtis of 21 Shady Hill Road, Mrs. Charles L. Smith of 75 Westland Road, an interested bird watcher, says she has been told of several flocks of evening grosbeaks seen in Weston this Winter.

Several flocks are of six or eight birds, she says, and Mrs. Burtis's flock of a dozen seems to be the largest so far seen.

Fifty years ago, she says, these birds were unknown in the East. Thirty years ago they first appeared around here and 20 years ago they started coming in numbers, sort of migrating from West to East. One theory, says Mrs. Smith, is that they are particularly fond of sunflower seeds, which more and more people are putting out in feeders. Maybe they followed the sunflower seed trail from the Northwest to Weston.

In the Winter of 1944-1945, she says, one woman in Weston had a flock of 60 evening grosbeaks at her feeder. They ate 300 pounds of sunflower seeds and she said, "Never again."

Weston Candidates

Letter Boxes Should Be Shovelled Clear

WAYLAND — Postmaster Thomas E. Hynes warns patrons on rural routes that postal regulations require them to keep approaches to their letter boxes free of snow. He says that a week after the big January storm many patrons had made no effort to shovel out their boxes, and he said mail service would be discontinued to those who failed to obey the regulations.

Trustees Get 46 Acres Of Wild Land As Paul Hamlen Memorial

WAYLAND—The Sudbury Valley Trustees have announced the acquisition of a new wildlife tract located north and west of the Old Reservoir on Rice Road, Wayland. This wooded section comprising 46 acres is a gift to the Trustees from Mrs. Paul M. Hamlen and Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Hamlen to be set aside as a wilderness area in the name of the late Paul M. Hamlen.

Roughly equal in size to the present Mill Brook Tract off Glezen Lane, purchased last year by the Trustees, the Hamlen gift includes a beautiful wooded dell where both shade trees and hemlocks of considerable size form the chief forest components.

Due to the foresight and generosity of the Hamlen family, this land will now remain unspoiled for the enjoyment of present and future generations and it is sufficiently extensive to offer the cover, food and seclusion necessary for the continued support of all forms of wildlife remaining in our region. The memorial to Mr. Hamlen is indeed a most fitting one—an area of wild beauty set aside for the delight of man and the preservation of his environment.

Henry M. Parker, President

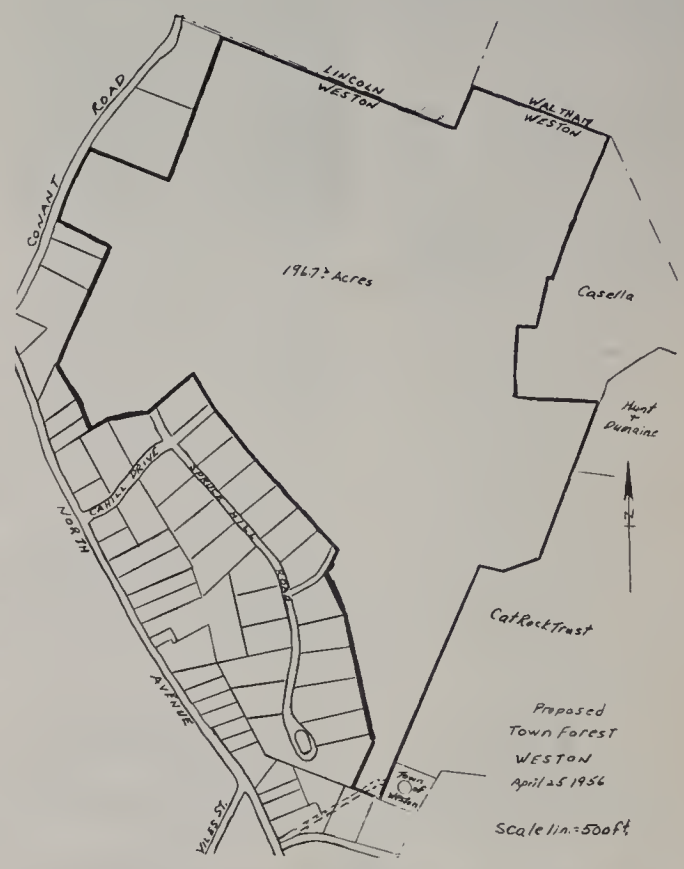
New Weston Land Company Plans Development With 100 New Homes



Map shows location of new real estate development. It extends from the Lincoln-Weston and Waltham-Weston lines to the vicinity of North Avenue.

WESTON—According to a deed recently recorded, a large tract of land in Weston, approximating 200 acres, has been taken over by a group of residents and friends of Weston for the purpose of creating a new residential area of architect designed, custom built homes of a character befitting the unusual settings peculiar to this tract of land, title to which dates back to a Kings Grant to Alonzo S. Fiske, and served several generations of the Fiske family.

It is proposed to create not more than 100 home sites from this tract of land mostly wooded, with southerly and southwestern exposures where there is almost every type of site that could be desired including a very few without some wooded background, but all sites can have excellent long vistas of the countryside.

Each site will be given a street frontage of not less than 200 feet and none will have less than 60,000 - square - foot area and will

Letters to the EDITOR

March Of Dimes

Mr. David C. Stewart
15 Rice Spring Lane
Wayland, Mass.
Dear Mr. Stewart:

I have always contributed to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. But I am also a strong believer in the United Fund.

It is my understanding that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was invited to join the Greater Boston United Fund and declined. My contribution to the United Fund this year included not only what I gave to the Community Fund last year but also the amounts which I gave to outside agencies which either joined the United Fund or were eligible to join the United Fund.

I strongly believe that if everyone takes the position that contributions to agencies which refused to join is against the principle of the United Fund — no matter how worthy the agencies may be — next year we will see a truly "United" Fund.

Very truly yours,
W. R. Hulbert

c.c. to Town Crier

To the Editor:

In reply to Mr. Hulbert's honest letter, the following points should be considered as we face local drives.

The idea of a combined fund is as appealing to us as to anyone else, but we feel that all areas of an individual's interest should be assured of his direct support even if the donation is given through a united drive.

The Massachusetts polio dirve is unable to raise more than one-half the funds required for its patient care program, and the balance comes from the National organization. U-F could not consider trying to raise much more than the previous years' local funds.

When U-F can operate on a broader level than Boston, and when their organization allows each participating group to present its own message to the public, we will have a U-F worthy of the slogan.

Meanwhile each person must answer his own conscience, and if he feels no obligation to the current drive, that direct and simple reply will be accepted by your solicitor.

David C. Stewart
March of Dimes Chairman

Many Attend Annual Meeting Of First Baptist Church, Weston

A feature of the annual meeting of the First Baptist Church was the gift to Mr. and Mrs. Erlon A. Merrill, left, of a television set, in recognition of their years of service as treasurers. Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer, right, made the presentation.

Weston—A goodly number enjoyed the fellowship dinner prior to the annual meeting at the First Baptish Church, held Jan. 14. The supper committee, led by Mrs. Stephen Colpitts included Mrs. Howard Russell, Mrs. John Akers, Mrs. Joseph Crowe, Mrs. Lincoln Smith and Mrs. Hazel F. O'Donnell.

The after-dinner speaker was Dr. Edmund Linn, professor of Speech and Homiletics at Andover Newton Theological School, who spoke on the work of the Church.

The business meeting began at 8 o'clock and included the mimeographed reports of all committees and organizations, the adoption of a record budget of $19,045, of which $4,105 is allotted for missions, and the election of officers for 1958.

The Erlon Merrills were honored after 25 years of service as Church treasurers. Members of the church presented them with a portable television set. Mrs. Thomas Clarke, who recently tendered her resignation as church secretary, was presented a set of sterling silver dinnerware for her five years of service.

The church empowered the long-range planning committee, led by Mr. Rudolph Helgeson, to obtain estimates of the cost of a study relative to the present physical structure and the future possibilities of renovation and rebuilding. The committee is to report to the church by March 15.

Wayland Garden Club

WAYLAND — The next meeting of the Wayland Garden Club will be held Tuesday, Jan. 28, at the home of Mrs. Kimball C. Powning, Concord Road. Dr. George K. Lewis will talk on "Open Spaces In Suburban Areas".

The tea chairman is Mrs. Hugh F. Colliton Jr., assisted by Mrs. Dunbar Holmes, Mrs. Frederick G. Perry Jr., Mrs. James H. Jandl, Mrs. Parmelee C. Hill and Mrs. F. Stetson Eddy Jr.

Camp Fire Girls

WAYLAND — Wayland Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds carried through to a successful completion their part in putting the recent Greater Boston Camp Fire Candy Sale over its goal. Watokwa Group earned a "Gilt Edged" citation for selling a total of 18 boxes of candy per registered girl in the group. Christine Dunham was a super saleslady for this group, with a total of 40 boxes to her credit. Blue Bird Beverly Ross of Cochituate sold 35 boxes and Blue Birds Lisa Jones, Kyle Eckler and Mary Lynch also set records for their groups.

The girls extend their appreciation to the residents of Wayland for their support of this once-a-year Camp Fire project which helps to provide the funds needed for continuing and extending the Camp Fire program locally and nationally.

Camp Fire is a nation-wide organization founded in 1910 which offers a program of fun, friendship and interesting activities for girls from 7 to 16. In their Camp Fire groups girls learn to be efficient homemakers, good friends and responsible citizens in the community. Their Watchword "Wohelo" — composed of the first two letters of "work," "health" and "love" — signifies the high ideals of the Camp Fire organization.

Foreign Students To Visit Weston Homes

WESTON—On Saturday, Feb. 1, there will be another opportunity to entertain a foreign student through the International Student Center in Cambridge and the Women's Community League of Weston.

The International Student Center is the home and gathering place for foreign students who are studying in the colleges and universities of Greater Boston. They are the cream of the crop from all over the world (85 countries are represented) and will be the leaders in their own countries when they return.

The Center is the focal point of the students' recreational and social activities and among its many functions it arranges for them to visit American homes.

The students appreciate a personal relationship with an American family and the opportunity to be a part of it. They are interested in the community and its organization and activities. They like to meet people, typical Americans, and especially enjoy someone in their own field and young people of their own age.

Here is an opportunity to become a part of this interesting program. The students will arrive for lunch and spend the afternoon. Transportation will be provided by the Committee. If you wish to invite one or two students to your home call Mrs. William M. C. Lam, TW 4-6879.

The Weston Series awards a scholarship each year from the proceeds of their concerts to a Conservatory student of unusual promise and merit, and the talented violinist was this year's choice.

William A. Hibbard

William is well known in and around Newton for his many performances in recitals and for clubs. Along with his love for violin, he has also displayed talent as a composer, and began studying composition at the Conservatory while still in high school.

Although his major is violin, which he studies with Richard Burgin, concertmaster of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, he plans to continue working on composition, and hopes eventually to have a double career as concert violinist and composer. William's home is with his mother, Mrs. Catherine Hibbard of 5 Channing Road, Newton Centre.

Word "Not" Got Lost

WAYLAND — In the Jan. 16 Crier was an announcement that Edward C. Mendler Jr. would run for Planning Board. It was further said he was seeking the place for which "Bruce F. Kingsbury will be a candidate."

From the latter sentence the word "not" somehow disappeared. Mr. Kingsbury had previously announced in the Crier that he was NOT a candidate for reelection. The editor doesn't know how it happened but blames the printer anyway.

GREETINGS FROM ROMBAS

WESTON — Additional New Year's greetings to Mr. Henry M. Fiske and to the Weston-Rombas Affiliation have been received from J. M. Babin, chairman of the Rombas Committee; Pierre Bourgasser, assistant to the Mayor of Rombas; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ormancey, of the Rombas Red Cross, and Mlle. Andree Vittemant, social welfare director of Rombas.

Women's Guild Food Sale

WESTON—The Women's Guild of the First Baptist Church will sponsor a food sale to be held on Friday, Jan. 24, at the Weston Tailors, Furriers and Cleaners establishment in Weston Center at 10 a.m. Mrs. John Akers is Chairman.

Douglas Mercer Is Candidate For Weston Selectman

WESTON—Douglas Mercer of 115 Chestnut Street, a partner in the Boston law firm of Ropes, Gray, Best, Coolidge and Rugg, announces that he will be a candidate for the three-year term as Selectman at the coming Town election. Mr. Mercer is now chairman of the Planning Board.

At the same time, William R. Dewey Jr. announces that he will be a candidate for a one-year term. Selectman Richard M. Field, who has served two years, announces that he is resigning. He has become advisor to the Supreme Court of the State of Maine, and he is engaged in the long job of recommending changes in that Court's procedure. He is also on the Board of Admissions at Harvard Law School, and his new duties take so much time he feels unable to do justice to the Town as Selectman.

Mr. Dewey, whose three-year term expires this year, says he is running because many think it would be better not to have two new members of the Board at once.

Three Contests In Wayland Election

WAYLAND—There will be only three contests on the ballot for the Town Election in March, it appeared after the deadline for filing nomination papers on Jan. 27.

For Board of Health, Clinton W. Lee of 16 Westway Road and Dr. John Gordon Freymann (pronounced Fry-man) will be seeking the seat left vacant by Dr. Charlotte A. Stewart, who did not run for reelection.

John Simoni of Timber Lane and Robert M. Carson seek the position on the Board of Road Commissioners left vacant by G. M. Blomgren, long-time member who did not run this year.

The five-year term on the Planning Board is sought by Gordon E. Gott, 18 Snake Brook Road; Edward C. Mendler Jr., Shaw Drive, and Hollis E. Polk, Lee Road.

Familiar names will appear at the top of the ballot. Thomas F. Linnehan is unopposed for reelection as Selectman and John B. Butler and John W. Arnold, both incumbents, are unopposed as candidates for three-year terms on the School Committee.

New Weston Phone Book Out Feb. 1

WESTON — The Weston telephone book put out by St. Peter's Episcopal Church is now ready, and will be on sale at St. Peter's on Saturday, from 10 to 4, Sunday, 10:30 to 11 and 12:30 to 1:30, Monday 9 to 5, Feb. 1, 2 and 3. People who placed advance orders are urged to get their copies at that time. As soon as all the orders have been filled, additional copies will be on sale at Carver's, Boyd's Real Estate, Village Bookstall and Weston Pharmacy.

Names, addresses and telephone numbers are up to date as of Jan. 10 of this year, and have been checked carefully for accuracy. The committee hopes the book will prove so easy to use and such a valuable source of local information that it will become a local handbook that no one can do without. They expect to publish it annually, and welcome suggestions for improving future issues.

Wayland And Weston Protest Reduction Of Train Service

At the hearing, left to right: Joseph F. Cleary, Cambridge, and Roy C. Papalia, Watertown, Public Utilities Commissioners; Frank Kilburn, Wayland Town Counsel, and J. Ward Carter, Weston Executive Secretary.

WAYLAND — Drastic curtailment in passenger service on the Central Massachusetts Branch of the Boston and Maine Railroad is expected to result in a net cost reduction of $221,736 annually, allowing for a loss in passenger revenue of about $31,936 due to the curtailment, B & M officials said Jan. 20 at a hearing in the Wayland Town Building before D.P.U. Commissioners Roy C. Papalia and Joseph Cleary. The effect on commuters who live in the towns affected was described as "disastrous."

About 35 turned up at the hearing, many of them housewives there to speak for commuting husbands. Commissioner Papalia said he was glad to see so many present. Similar hearings in other places have not been so well attended. Questioned as to why it had to be held in the morning instead of at night, when more interested parties could get to it, he explained that mere numbers present do not carry much weight, and that the Commission had found it impossible to work around the clock.

Ray Harris Wins "Most Ideal Job"

WAYLAND — Ray W. Harris of Pequot Road has been assigned by Dewey & Almy Overseas Company to go to Europe early this Summer to set up a research and development laboratory for chemical products, a job which, it is supposed, will involve a three-year absence from this country.

Mr. Harris, a chemical engineer, was graduated from University of Illinois in 1949 and received a master's degree from M.I.T. in 1950. He recently served a term on the Wayland Finance Committee. His wife, Mrs. Hildy Harris, has been active in Vokes and is now secretary of the Wayland Junior Town House Association.

This is "the most ideal job," says Mr. Harris. It involves setting up a pilot plant, either in Paris or Milan; getting it staffed with Europeans and in operation, and then being a technical representative in Europe.

He means to go to Europe around May 1 for six weeks, visiting Paris, Hamburg and Milan. Then he plans to come home and get Mrs. Harris and the children and go back to stay for a while.

He is brushing up on French and German and getting ready to learn Italian.

Letters to the EDITOR

About Birds

To the Editor:

A Weston resident's recent report on grosbeaks is very interesting. It would be interesting to hear further reports on bird observations.

For example, we feed the small birds at feeders on a tree near the house and we have in daily attendance up to 15 goldfinches, two downy woodpeckers, a pair of white breasted nuthatches, four tree sparrows, one broken legged white throated sparrow, two flickers, up to a dozen or more juncoes and a dozen or more chickadees.

A cracked corn and bread crust tidbit feeder located about 100 feet from the house attracts six or more squirrels, eight bluejays and one starling constantly.

No conflict. They are all well fed. Cracked corn is only 5c a lb. and takes care of the more voracious, aggressive feeders.

Mr. Polk, Candidate

To the Editor:

The purpose of this letter to the Town Crier is to announce my candidacy for the five-year term on the Wayland Planning Board.

Hollis E. Polk.

I am definitely in favor of the proposed Route 20 By-Pass, and for some time have felt the infiltration of business into the residential areas should be halted by restricting all re-zoning for business purposes to the centers. Only in that matter can we protect the future value of the present homesites and maintain the desirable "country" atmosphere of our beautiful town.

I earnestly solicit and will deeply appreciate the support of all Wayland citizens who feel as I do on these two important matters.

Sincerely,
Hollis E. Polk.

(Mr. Polk, of 14 Lee Road, writes that he was born in Maine and lived in Waltham before coming to Wayland in 1953. He has a wife, Dores, and two daughters, Rhonda, 11, and Susanne, 7. He attended Waltham schools and Northeastern University. He is a charter member of the National Accountants Society and for 10 years has been manager of the statistical department for the Loyal Protective Life Insurance Co., of Boston).

WESTON — The Membership Committee of the League of Women Voters of Weston met Thursday morning, Jan. 23, at the home of the Chairman, Mrs. J. Bruce Dougherty, Gun Club Lane, to plan two morning coffees. Mrs. Joseph A. Markell will be hostess at a coffee Thursday morning, Feb. 6, at 10 a. m., at her home at 80 Spruce Hill Road and the hostess for the coffee to be given Friday morning, Feb. 7, at 10 will be Mrs. Alexander D. Mackintosch at 79 Byron Road.

Mrs. Dougherty and members of her committee, Mrs. N. Stratton Enos, Mrs. John N. Fisher, Mrs. Gustav Fleischmann, Mrs. Joseph A. Markell, Mrs. John C. Wells and Mrs. Wilmot Whitney, jr., will be calling new residents in Weston to invite them to come to meet their neighbors and make friends over coffee, talk a little about the League and find out if it is an organization that may be of interest to them.

If you are new in Weston and are not reached by telephone (perhaps you are too new to have one or haven't moved in yet) Mrs. Dougherty hopes that you are a Crier reader and will come to either coffee from this announcement alone. She would also have it known that if you are an old resident and are interested in meeting your new townspeople and being informally introduced to the League you will be warmly welcome.

You do not have to wait to be invited to join the League, be proposed, sponsored, serve a trial or probationary period or even fill out an application. Membership in the League of Women Voters is open to anyone who subscribes to its purpose to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government and to its policy which is stated in three sentences.

(1.) It may take action on governmental measures and policies in the public interest.

(2.) It is strictly non-partisan as an organization and does not support or oppose any political party or candidate.

(3.) It urges members as individuals to work in the party of their own choice.

To be a voting member you must be a woman, a citizen of the United States and of voting age.

If you need directions or transportation or want further information, call Mrs. Dougherty at TW 4-9128.

Conservation Committee Plans For Workshop Of Four Sessions

WESTON — The Conservation Committee of the League of of Women of Weston announces that it plans to hold a workshop of four sessions on Thursday mornings at 10 a.m., at the home of Mrs. Fred Amon, 13 Maple Road, Feb. 6, 13, and 20, and March 6. There is no registration fee for the workshop and it will be open to non-members of the League who are interested in studying various aspects of Conservation: Trees, Parks, Forests, Water Resources on both state and national levels.

Plans for a workship developed from the interest expressed at the public meeting the League of Women Voters held Jan. 15 with Mrs. Lewis A. Carter of the Department of Natural Resources as speaker. The need for more state parks and forests was convincingly presented by Mr. Carter. He spoke of Massachusetts' lack of park and forest areas compared to those of our neighboring states. It is his opinion that it is imperative for the Commonwealth to promote the prompt acquisition of open areas still available.

Those interested in joining the conservation workshop may call Mrs. Frank M. Lewis at TW 4-0860 or a member of the committee listed above.

Railroad Hearing

sented the case for the railroad. They cited an annual deficit in passenger revenue of $13,000,000, and the urgent need to have some acceptable offer to make when $47,000,000 worth of mortgage bonds come up for re-financing next July. The present return on investment is 2 per cent, and no common stock dividends have been paid in 30 years, Mr. Bleakney said.

Expert witnesses for the railroad were Deane R. Folsom, assistant to the general manager of the B & M; Stanley B. Hitchings, passenger traffic manager, and William E. Corcoran, manager of their Bureau of Statistics. They answered questions by Town Counsel Frank Kilburn and Judge Joseph F. Feeney of South Boston District Court, who was representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Railway Labor Executives Association, as well as questions from interested persons in the audience.

If allowed by the D.P.U., the B & M's petition would eliminate three of the present four trains going into Boston and out again each day. Only the 7:40 a.m. train into Boston and the 5:18 out would be left running. The railroad officials said that Buddliners would be used, and that the running time would be reduced by from 8 to 11 minutes, so that these trains would be rescheduled. The 5:18 train would arrive in Wayland at 5:54 p.m.

Bus service is available on the Post Road, the railroad representatives said, at other hours. They admitted under questioning by Mr. Kilburn that no consideration had been given by them to parking facilities for people wanting to use the bus, to depreciation of real estate values, or to any aspects of the matter other than decreased costs to them.

Representative James DeNormandie left with the Commissioners a petition signed by 90 Sudbury residents protesting the proposed elimination of the Cambridge stop. He also urged the Commissioners to hold off on a decision until the Legislature has had a chance to reach a solution. He strongly urged that curtailment, if any, be held to taking only two trains off and leaving two, properly spaced, morning and evening.

Mr. Kilburn, after suggesting that the railroad try to make train travel more attractive with open stations and newer passenger cars, also emphasized that "public convenience and necessity require at least two trains morning and evening," and J. Ward Carter, of Weston, read a statement into the record from Weston Selectmen urging that the B & M "not sacrifice passengers for freight."

Mrs. Robert Barnes of Framingham, Mrs. Paul Foskett, Mrs. Robert Cummings and Mrs. Leslie Blomberg of Wayland went on record as being opposed to the petition.

No one was recorded as in favor.

In Wayland It Was High Water, Not A Flood

WAYLAND — Despite the minor flood caused by rain and melting snow around the weekend of Jan. 25 and 26, the new Town Building floated snugly on its cement foundation and no water whatever leaked in, says Executive Secretary Norman E. Taylor. The Fire Department was kept busy pumping out cellars and the river rose, but it didn't upset people much. In Wayland, it isn't a real flood until water climbs the traffic light poles in the Center.

Tufted Titmouse Seen, First Time In Weston

WESTON—January, 1958, was an exciting month for Weston people interested in birds, the best Winter month ever recorded, with 52 species seen. In addition to the usual permanent residents and Winter visitors—Ring-necked Pheasant, Mallard and Black Ducks, Herring Gull, Mourning Dove, Screech Owl, Great Horned Owl, Hairy and Downy Woodpeckers, Blue Jay, Crow, Black-capped Chickadee, White-breasted Nuthatch, Brown Creeper, Golden-crowned Kinglet, Starling, English Sparrow, Purple Finch, Goldfinch, Slate-colored Junco and Tree Sparrow—other species were reported which do not Winter as regularly: Sharp-shinned Hawk, Red-shouldered Hawk, Sparrow Hawk, Flickers, a pair of Red-breasted Nuthatches, Robins, Cowbirds, Red-eyed Towhees, Field Sparrow, White-throated Sparrows, Fox Sparrows and Song Sparrows.

Less common birds included a Pied-billed Brege (Smith); pair of Pintails (many observers); pair of Wood Ducks (many observers); three Redheads (many observers); one American Golden-eye (Smith); two American Coot (many observers); two Glaucous Gulls (Koe); three Iceland Gulls (many observers); Great Black-backed Gull (Smith and Koe); Pileated Woodpecker (Viles, Gates and Hayes); Carolina Wren (Rayner); Evening Grosbeaks (many observers), three largest flocks 30-50 (Brewer, Johnson and Morton); Pine Grosbeaks (several reports), largest flock 10 (Morton); Common Redpoll (Lawson); Pine Siskins (only two reports); White-crowned Sparrow (Sabean); and Snow Buntings (Cribben).

The birds reported in January deserve special mention, the first an adult male Oregon Junco seen from Jan. 19 on (Gates), and possibly a second on Jan. 24 (Cribben). Two were reported in December, 1957, (Paine and Lawson), the first record for Weston. These birds are rare in the northeast, but in recent years several have been seen every Winter, perhaps due in part to more expert observation.

Flowers In Bloom

WAYLAND—Mrs. Willard A. Flagg Jr. of 233 Old Connecticut Path reports that in the middle of the snowstorm of Jan. 28 she found two pansies in bloom close to her garage. They weren't very big, she says, but they were sure enough living blossoms in yellow and purple.

WESTON — One day last Fall, waiting for the lights to change at the four cross-roads in Wayland Center, I heard the Paul Revere bell ring out the hour from the steeple of the stately colonial church that stands on a slight eminence the the south-east corner. Not only was this an experience of great charm, but certain memories were stirred, as I drove down over the old Post Road.

The silent Paul Revere bell, supported by huge beams, is said to weigh nearly 1000 pounds.

On Meeting-house Common, in Weston, was built in 1722, a beautiful church of colonial architecture. In 1800, after 78 years of service, the meeting-house was thoroughly repaired, painted within and without, and a steeple added in which was hung our Paul Revere bell.

Once clock face says the time is 1:30 and the other seems to say its 12. Third clock face says something else.

In 1840, after 118 years of service, and after a long and bitter struggle that nearly disrupted both Parish and Town, a vote was passed to take down this beautiful landmark, and the Paul Revere bell was installed in the steeple of the plainer, smaller church that stood about where this Parish House is now.

Early in the spring of 1875, the Town Fathers received a letter from General Charles J. Paine of Boston, a Summer resident of Weston, proposing to give to the Town of Weston, a Town clock, leaving it optional with them where it should be placed.

At the Annual Town Meeting, held that year on April 5, because of weather conditions on the usual third Monday in March, the Town voted, "to accept the gift, and to place the clock in the tower of the Unitarian Church

Letters to the EDITOR

About UF

To the Editor:

With reference to the exchange of letters in the Town Crier between Mr. W. R. Hulbert and Mr. David C. Stewart, March of Dimes Chairman, I would like to add a comment. I am in no sense an official spokesman for the United Fund, but rather write as one of the United Fund volunteer workers in Wayland and as a firm believer, like Mr. Hulbert, in the principle of uniting charitable drives. In accordance with this belief it is my earnest hope that the March of Dimes and other charitable organizations which did not join in the 1958 United Fund drive will join in future years.

However, it must be recognized that this was the first year of the United Fund throughout the Greater Boston area, that the organizations which did not join are mostly large national organizations which have conducted successful separate drives for many years, and consequently that some cautiousness on their part is understandable. Furthermore, in at least one such national organization the Greater Boston branch desired to join our United Fund, but was denied permission to do so by its national headquarters.

The invaluable work of the March of Dimes in contributing to the development of the Salk vaccine is known to all of us. The job is not finished, and the March of Dimes deserves our continued support.

I encourage the residents of Wayland to uphold and strengthen the United Fund, not by refraining from contributing to worthwhile charities which have not joined, but by pledging to the solicitors for such charities, and to all officials of such charities to whom you have the chance to speak or write, that if their organizations join the United Fund, you will in the future increase your contribution to the United Fund by at least as much as you have given to each such organization in the past. As Mr. Hulbert stated, he has commendably already so increased his gift to the United Fund.

Very truly yours,
Edward C. Mendler, Jr.

About Hydrants

To the Editor:

Wayland citizens may wonder what happens to Wayland fire hydrants buried by snow. Weston Fire Chief Upham suggests in a recent Crier that Westonites get out and shovel out fire hydrants near their homes.

The Wayland Water Department clears all fire hydrants after each heavy snowfall. We feel that this is a prudent practice, and to leave buried hydrants (even though the Fire Department has memorized their approximate locations) is, to say the least, dangerous.

Since we now have over 350 fire hydrants, this is no mean job for our crew.

George K. Lewis,
Chairman, Water Department

Bell And Clock

as being the most convenient and most conspicuous spot, provided the said Society give their approbation and consent."

Also, "A committee was chosen to confer with the Trustees of the Unitarian Society in Weston, and if a satisfactory arrangement could be made in regard to placing the clock on the Church, to accept the clock and cause the same to be placed thereon."

This Committee met the Trustees and "after due consultation they finally agreed upon and signed, the subjoined paper as a full and perfect understanding and consent upon which the clock was to be placed in the tower of said Church":

1st — All expenses in placing the clock together with all repairs, and care which may be needed to keep said clock in running order, should be paid by the Town. The second, third and fourth conditions relate to the possible moving of the clock by either Parish or Town, then follows: 5th—That these provisions and regulations be entered upon the Parish Records as articles of agreement between the First Parish in Weston, by Isaac Coburn, George W. Cutting and Charles W. Sibley, Trustees of the Parish, and Edwin Hobbs, Alonzo S. Fiske and George B. Milton, a duly authorized Committee of said Town, chosen April 5th, 1875. — Signed the twenty-fourth day of April, A.D. 1875.

The Trustees and the Town Committee worked together with Thomas W. Silloway, a Boston architect, satisfactory plans were drawn up, and the clock was bought and placed in the tower for the interesting itemized expense of $797.28; this included $25.00 for Mr. Silloway.

The following is taken from the report of the Committee dated March 6, 1876:

"General Paine very generously placed in the hands of the Committee his check for the whole sum, thus leaving the $500 appropriated by the Town to defray all necessary expenses incurred, in the hands of the Treasurer. The clock was made expressly for the Town by George M. Stevens, No. 90 Sudbury Street, Boston, and is one of the best and most reliable time-keepers. (The Committee recommend the passage by the Town, of the following resolution: That the sincere thanks of the inhabitants of the Town of Weston are due, and are hereby tendered to Gen. Charles J. Paine, for the valuable gift of a Tower Clock, donated by him to the Town of Weston and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Gen. Paine by the Clerk")

Our Paul Revere bell also accepted the clock, and the two worked in harmony, counting the hours to the pleasure and satisfaction of the Townspeople.

In 1887, when the Church of 1840 had become the "old house", to some, and was doomed to be taken down, the Building Committee for the present stone edifice, in accordance with the second condition agreed upon previously, gave due notice to the Town for the removal of the clock. And so, on a cold and blustery January 25, 1887, the clock was removed from the "old house" by order of the Town authorities, and in the presence of two of the Town Fathers.

The clock was stored in the barn of the Jones House across the way, until the tower of the new church was ready for the installation of both clock and bell. By the Spring of 1888, the two were again in accord, and gave perfect service until the early years of this twentieth century, when the bell was silenced. It may be that this fine Stevens clock has become weary and discouraged through the years having to carry on alone, especially with the stout Paul Revere bell hanging so silently above it, but certainly the clock has grown erratic as a time-keeper. Why have a striking clock that does not strike? — E.F.R.

Overflow Crowd

17-7 at the end of one period and 36-30 at the half way mark. In the second half Wayland started to pull away and in the last period put on a "freeze" as Weston tried desperately to get the ball. From this formation Bradley drove in time and again for easy layups and jump shots as he tallied 17 of his points in the last half.

The game was highlighted by some rugged rebounding by Bulkley, Cummings and Wyman for Weston and Regan, Bradley and Marsh for Wayland. The victory gives Wayland a 9 and 2 record. One more win will qualify them for the Tech Tournament. Weston now has a record of 7 wins and 5 losses, and must take the remaining 3 games in order to be eligible.

Wayland's J.V.'s also won, 41-23. Joe Devine scored 10 of the first 11 points and wound up high scorer with 13 points. Lawson was top man for the losers with 7 points.

They Should Cross The Street While Bus Lights Are Flashing

WESTON — Weston children who cross the street after alighting from a school bus have been advised to cross while the bus is stopped with lights flashing, as a result of a move by the Weston School Committee to increase the safety of children. Flyers have been sent home urging parents to cooperate in instructing their children to follow the suggested procedure and bus drivers have been told to direct children to cross the street in the manner described.

The School Committee acted after receiving reports of differences in the habits of school children in crossing the street after getting off the school bus. At some stops children have been waiting until the bus drove along and at others they have crossed while the bus was stopped. School officials feel that any manner of crossing has dangers, but they feel more strongly that the present confused practice is most dangerous.

The School Committee acted following the advice of Mr. J. Sumner Viles, chief of police and Mr. Kenneth E. Brown, of the Massachusetts Safety Council, who made a visit to Weston. Material received from the American Automobile Association also stated that the safest way for children to cross the street after alighting from a school bus is to cross while the bus is stopped with lights flashing.

Children have been instructed to wait in front of the bus until receiving a signal from the driver that it is safe to cross. From the relatively high position of the driver's seat the bus operator is able to observe traffic in both directions and judge the safety factors involved.

As is well known, the state law requires all motorists, when coming upon a school bus stopped to discharge children, to stop their cars. Upon observing that it is safe to do so, the motorist may proceed at not over 10 miles per hour.

Bus drivers have been told to start up their buses when children needing to cross the street have done so and when children not going to cross have moved away from the bus so there is no danger of their falling under the wheels.

It's Different In Wayland

Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Anderson of Wayland says that an effort is made not to have children have to cross the streets, when getting off the school bus. The only roads on which there is a serious traffic problem are the through ways, like the State Road, Concord Road and Cochituate Road, and on these the buses go both up and down, so that children may get off on the right side of the street.

On the side roads, he says, the bus driver often pulls into the middle of the street to stop, so that all other motorists simply have to stop. Where there is a bad traffic situation, the driver often stops and escorts small children across the street.

This particular safety matter has been debated, he says. The motorist is required to stop in the presence of the school bus but he may then proceed at 10 miles an hour. There is always the chance that some motorist, unaware or indifferent, may be moving when the child is crossing.

But Wayland has no hard and fast rule, says Mr. Anderson. Street crossing practice depends on locality and circumstances.

Diaconate Board Holds First Meeting Of 1958

WESTON — The First Baptist Church diaconate board held its first meeting of the new year at the parsonage on Tuesday, Jan. 21. Mr. John Maher and Mrs. Gordon Littlehale were elected to the chairmanship of the Board of Deacons and Board of Deaconesses respectively.

Mr. Maher and Mrs. Littlehale will assist the pastor in all matters related to the spiritual welfare of the church members, with Mr. Maher presiding whenever the pastor is unable to attend meetings. As chairman of the Board of Deacons he will direct the ushers of the church, guide the deacons in the service of the Lord's Supper and in their various duties, represent the church at gatherings where the pastor cannot attend, and assist the chairman of the board of deaconesses with the hospitality committee.

As chairman of the Board of Deaconesses, Mrs. Littlehale will guide the work of the Hospitality Committee. Each Sunday a member of the church greets other members, friends, and strangers at the door of the church as they enter for worship. In addition, Mrs. Littlehale will direct the other members of her board in the preparation of communion and in their other responsibilities.

Elected to the baptismal committee were Mrs. Joseph Crowe, Mrs. John Akers, Mrs. Frederick W. Nims, Mrs. F. Wyman Johnson, Mr. Carlton Allen, Mr. Lincoln Smith and Mr. Erlon Merrill. Elected as representatives to the Church Council were Mrs. Rudolph Helgeson and Mr. F. Wyman Johnson. Mrs. Guy L. Akers and the pastor were re-elected as leaders of the Fellowship Fund.

Den Mother's Lament

Oh, I once took the role of Den Mother
Because Mother there was no other
To work at this job for Cub Scouts of the Nation
(regardless of religion, race, color or station).
Now I note that the boys are quite eager to come
When it's time for refreshments they all say "yum-yum"
But the mothers I find a recalitrant set
They're glad to give Cubs, but their help I can't get.
One mama to her kitchen is always a slave
Another must run for a permanent wave
A third has a deluge of house guests descending
A fourth must forthwith attend to her mending.
So at my house it's out with the cardboard and paste,
Put away all that's fragile, wash dishes, make haste!
Bring on colored paper, the scissors and glue
The Cubs will come running when school is all through.
And it's on with the games, though I find I am teetering
There are noise and gay shouts throughout the whole meeting
They make-up and eat-up; depart solid friends
And I clean-up and think-up, for next week impends.
Oh why must the parents put up such resistance
To a tottering leader who needs some assistance?

Norumbega Council Plans Many Activities For Boy Scout Week

Preparations for the celebration of Boy Scout Week in Newton, Wellesley and Weston are well under way. Scout Executive, Ralph B. Johnson, of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America has announced that in addition to the many Pack, Troop and Explorer Unit Activities, as well as those activities on a Neighborhood and District basis, there will be three council-wide events to help proclaim the 48th Anniversary of Scouting in the United States.

On Feb. 8, the actual birthday of Scouting in this country, the Cubs, Boy Scouts, and Explorers of Norumbega Council will gather to recommit themselves to the Scout Oath. This will take place at 7:45 p.m. on Saturday. All registered members of Norumbega Council and their leaders have been asked to gather at Newton City Hall where they will recommit themselves to the Scout Oath at the same time that Scouts throughout the Nation are doing so.

Norumbega Council's Annual Recognition Dinner will be held on Feb. 11. This Annual Event is held in the Normandy Room at Norumbega Park and is for all Scouters and their wives. ## Wayland AL Auxiliary Held Meeting Jan. 20

WAYLAND — Members of the Charles H. Alward American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 133, held their annual dinner meeting Monday evening, Jan. 20, at Armand's Beacon Terrace, Framingham.

A business meeting was conducted after the dinner by Mrs. Rita Burke. Committee reports were given by Mrs. Quo Heggen and Mrs. Sally Potvin, and correspondence was read by Mrs. Jeanne Frary, secretary.

Mrs. Heggen, Girls' State chairman, reported that plans for the 1958 Girls' State, which will be held in every state, District of Columbia and the Panama Canal Zone, are well underway. Wayland unit has already made a reservation at Bridgewater Teachers College for attendance by a Wayland High School junior who will be chosen this Spring to represent the unit.

Mrs. Potvin, rehabilitation chairman, reports that there is a great shortage of knitted afghans for veterans hospitals. These colorful afghans serve many purposes; not only as a bit of warmth to the ambulatory patient but something home-made to brighten the spirits of hospitalized men and women. If each person interested will knit just one 9" square, the squares will be sewn together by volunteers at the hospitals. Please contact her for more information.

Mrs. Jeanne Frary read a bulletin sent from the department regarding the Pan-American essay contest to be held this year. The country of Honduras is to be studied for a better understanding of our neighbors South of the Border, and all auxiliary members are eligible to compete for state and national cash awards for the Honduran essay. A special program will be conducted in April.

Wayland will receive a national citation for outstanding work in membership and participation in the Christmas gift shop at Bedford Hospital.

Mrs. Burke introduced to the unit Mrs. Jo-Ann Kohler, wife of Paul Kohler, Wayland American Legion Post commander.

Other officers and members who enjoyed dinner at the Terrace were Mesdames Esther Strafus, Evelyn Hebbert, Alice Burke, E. Winifred Richardson, Gladys Hill, Katherine Damon, Edith Blomgren, Rosalie Blomgren, Anna Sanborn, Hazel Taylor, Hazel Stahl and Lorraine O'Connell.

WESTON — "Beyond the Shining Mountains", narrated by Hal H. Harrison, will be shown at Weston Town Hall on Saturday, Feb. 8, at 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of Weston Girl Scout Council. The film is a retracing of the journey of Lewis and Clark, from Missouri to Oregon. Above is Mr. Harrison, who appears in person. He spent six months and traveled 30,000 miles to make the film.

Today's need for proofs rather than professions of divine power will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

Selections to be read from the Bible include the following promise of Christ Jesus (John 14:12): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father,"

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (233:1): "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfill."

Weston PTA Hears How To Get Into College

WESTON — The Jan. 22 PTA meeting filled the Country School Auditorium with the largest turnout this year to hear the Admissions Directors of Wellesley College, Harvard College and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology speak on "College Admission Problems." High School principal Julius H. Mueller was moderator, and many high school pupils were in the audience.

Professor B. Alden Thresher, MIT's Admissions Director, spoke first on the current situation, referring to the "tension-building articles which are enormously exaggerated". He said anyone taking sensible steps to college can get there with the help of school guidance services. He mentioned several serious menaces to the prospective college student, "one of which is the ambitious parent and this room is full of them."

Instead he suggested encouraging initiative in the child and if "he is the type who wants to get an education he will." He said to avoid the tremendous buildup of the parent writing to influential friends, which only hurts the child.

Miss Mary Evans Chase, Admissions Director at Wellesley, and Mr. David D. Henry, Admissions Director at Harvard then joined with Mr. Thresher to answer questions.

Miss Chase emphasized that the college is looking at an individual, not for one. She said a substantial number of high school students with high marks are also active in activities so that naturally the colleges take those with the best qualifications. She said the 16- and 17-year-old girl rarely knows what she is going to do after college. She noted that as tuitions go up so do scholarship funds but she thinks it too bad when an ambitious young person shies away from taking an educational loan.

Mr. Henry said that 99 per cent of the College Board results confirm the high school record and help predict what the student will do if accepted at college. They also act as a check on varying school instruction. He sees no point in the student visiting colleges before the spring of his junior year, or in doing more than taking a college preparatory course. He feels that we will see the usefulness of low-interest educational loans in the next decade.

Mr. Thresher said that marks are the most important single factor, and emphasized that College Boards measure aptitude more than skill. He mentioned the enormous range of time when a boy might find out what he is going to do, and described Charles Darwin, who at the age of 16 was a day dreamer, not responsive, and slow at spelling—would Harvard accept him? He said that loans to families will be more usual in the future, with less idea of the bright boy getting a scholarship.

Titmouse

Adult male Oregon Juncos can be distinguished from adult male Slate-colored Juncos by the black hood contrasting sharply with the red-brown back and yellowish or rusty sides. Slate-colored Juncos have gray backs the same color as the head, and gray sides. It is extremely difficult to identify female and immature Oregons as Slate-coloreds have brownish backs and pinkish sides. Even the experts cannot always be sure.

The second, and by far the most interesting bird is a Tufted Titmouse first seen coming to a feeder with Black-capped Chickadees on Jan. 12 (Hills, Smith and others), and present daily ever since. This is unquestionably the "bird of the month" for Weston, and is the first record for the Town.

The Tufted Titmouse is a permanent resident in southern and midwestern U.S., but in recent years has spread northward into southwestern Connecticut. Since 1940 there has been an increasing number of reports in Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island, mostly in Winter and usually at feeders with Black-capped Chicadees. Starting in November, 1957, there have been numerous reports throughout the state and even in Maine and New Hampshire, a most unusual occurrence, and reports have continued to come in during December, 1957, and January, 1958, according to Mrs. Ruth P. Emery of the Mass. Audubon Society. Flocks of Chickadees now coming to feeders should be looked over carefully.

The Tufted Titmouse is unmistakable, slightly larger than a Chickadee, mouse-gray above, with tuft on head, white below, sides rusty.

At the same time there has been an invasion into New England of Cardinals, also a southern and midwestern permanent resident. Mrs. Emery says there were over 30 reports in November, 1957. Others have come in since, and many of these birds are still present through January, 1958. Two adult males were seen in Weston the early part of December (Foote and Morton), but none has been reported in January. There is but one previous record for the Town, a female seen in August, 1947. They should be watched for now at feeders, as they are very fond of sunflower seeds.

The bright red, crested male, with black face and heavy red bill, resembles no other bird. The female is brownish, but has a crest and red bill like the male. These birds have been spreading northward in recent years. Perhaps some will take up permanent residence here. — Mrs. Charles L. Smith, 75 Westland Road, Weston, TW 4-1114.

(Mrs. Smith, a bird watcher for many years, compiled "An Annotated List of the Birds of Weston, Massachusetts", published in 1952 and now being brought up to date, the only complete list of local birds anybody ever took the trouble to make.)

Weston Persons Are Active In "SANE"

WESTON — A number of Weston persons are taking an active interest in "Sane", short name for the Greater Boston Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, a new group the first aim of which is to "bring nuclear bombs and intercontinental ballistic missles under control."

The first meeting was called Dec. 2, 1957. The group is sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee. Weston is one of the first towns to enroll a strong membership.

The general premise of SANE is that ordinary people had better get together right away and agitate for peace and an end to bomb explosions before everybody on earth gets blown up or poisoned.

Acting treasurer of the Greater Boston group is John N. M. Howells of Weston. Corresponding

3 Weston Boys Passed 1st Naval ROTC Test

WESTON—Three Weston High School seniors have been notified that they passed successfully the Naval R.O.T.C. test which they took last November. The boys are Philip Mueller, Guy Nickerson and Barry Spofford.

The test is the first hurdle in a contest in which some 30,000 young men throughout the states and territories participated, and by which about one half were eliminated. The next hurdles, a physical examination and two personal interviews, will be met at the Boston Naval Base early next month. From the 15,000 semi-finalists, 2,000 will finally be selected to participate in the 1958 program; these will receive full scholarship and other expenses of college education.

In 1947 two Weston High School boys, Jay Schleicher and Andrew Patterson, were successful candidates.

The Boy Scouts of America reached its highest membership peak on Dec. 31, 1957 with 4,751,495 boys and adults enrolled.

Another Bypass Bill Goes To Legislature

WAYLAND — Rep. James DeNormandie has filed again in the Legislature a bill providing for the construction of a by-pass around Wayland Center. What may happen to the bill or the project isn't known.

For many years the Town has wanted to divert the traffic, especially the truck traffic, away from the part of Route 20 which runs through the Center. Now the problem is more the local traffic, particularly that of Raytheon, which chokes the highway night and morning.

No price tag is put on that job. What is in mind, says Mr. DeNormandie, is a piece of road from Robin Hood's Ten Acres, at what used to be called Dead Man's Curve, running South of the Center to a point a little beyond the railroad crossing near the Raytheon laboratory. There would be a grade separation at Route 126-27.

The road wouldn't be more than a couple of miles in length, says Rep. DeNormandie, but it would involve a good deal of filling in crossing the marshes.

Rep. DeNormandie says he filed the bill at the request of the Wayland Selectmen. Similar bills have been filed many times before, and nothing has happened.

He says he is soon going to visit Commissioner of Public Works Anthony DiNatale, and see how the latter views this project.

Weston Teacher Gets Credit For Influence

WESTON—After the 17th Annual Westinghouse Science Talent Search, conducted by the Science Clubs of America, the question was put to each of the 40 national winners, just who was that person who had influenced them the most.

Seventeen winners named teachers, 15 math and science teachers, two junior high school teachers. Eight named fathers, three mothers, one both parents. Eight named professional people who were not related, one a college-professor uncle, and two named no one in particular.

One boy, Irving Thomae of Attleboro, Massachusetts, referred to Mrs. Dorothy Mulroy, who was then teaching in the Attleboro schools. Mrs. Mulroy is now a teacher of science in Weston.

St. Patrick's Eve Dance Of St. Ann's At Ten Acres, March 16

WAYLAND — The general committee for the annual St. Patrick's Eve dance, sponsored by the Guild and Holy Name Society of St. Ann's parish, has announced plans to have the dance at Robin Hood's Ten Acres, on Sunday, March 16.

Wayland Will Receive $1,645,000 Budget At The March Town Meeting

WAYLAND — Figures on the coming Town Meeting, as finally assembled by the Board of Selectmen and the Finance Committee, suggest a possible expenditure of $1,700,000 for this year and a probable steep tax rate increase.

Budget recommended for this year is $1,644,990.38, as against a recommendation for $1,397,000 in 1957 and $1,079.000 in 1956. Of the year's increase, $160,000 is accounted for by additional school needs and $87,000 for increases in costs of other Town departments.

Besides the budget, there are Articles involving $29,000 to be voted on at Town Meeting and there is an item of $25,000 for plans for the new High School, voted last year, to come out of this year's money.

The Warrant and the budget compiled together, make a book an inch thick. In the Warrant are 57 Articles, second largest number which Robert M. Morgan, Finance Committee chairman, can remember. Many of the Articles cover matters which are more or less routine.

Pay Increases

Some of the interesting items of business: the Wage Board recommends some pay increases for Town employees, other than teachers (who come under the school budget), including a general 3½ per cent cost-of-living wage and salary increase.

Construction of a new 2,000,000 gallon standpipe on Reeve's Hill, beside the present 500,000-gallon pipe is recommended. This would be paid for by the Water Department and would not affect the tax rate.

An Article provides for leasing the old Town Hall site to the Historical Society as a site for the Heard House, which would be moved to it. The Heard House, the Society's present quarters, was originally built on the Town Hall site.

A proposal to have the whole Town reassessed by an outside agency, at a cost of $20,000. A majority of the Finance Committee is against it.

A proposal for flouridation, at an initial cost of $6000 and an

Insurance Referendum On The Wayland Ballot

Letters to the EDITOR

About The Bell

To the Editor:

Although I am only a Summer resident of Weston, and am not connected with the First Parish, since my house stood next the church may I express my interest in Miss Emma Ripley's recent interesting letter. May I add that I understand the bell was silenced at the complaint of a nearby resident some years ago, no longer a resident of Weston. Would it not be possible to arrange matters so that the tone of the bell could be made moderately loud, and its beauty restored to those of us who have regretted the silence?

Sincerely yours,
Katharine Sears Endicott
(Mrs. Henry Endicott.)

Thank You Note

To the Editor:

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the residents of Wayland and all others who participated in our Christmas tree sale. We'd like to report that it was a tremendous success and we were able to purchase a considerable amount of camping equipment. We plan to exhibit this equipment in Wayland Center on Memorial Day. We hope that our service and selection of trees met with your approval. We plan to be in business again next year.

Sincerely,

Wayland 76, Regional 53

George Bradley again set the pace as Wayland clinched a spot in the Tech Tournament by beating Lincoln-Sudbury, 76-53. The win also gave Wayland first place in the Dual County League. They need only a victory over Bedford to assure them their second straight championship.

Bradley racked up 27 points as Wayland led from the start and won going away. Ed Marsh and Bob Regan controlled the backboards and Marsh also collected 16 points, while Cutter got 13. The highlight of the game was a 45-foot set shot by Bradley that swished in just as the half-time buzzer sounded.

The J.V.'s lost a close one, 42-39.

Weston 61, Bedford 45

Weston scored 17 consecutive points in the third period to come from behind to beat Bedford, 61-45. The win gave the Wildcats a second-place tie in the league and kept them in the running for the championship. They can capture second place if they beat Lincoln-Sudbury on the 14th. If Wayland should lose they could tie for first place.

Once again it was Terry Dunn leading the way as he scored 23 points. Jacq Compton chipped in 13 and John Wyman 12. Weston trailed 29-25 at the half but the third period spurt sent them ahead and they won easily.

annual cost thereafter of $1000. This came up last year and was passed over. The Finance Committee takes no position on it.

An Article saying that residents can't park trucks or building equipment in their driveways.

An Article designating all local property less than 124 feet above sea level as a Flood Plain District.

Several articles concerning the old Mansion Inn property. By land swaps, the Town would be able to widen Old Connecticut Path and cut down the embankment and also get a 50-foot roadway and rights to 500 feet of water front on the Dudley Pond side.

An article for relocation of the King Philip's War monument at the end of the Four Arch Bridge.

Town In Good Shape

A proposal to acquire 11 pieces of substandard property and destroy the buildings. This is part of the long-range plan to get rid of shacks. None of the buildings is now occupied.

A proposal to build 200 to 300 feet of road to connect Brookdale with Loker Street. They say this would save transporting one bus full of children.

There is a proposal to run a water pipe 200 feet from the end of Sears Road to Draper Road, whence Draper Road residents, now using wells, could connect with it if they wished.

An Article calling for $2000 to clean up Dudly Pond. The Finance Committee says the Town can't clean up the water front of private property. However, the Town owns some land on the shore and there is a provision for assigning another man to the Park Department, so the Town can start cleaning its own premises on the pond in the Spring.

Says Chairman Morgan: "There has never been better cooperation in the Town Departments nor better cooperation between them and the Selectmen. The Town is in pretty good shape and its increasing expenses are attributable to growth. The school plant is mostly new. The Water Department is in excellent shape. The new Town Building has contributed greatly to efficiency, and many from the State and from other Towns have come to inspect it. The Fire and Police Departments are on a much better basis. Except for schools, we look forward to financing future public improvements as we did the Town Building, without borrowing."

Weston Methodists Announce End Of Fund Campaign

WESTON—The Weston Methodist Church has had a successful Building Fund Emphasis Campaign which formally closed Feb. 11 with the minimum goal of $40,000 raised in cash and three-year pledges. The announcement was jointly made by the minister, Rev. Robert W. Huston, and the stewardship chairman, Aimo Teittinen.

One of the features of the canvass was the participation by young people who showed their eagerness to help pay for the new parish house, which they will largely use. Forty-nine youth pledged more than $1200 of the total.

The announcement to the congregation noted the confidence of the committee that by the end of the three-year period the church would have met its total objective, "to dedicate to God a parish house for which we have completely paid."

Progress Bulletin Issued By Suasco

WAYLAND — SU-AS-CO Watershed Association, Inc., has recently mailed a folder, illustrated with flood pictures, to many in the Sudbury Valley, explaining what it is trying to do to reduce the flood danger in the valley and to maintain an even flow of water.

Philip P. Farina of Wayland, president of the Association, invites all to join. Allen Morgan of Wayland, secretary of the Sudbury Valley Trustees, writes that stabilization of the water level in the marshes will be good for wildfowl. Henry M. Doane of Wayland, treasurer of the Roxbury Carpet Company of Saxonville, says the organization is of great value to industry.

The pamphlet lists $7,500,000 damage done in the 1955 flood alone and recites what has been done so far and what remains to be done. Uncle Sam will pick up the bill for a great deal of the work, under a comparatively new law.

When Suasco's job is finished, there'll be no more floods in Wayland and the Sudbury Valley will be cleaner, prettier and more valuable. Meanwhile, Pres. Farina and the Association can use lots of help in the project, which involves 400,000 persons, 34 towns and 241,617 acres of land.

A hearing will probably be held before the Commissioners of the Department, it was said.

Dr. Manson Benedict Will Head Nuclear Department At MIT

WESTON — Dr. Manson Benedict of 25 Byron Road will head the Department of Nuclear Engineering at M.I.T., to be established "to educate students in the peaceful application of atomic energy," the Institute has announced. The department will be the first in any New England college and one of the first in the country.

Dr. Manson Benedict

Dr. Benedict began his career as a physical chemist and acquired experience in nuclear engineering through war-time necessity. As a worker for the Manhattan Project, he participated in the first important nuclear engineering project, the production of atomic bombs.

Born in Lake Linden, Michigan, Dr. Benedict was graduated from Cornell University in 1928 and did his graduate work at M.I.T. receiving a Ph.D. in 1935. He was a research fellow at Harvard University before going into industry as a chemist. While with the M. W. Kellogg Company he worked out what is known as the "Benedict Equation," widely used in the petroleum industry to predict the properties of hydrocarbons.

In 1942 Dr. Benedict was asked to take charge of the process design of the gaseous diffusion plant for the concentration of Uranium-235, built at Oak Ridge for the Manhattan Project. This is the plant at which the Atomic Energy Commission now produces enriched uranium for use as an

The wedding was held Feb. 1 in the First Presbyterian Church, Hattiesburg.

All hopes of a tournament bid were lost by Weston when it dropped a 68-45 decision to Lincoln-Sudbury. The loss also left the Wildcats in third place in the league. Poor shooting in the first half gave Weston a mere 8 points at halftime. This deficit was just too much to overcome, despite 20 points by Terry Dunn.

The Committee quotes a letter from President Eisenhower recently printed in the American Dental Association News Letter:

"As Children's Dental Health Week is observed throughout the nation, it is fitting to note the recent development of measures, including the fluoridation of water supplies, to prevent tooth decay in early years of growth. I invite the attention of the public to the study of progress in this field, and I urge all citizens to cooperate in such measures as will lead to the improved dental health of our children and youth."

Bill Mitchell Has Been A Quality Dealer 17 Years

W. H. (Bill) Mitchell Jr., president of West End Chevrolet, Inc., 866 Main Street, Waltham, has been in the retail automobile business since 1929. On March 1, he will celebrate 17 years as Waltham's franchised Chevrolet dealer and as one of New England's quality automobile dealers.

A fighter for ethical merchandising, Mr. Mitchell is the re-elected director of the National Automobile Dealers Association for Massachusetts and New England regional vice president.

His definition of a quality dealer is, "A dealer who has the facilities to properly condition his new and used cars and honor all warranties."

He says:

"A quality dealer also refuses to use advertising that he cannot live up to or that is detrimental to his factory make of car, and inevitably to the auto industry and thusly to the economy of the country as a whole.

"The basis of all sound business, in the words of the United States Supreme Court, is 'the desire of the customer to return to where he has been well treated.'

"We at West End Chevrolet have increased our departments and facilities each year to meet our constantly growing sales.

"This Winter we added 10,000 square feet to our body shop facilities on South Street, and this month we are breaking ground for a completely new service building, also on South Street, with more than 9,240 more feet for service facilities, all under one roof. This will, we feel, permit us to give our customers better service than ever.

"We are happy and proud that the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company shares our views about the future of the West-of-Boston area. Otherwise this building would not have been possible. When completed it will be one of the largest and most modern service facilities under one roof in New England, and, of course, very accessible to Weston and Wayland car owners.

"Our business has grown steadily every year, to where today we are one of New England's largest Chevrolet service volume dealers. Proof that the majority of our customers return to where they have been well treated."

Improved Cars, Selling Methods And Servicing Make Driving More Fun

In the memory of the oldster is a picture from 50 years ago. It's just after a Summer shower, and the clay of the unpaved road is like grease.

A high posted automobile is trying to make a hill, with perhaps 15 horsepower and smooth tires. It's not doing very well. Men are pushing, throwing papers under the wheels and having no fun whatever in motoring.

Whatever became of that automobile is a mystery. In the picture it is stuck there, 100 feet from the summit. It's frozen, like that shot of the Marines planting the flag on Iwo Jima. The automobile has to be gone now, that's sure, because there's a smooth, hard highway there.

Motorists of 1958 don't have experiences like that, except occasionally in snow or ice.

Roads have been improved to such an extent that one could drive for a week and not see enough mud to make a pie.

The laughable vehicles of half a century ago have been transformed, too.

Those fresh air limousines have been replaced by tight, snappy sedans in bright colors. Cars still don't like snow very much, but they laugh at rain and cold. Once the heap gets warm in the morning, one can ride in shirtsleeves all day, if he feels like it.

There has been a transformation in clothing for motoring, too.

In the old pictures, men wear long linen "dusters", with caps, sometimes worn backwards, and goggles. The goggles were a necessity, because getting caught in somebody else's dust was no trivial matter. The women wore dusters, high hats skewered with extra pins, and veils.

To get dressed for an automobile ride was a big undertaking. Of course, it amounted to putting on a certain amount of dog, because not everybody could ride in those days. Motorists attracted attention, and naturally they wanted to give their public a good show.

The difference today is that nobody changes his clothes to drive. He goes as he is. He's perfectly comfortable, because he can wear anything he likes, in the comparative privacy of his front seat. In Summer, even bathing suits are routine motoring dress, and all the year, housewives run down to the store in house dresses or dungarees.

Motoring today isn't such an adventure as it used to be, either. Of course, anybody who wants to speed, park in lovers' lanes or pick up suspicious looking hitchhikers can still get into trouble, but modern improvements have tended to make the automobile what is needed today, a dependable vehicle for safe transportation, to be handled with care.

Time was, though, when anybody out for a drive was much better off with a full kit of tools and knowledge of how to use them. Anything from a spark plug to a tire was pretty likely to go wrong, in the course of a 100-mile drive, and it was never surprising when the old heap quit in the road, between a cow pasture and a dismal swamp, with no help nearer than five miles and that only a blacksmith's shop.

Many can still remember the technique of scraping and cementing the inner tube, and the miserable job of changing tires on the road.

Mishaps still occur today, to be sure, but the reliability of modern cars is such that they are not to be expected.

Moreover, help is almost always at hand. Service stations are never far away, roads are patrolled and cars which are cared for seldom drop dead on the highway.

The improvement starts in the factories of Detroit, where better qualities each year are built in. It extends to the dealers, whose business now has traditions and standards.

In early days, the daring soul who purchased an automobile was embarking on an uncharted sea.

Now, he goes to a dealer who is as well known in his community

Ed. St. Germain Puts His Faith In American Motors

Some time ago Ed St. Germain recognized the need for a place that local people could buy with confidence and get friendly dependable service for their automobiles.

At times people travel many miles because of some advertisements they read, looking for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, only to find that they could get as good and sometimes better right near home.

With these thoughts in mind, Mr. St. Germain is building one of the most modern automobile facilities in this locality. The showroom is ready and in use. The service department is in full operation.

With 20 years experience in the automobile business, after careful consideration he selected the car with the most value, American Motors four lines of cars, priced from $1,700 to $4,000 dollars, built for safety, with unit welded construction. shorter overall length, for convenience of parking in today's crowded streets, and lowest gasoline consumption of any American made automobile.

Although the location and the building are new, Mr. Ed St. Germain has surrounded himself with much experience. Carl Evans, general manager, has had 30 years continuous service in all phases of the business. Tony Camuti has had 25 years in servicing automobiles. Harold Adler and Vincent O'Donnell represent many years in selling.

Come in and talk over your automobile wants or problems in a friendly way with friendly people, without feeling any obligation.

4-H Leaders Meet

Mrs. R. E. Woodman of 17 Waltham Road, Wayland, was elected treasurer of the Southern Middlesex County 4-H Leaders Association at a meeting of the organization held in Framingham on Feb. 4. John J. McCann of Edgewood Road, Cochituate, was elected to the Camp Committee for one year.

Awards were made to Carl Taylor of Cochituate, soil and water conservation, and to Mrs. Archibald Cox of Wayland, Miss Honora Haynes of Sudbury and Mrs. Edward Rayner of Weston, leaders' tenth year pins.

Leslie T. Haskins Begins 30th Year With Oldsmobile

Leslie T. Haskins, dean of Wellesley's automobile dealers, announces that he is starting his 30th year as the Oldsmobile dealer in Wellesley, Weston and surrounding towns.

Other members of the family corporation are Douglas and Alvan Haskins.

Douglas, the new car sales manager, started selling Oldsmobiles back in 1933, when a new one cost only $949.00 delivered.

Alvan, the used car manager, has been with the firm since 1944 as a mechanic, service salesman, service manager and used car sales manager.

The Haskins firm is most fortunate in having the very capable Jesse Ray as service manager. He is a courteous man who can solve car service problems. He fixes any car, Austin to Cadillac.

A complete body and paint shop is operating at all times, to remove the smallest scratch or give a complete paint job. The new Duco Lucite finishes are a specialty at Haskins.

Cochituate Motors Backs Chevrolets And Softball

Cochituate Motors is celebrating its 20th year as an authorized Chevrolet dealer in Cochituate.

Howard Phillips, proprietor and general manager of Cochituate Motors, is well known throughout this area for his reconditioned used cars. He sells all of his OK used cars with a one-year guarantee on both parts and labor for all major repairs, good anywhere in the United States.

Howard married the former Marjorie Taft of Natick, where he has lived more than 20 years. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have three children: Virginia, training to be a registered nurse at Children's Hospital, Boston; Jacqueline, a senior at Natick High, and William, a freshman at Natick.

Howard has been a strong booster for driver training, and at present he sponsors three driver education cars, two at Natick High and one at Wayland High. Few dealers in the country donate so many cars to this cause.

Cochituate Motors is known in sports for its outstanding softball team, which won the New England championship in the Amateur Softball Association tournament in 1951, only Massachusetts team ever to do so. The team has won the State championship six times and has played in four World Softball Tournaments.

Wayland and Cochituate boys on the team include Tom Regan, Rolly Whelchel, Jerry Whelchel, Richie Riley, Nick Willard, Al Statton and Paul Bradley. The team has played in world tournaments at Oklahoma City, Greeley, Colorado, Detroit and Bedford, Illinois. In 1955 they won the Sportsmanship Trophy.

Twenty-five trophies won since 1946 are on display in Cochituate Motors' new show room.

In 1950 Cochituate Motors sponsored the installation of the lights on the Cochituate ball field. Players on the team did the work under the supervision of Walter Ward. Three years ago Howard Phillips was elected New England Vice President of the International Softball League and he has been reelected each year since. He is a member of Natick Rotary Club, the National Automobile Dealers Association

Atmosphere at Cochituate Motors is friendly, and many in the organization have been in it for many years. Among the personnel:

Russ Hooker, sales manager, lives in Natick. Larry Dame, Cochituate native, 19 years with the company, is used car manager. Stuart Kimball, service manager, known as "Stubby", has been with the company since 1944. Cliff Shay, mechanic, has had 13 years. Russ Thayer has had long experience, as have the other mechanics, Ralph Lawson, Stan Lacka, Cliff Livingston, Winn Parker, Tommy O'Neill and the rest.

Coombs Motor Company Has Strong Weston Connections

Through the courtesy of the Town Crier we, the Coombs Motor Company of Watertown, take this opportunity to introduce ourselves to the residents of Weston.

To many of you, of course, we need no introduction, for we have been selling and servicing Ford cars in Weston for the past 25 years. Although we are located in Watertown, we are very much a Weston organization. Stephen

ED ST. GERMAIN, INC.

66 PROSPECT ST., WALTHAM TWinbrook 4-6550

S. Fitzgerald, a long time resident of Weston, is our president. Frank B. Carter, Jr., also residing in Weston, is our general manager and treasurer.

Robert C. Dowell, our service manager, (who knows his Fords) lives among us in Weston. Herbert (Dick) Crouch, who came to this country from England, settled in Weston in 1925, and has been selling Fords to many Weston people for 20 years.

Dick has always been very interested and active in Town affairs. At present he is a chairman of the Board of Public Welfare, for a three-year term. He is a member and past president of the Weston Rotary Club. He has been finance chairman of the Red Cross, Weston Chapter, for 10 years, and he is a member of the Weston Post, American Legion, and of the Weston Golf Club.

For eight years Dick directed the activities of the Friendly Society as its president and as an actor he has appeared in some 20 of its dramatic presentations. An actor on the professional stage in England before coming here, he has acted in Summer stock at New England Mutual Hall, Boston; Brattle Hall, Cambridge, and the Spa Theatre at Saratoga Springs, New York. His last appearance was for three weeks with Sarah Churchill in the "Philadelphia Story".

as the mayor. His establishment is neon lit. He's a resident of the community, a taxpayer and probably a church member. He runs an established business, and he means to keep it established. When he sells a car in 1958, he looks forward to keeping on friendly terms with the purchaser and to selling him another car in 1959, 1960 or 1962.

The same goes for the repair and service departments.

In early days, even diagnosis of a car's trouble was usually left to somebody who was little better than an amateur.

Now, an automobile is driven into the service station of the dealer who sold it. Mechanics know, from training and experience, the ills to which motor vehicles are prey. The skilled man listens, maybe smells, looks and makes a diagnosis in short order.

Time was when a mechanic was as likely to be mystified at a car's quirks as was its owner. No more. Those who service vehicles of a certain make know all about them, and they know what has to be done to fix them.

This condition makes the do-it-yourself repair routine unnecessary. Boys may tinker with motors for fun, but that's doing it the hard way.

The easy way is to pick up the telephone and call a fellow citizen who's in the automobile or automobile repair business. He can send a man over to pick up the car, then send it back fixed.

People still have to pay, naturally, but the point is that service, from well known, reputable firms, is now the standard thing. Where once a motorist in trouble had to take a chance when he asked for help, he now has at his command assistance which comes as a good routine, like water from the faucet. Car trouble? Call the neighborhood man who's in the business. He'll fix it.

Those old days are all right to look back on. The present days are more comfortable and not even, all things considered, more expensive.

Weston Girl Scouts

WESTON — Girl Scouts of Troop 17 of Weston joined scouts from Troop 18 for a bowling party in Waltham on Feb. 14. Troop 17, which is under the direction of Mrs. Allen B. Metcalf and Mrs. Robert Waters, competed with Troop 18, under the direction of Mrs. Paul W. Erickson and Mrs. Joseph Benotti. After the contest they celebrated Valentine's Day with a little party.

As one of their service projects, the girls of Troop 7 entertained a group of third-grade children from the Morgan Memorial House. The youngsters were brought out to the Weston Scout House and a wonderful time was had both by Scouts and children as they played games and joined together for Valentine refreshments. The Weston girls are eager to have the group out again in the spring for a cook out. This troop is under the leadership of Mrs. Ingemann Nielsen and Mrs. Meas Hartwell.

Replicas of the badges on which Girl Scouts lavish so much of their extra time will decorate the handsome new tabe cloth that Troop 8 is making for the Scout House; the girls hope to have it ready for Rally Day in the Spring. This group, whose leaders are Mrs. Alden Henderson and Mrs. Palmer Derby. have been ably assisted in their work for their Print and Textile badge by Mrs. Derby.

Troops 11 and 12 have just completed their Good Grooming badges. Included in their work was a fascinating trip to A. J. Cronins where the girls received instruction in skin care, clothes selection and so forth. All the girls received manicure sets from Cronins as souvenirs and an incentive to good hand appearance. Troop 11, seventh grade, is under the leadership of Mrs. R. L. Helgeson and Mrs. John Chisholm. Their recent service project was the making of Valentine favors for the trays of patients in the Wellesley Convalescent Home.

Part of the girls in Troop 12 under the direction of Mrs. John D. Glover and Mrs. Francis Dailey have been working on the radio and television badge. They made a special trip to Station WBZ and there were shown thru the studios and watched several programs. The girls were impressed with the informal manner of the "disc jockey" on the radio show as contrasted to the careful preparation which is necessary for television. Other girls in the troop have been engaged in work on the Pet (dog and cat) and the Seamstress badges.

Simple Exercises At Dedication Of Wayland's New Town Building

WAYLAND — The new Town Building, second in the Town's long history, was dedicated in a fall of snow on Sunday, Feb. 23, when the structure was visited and admired by several hundred townspeople and visitors.

A feature was a presentation to the Town of an American flag from the Daughters of the American Revolution, and its raising on the flagpole outside by a color guard from local Posts of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Then Robert M. Morgan, chairman of the building committee, presented to Chairman Thomas F. Linnehan of the Board of Selectmen a big symbolic key, representing ownership of the building by the Town.

Back in 1878, when the old Town Hall was dedicated, there

Weston High School Plant Committee Hopes To Report In April

WESTON — "Weston's Special High School Plant Committee, despite Winter storms, is continuing the process of assembling information on land in Weston available for a High School site," says Mrs. Boardman Bump. "While the committee has not yet accumulated sufficient data to make a decision, it expects to be able to report to the Town with its recommendation some time in April."

Fire Alarm From Cochituate School, But No Damage

COCHITUATE — A backfire in the boiler room at the Cochituate School at 7:24 a.m. on Feb. 17 set off the sprinklers and sounded a fire alarm automatically, but no appreciable damage was done. Four pieces of fire apparatus went to the school on the double and put things in order. The all out was sounded at 8:21.

As it was the morning after the storm, and early at that, no children were in the building. The recent fire at Wayland High School, by coincidence, also occurred on the morning after a storm, when there was no school.

Robin Seen, Feb. 19

WESTON — Mrs. Henry M. Fiske of Boston Post Road saw a robin on the zero morning of Feg. 19, and reports that she went right down to the store to get some groceries for it. Mr. Fiske later said the bird had been around the house for three days.

He quoted Mrs. Charlotte Smith, local bird watcher, as saying robins around here in Winter prefer cedar swamps. This one, however, he said seemed to prefer the civilized surroundings of Weston Center.

There was no telling whether it was the first robin of 1958 or the last one of 1957.

WESTON — The Annual Town Meeting will take place no earlier than March 24 but no later than March 31. The Town By-law says that the Annual Meeting must be held on a Monday in March.

Construction Of New $754,000 Elementary School To Come Up At Special Town Meeting In Weston

Above is the architect's drawing, showing how the proposed new Elementary School would look look when completed, with all its 20 classrooms. As of now, however, the Building Committee would not recommend the left rear wing, the far upper right wing or the auditorium, the pitched-roof structure in the center. School committee wants the auditorium now.

WESTON — A proposal to build a new 12-room elementary school on Arnold Arboretum land immediately will be the sole piece of business to come before a Special Town Meeting scheduled for March 10. The Article calls for a $750,000 bond issue, plus an appropriation of $4000 from available funds.

The Elementary School Building Committee has been working a long time on this project. It comes before the Town now because the increasing number of school pupils makes double sessions, under some arrangement, apparently inevitable for next September.

The Building Committee says that, if the Town votes for the school, it hopes to let the contract in July, and it hopes that the new building will be ready in September of 1959.

The proposal involves taking only 32 acres of Arboretum land, instead of the 55 acres once voted, and it involves, at some distant date, placing on this area two elementary schools instead of the three once considered.

The Town voted $60,000 for the 55 acres. Negotions between the Selectmen and the Arboretum are continuing, and it is said that a deal for the 32 acres will undoubtedly be worked out satisfactoily.

Letters to the EDITOR

Praise For Weston Highway Department

To the Editor:

Hats off to the tired, unheralded men of the Weston Highway Department for their stupendously quick job of snow plowing and removal the first of this week. Business establishments, professional buildings, churches, and residential areas were cleared expeditiously. Many thanks to these loyal citizens who very seldom receive any praise.

Very sincerely,
Joseph O'Donnell
687 Boston Post Road
Weston.

About Non-Support

To the Editor:

A misapprehension may have been created by the mention of my name by one of the candidates for the Planning Board at the Wayland League of Women Voters' Candidates Night on Feb. 20. I believe, and certainly hope, that it was not intended to imply that I am supporting the candidate. I am not well acquainted with any of the candidates for Planning Board, and have not offered any of them public support.

I am glad to see the amount of interest in the single vacancy on the Board and can assure whomever is elected that his talent and ability will be put to good use.

Yours very truly,
L. William Bertelsen

About State Aid

To the Editor:

David Gitlin, President of Loker PTA, has received notice from the Massachusetts Congress of Parents and Teachers that the House Hearing on State Aid to Schools Bill, House 535, will be Monday, March 3, at 10 a.m. The notice points out that "although Massachusetts is the 8th wealthiest among states, it is the 24th in support of schools, making us the 46th state in effort.

The heavy reliance on the property tax for support of Massachusetts schools points toward the need for increased state aid, and Massachusetts' position as 17th in teaching salaries is of special interest in such an education- conscious community as Wayland.

"Fred E. Pitkin in the Massachusetts Teacher reports that of approximately 200 new teachers engaged this past summer in the Pasadena, Calif. area, 38 were from Massachusetts."

Wayland parents and other taxpayers who feel strongly about the need for increased state aid to schools are urged to write to Representative Jim DeNormandie in Lincoln, or if possible to appear in Room 436 at 10 a.m., March 3. PTA tags will be at the door.

Mary Ann Wolfe

Pro-Fluoridation

WAYLAND—A report to the Town from the Committee for Fluoridation, sent in by Dr. Howard H. Jenkins:

"There appears to be no doubt that no other public health procedure in history has been so thoroughly tested in field trials under the widest variety of controlled medical and dental studies. The scientific evidence is overwhelmingly favorable regarding the benefits and safety of fluoridation.

"Its legality has been upheld in every case. The problem remaining is the matter of community acceptance.

"We have the unanimous support of the medical and dental professional people residing in Wayland.

"We strongly urge the citizens to avail themselves of the literature at either the public library or the Parmenter Health Center. They may also call members of the committee, listed in a previous issue of the Crier."

Forest & Trail Walk Planned For March 2

St. Peter's Phone Book

WESTON — Anyone who has not yet received the Weston Telephone Book published by St. Peter's Church may call Mrs. David H. Bradley at TW 3-6457 or Mrs. James O. Post at EL 8-4524.

The books costs one dollar and proceeds from its sale go to the church building fund.

Town Meeting Procedures Are Explained To Wayland Newcomers

Archie Cox, left, chats about Town Meeting with Mrs. Thomas J. Dolan and Dominic Anzivino, at Loker School session.

WAYLAND — Forty persons, including many newcomers who didn't know much about Town Meeting form of government, met at Loker School on the frosty night of Feb. 17 and had the theory and practice of the ancient institution explained. Afterwards, many said they learned a good deal from the session.

Among older residents on hand to shed what light they could were Town Moderator Howard S. Russell, former Selectman and present Finance Committee member William A. Loker. Archibald Cox, Dominic Anzivino and Finance Committee members Mrs. Norman Alstad, Lloyd Osborn and John Wilson.

Many had questions to ask. Specific Articles in the Town Warrant were discussed and explained. Mr. Russell gave the history of Town Meeting and its procedure. Mr. Cox presided during most of the evening.

The meeting was one of the first of its kind in th Town's history, and it was organized by the newcomers themselves.

J. V. Harvey At Kiwanis

WAYLAND—Mr. John V. Harvey, Registrar at Middlesex County Probate Court in Cambridge, spoke to the Kiwanis Club of Wayland at Red Coach Grill, Feb. 25. Registrar Harvey's subject "Wills and Estates as they effect the small businessman," was well received by 50 Kiwanians and guests. The question and answer period was lively and entertaining.

Wayland Scouts Had A Polar Bear Hike

WAYLAND — Friday Afternoon, Jan. 31, 18 Scouts and two Scoutmasters of Troop 1, Wayland, left on a weekend trip to Camp Resolute, Bolton, Mass. The purpose of the trip was to instruct the boys in outdoor survival. Friday evening was spent passing outdoor Scout requirements and discussing Saturday's plans. Friday evening the boys slept in a cabin.

Saturday morning 13 more Scouts arrived and the day's activities started. The tenderfeet were taken on a short nature hike, while the remaining boys cleared the snow and pitched their tents. In the afternoon everyone gathered and cut wood, in preparation for a cold night.

Shortly after supper 22 boys retired to their tents under the supervision of Scoutmasters Bob Evans and Bill Young. The remaining boys slept in the cabin under the supervision of Councillor Bill Keary. Two boys who were outside found it necessary to return to the cabin; but all of the others insisted they were "warm as toast".

This outing was made possible through the purchase of troop camping equipment which was financed by the recent Christmas tree sale—Clyde Merrell, Secretary, Wayland Scout Committee.

WESTON — The members of the three Brownie II troops of the Weston Girl Scouts celebrated Girl Scout Thinking Day in a joint program at the Scout House on Tuesday, Feb. 18. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Herman Koester Jr., President of Weston Girl Scouts; Mrs. Frank M. Lewis, training director; Mrs. Robert Wilkes, program director, and the members of the Troop Committees of Troops 22 and 23.

After refreshments, the program opened with a formal flag ceremony. Marcia Warren served as marshal. The color guard included Sally Calkins, Jane Dengler and Pamela Howe. Anne Vinal greeted the guests and Mrs. Koester gave the Brownies a thought for Thinking Day.

The Brownies of Troop 23, under the leadership of Mrs. Edward E. Stritter, gave a program about the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts and presented Mrs. Koester with a tablecloth for the Scout House which they had decorated with the flags of the 42 member countries of the World Association.

Troop 24, under Mrs. D. B. Howe Jr., presented a dance featuring puppets they had made and invited all the Brownies to join in a relay race. The members of Troop 22, under Mrs. Robert A. Stauffer, entertained with a guessing game using aprons decorated with Weston birds which they recently completed and performed a charade showing the steps in preparing to build a campfire. The program closed with the Brownie Good Night song.

Girl Scout Troop 16 Holds Annual Court

WESTON—Fathers and daughters of Girl Scout Troop 16 met for supper on Feb. 13. Although the tables were decorated in the Valentine theme the program of the evening was the serious one which marks the culmination of weeks of work for these girls.

Their annual Court of Awards was opened by an impressive and dignified flag ceremony and followed by the awarding of the badges for which the girls worked during the Summer and Fall.

Many of the girls qualified for the pottery badge which they earned under the supervision of Mrs. Palmer Derby. They include Irene MacLeod, Serena Leiser, Heather Mitchell, Nancy Steele, Jodie Wetmore and Betty Lou Chapman.

Other badges earned during the Summer or separately include the swimmer badge, Beth Brown, Karen Higgins, Nancy Richardson and Robin Weaver; sports badge, Sally Derby and Jodie Wetmore; bird badge, Irene MacLeod; canoeing, Robin Weaver; adventurer badge, Martha Rafuse and Karen Higgins and music and dancer badge, Sally Higgins. All of the troop have worked on the skater's badge most assiduously over a 12-week period.

The girls cooked the supper at the Scout House, even to the making of apple pie. Entertainment later included music by the "Nervous Nightingales".

The leaders of the troop are Mrs. Inglis C. Wetmore and Mrs. William M. Leiser.

Mrs. Crawford Is On Planning Committee

WESTON — Mrs. Mary O. Crawford, a member of the Weston School Committee, is a member of the Planning Committee for the annual School Board Conference of the New England School Development Council to be held March 21 at the Hotel Bradford.

"What is Ahead in Secondary Education" has been announced as the theme of the conference, to be attended by representatives of more than 130 school systems in the six New England states which hold membership in NESDEC.

Last year at the School Board Conference the Weston exhibit of the High School Mathematics Club and the Rombas Affiliation attracted unusual attention. Weston High School students were on hand to explain the displays. No other school system had pupils present. Dr. Theodore Bayles, then Chairman of the Weston School Committee, was a panel speaker at last year's meeting.

Twelve school systems are represented on the planning committee.

Lucine Amara Will Sing In Final Event Of Evening Series

Hospital Associates Hold Valentine Tea

More than 200 guests were present at the valentine tea sponsored by the Waltham Hospital Associates Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 18, from 3 to 5 P.M. in the nurses home of the Hospital Honoring the nursing personnel, secretarial staff and volunteers of the Waltham Hospital.

The valentine was the theme of the day with valentine corsages presented to the pourers, Mrs. John Larkin, Mrs. Walter Amesbury and Mrs. Joseph Murray.

The committee consisted of Mrs. David Reid of Weston as chairman, with Mrs. Nathaniel Brackett, Jr., Mrs. John J. Ryan of Waltham and Mrs. William T. Van Huysen, Mrs. Ashley A. Farrar, Mrs. Daniel F. Viles and Mrs. Daniel J. Blacklow of Weston as hostesses.

They say it's not true that a cat can see in the dark.

WESTON—Weston Civil Defense and Weston Red Cross have moved into new quarters in the basement of Town Hall, and all concerned are happier with the arrangement.

The room is below ground, with one window blocked and two others which could be covered with sandbags in case of need. It contains radio communications, first aid equipment and equipment for rescue work. Civil Defense, says Director Florence Freeman, is in process of buying a generator, which would cut in automatically in case of power failure.

The new quarters are open every Wednesday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. for visitors and especially for the distribution of informational literature.

Red Cross equipment, previously stored in homes and garages, can be put in the new room, and those who have such property are asked to call Mrs. Nelson Miles (CE 5-5429), and arrange to have it transferred.

Recreation In Wayland

SYNOPSIS OF RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Public play lots and apparatus areas for pre-school children on the basis of one such area per 100 families in areas where the lot size is 30,000 square feet or less.

2. Seven playgrounds developed at the seven elementary school sites (either existing or planned). These playgrounds shall have facilities for all ages, with emphasis on those for the 6-14 years of age.

3. Three playfields, one at each of the junior and senior high school sites, to provide facilities for the School Department's program of physical education and athletics as well as for youth and adult use.

4. A continuation of the policy of the School Department to permit the school gymnasiums, locker rooms, meeting rooms, class rooms, music, art and crafts facilities to be used by groups composed of adults or children, provided that adequate leadership and supervision is supplied. Such will be provided by the expanded public recreation program or by such private groups as the Junior Town House.

5. Town-wide facilities:

a) A tract acquired for future recreation use at the east end of Dudley Pond.

b) Improvement of the Town Beach facilities on Lake Cochituate by providing more courts and areas for games, by encouraging the use of boats and by the provision of docking or mooring facilities.

c) Acquisition of a tract in the Rice Road area for forest preserve, for hiking and for development as a ski slope.

d) Acquisition of land or easements to increase the number of bridle paths, hiking trails and walks to permit easier access to school sites and to connect the various tracts of land reserved for public use and appreciation. This will include the construction of side walks in certain instances to assist pedestrians in reaching the school sites and recreation areas.

6. A program of purchase by the Town of Wayland with public funds of wooded lowlands and marshlands in the Sudbury Valley watershed to supplement the program of acquisition by the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc. Close coordination with the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources and the Sudbury Valley Trustees regarding the program by which certain lands now in their natural state can be permanently established as reservations for public use and appreciation.

7. A gradual increase during 1959, 1960 and 1961 in funds spent for recreation program leadership to reach a level of approximately $1.15 per capita (about $11,000 based upon present population) per year by 1962. Some of this can be raised by use fees and participation charges. Wayland (through its Park Department) now spends about forty cents per capita for program supervision, mostly for operation of the Town Beach. For operation and maintenance, present budgets of the Park Department will have to be increased as this department is given more areas and facilities for which to be responsible.

8. The appointment of a five member Recreation Advisory Committee to assist the Park Commissioners in expanding the program and facilities and to serve as liaison with the citizen groups active in recreation and conservation in Wayland. It is further recommended that by 1962, the Park Department be reorganized as a Park and Recreation Department with five commissioners.

9. The employment in 1959 or 1960 of a recreation director on a part-time basis and the increasing of this arrangement to full-time by 1962.

10. An acquisition and development program to provide the recommended land and facilities at a rate to keep pace with the growth of population. It is proposed that land acquisition be given priority in order to insure that it will not be used for other purposes. The amount of land recommended for purchase for recreation and park use is about 60 acres (marsh, lowlands and trails). This does not include the seventh elementary school site that has not yet been selected and purchased.

Space Standards

In considering a plan for recreation facilities and program for a community which has the density characteristics that Wayland now has and can expect to have under present zoning requirements there is considerable modification required in accepted recreation standards. Particularly is this the case in the northern precinct where the lot size requirement is larger. The distance that children and adults must travel to the nearest playground, playfield or other facility has to be greater than is generally considered desirable in more dense urban areas. It may well be that for many families, children have to be transported by car even to the playground at the nearest elementary school.

For such suburban communities it is still necessary to have facilities, particularly for the age group 14 years and under, located as close to each home as practicable. In low density areas this tends to result in acreage per capita above what would be encounterer in denser areas. This is to say that National Recreation Association and other accepted standards for public outdoor recreation space for urban areas are not applicable to communities such as Wayland where the particular circumstances justify space well in excess of such standards. The policy to locate the elementary school sites in a dispersed pattern gives opportunity to use the school sites as year round playgrounds. This increases the area per capita in recreation use. In addition Wayland's topography is such that it is very desirable to place in public or semi-public hands a number of areas that do not lend themselves to active development, (public or private) but are great assets aesthetically and from the point of view of wild life conservation, hiking, fishing and the like. The above is stated to point out that the land being acquired by the excellent program of the Sudbury Valley Trustees plus what may be acquired by the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources under the Bay Circuit Plan map amount to a great deal more land reserved for recreation, parks and open space than a strict interpretation of any current standards might warrant.

Resources

In addition to having already adopted a dispersed school plan which will be the framework for playground locations, Wayland has a remarkable number of natural resources for recreation, namely:

At water resources such as:
Lake Cochituate;
Dudley Pond;
Heard's Pond;
Baldwin's Pond;
Reserve Reservoir on Rice Road;
Mill Brook;
Various other streams tributary to the Sudbury River.

Topographic characteristics such as hills for trails, skiing, riding, etc.

Swamp areas for reserves and wild life sanctuaries, i.e., the Sudbury marshes and several other areas.

Wooded areas which can still be preserved as forests and wild life preserves.

The program of the Junior Town House, a non-profit organization founded in 1943, has given leadership and impetus to a number of activities and projects of a recreational and educational nature. Every encouragement should be given to this organization to continue to take the responsibility for programs and projects of community participation. Through this group and others more specialized in interest, Wayland has the citizen support needed to have an expanding and varied program of activities, beyond what is actually sponsored or provided by any public program by the Town.

Population

The present population of Wayland is approximately 8500 persons. The ultimate population is estimated to be between 16,000 and 18,000 assuming that some buildable land will remain as open space in private hands and that present zoning requirements as to lot size are maintained. The seven elementary school sites are planned to be spaced in approximate proportion to the density of families. This means that as an average each school site and its playground serves one seventh of the expected population or approximately 2500 persons (using 17,500). The 3 playfields at the high and junior high schools will serve about 6,000 persons each (as a measure in comparison with the standards included in the appendix).

Specific Proposals

1. PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN'S AREAS

In the zoning districts requiring a minimum lot size of 20,000 and 30,000 square feet and where the existing pattern is at least this dense, it is recommended that publicly owned play lots (or privately owned if possible) be provided, each to serve approximately 100 families. Fourteen such lots are proposed, five are on sites now town land (including the Hannah Williams Playground) and nine to be acquired. These are shown on the accompanying recreation plan. In so far as possible, groups of interested families nearby should be encouraged to provide the equipment and supervision. Each site should have sand boxes, a wading pool, a jungle gym or similar devices, swings, slides, seesaws and similar equipment of small scale.

For the less dense areas the town's recreation program should include encouragement of private facilities for the very small children, such to be in private yards equipped and supervised by the neighboring families.

It is recommended that the Town acquire in the immediate future the sites needed for these small lots. There are several instances where a developer of a residential area has been required by the Planning Board to reserve a small parcel for public park use in order to give the Town the opportunity to purchase such. It is recommended that a review of all such reserved areas be made immediately and that the Town acquire them before the period of reservation terminates. One of these pre-school children's lots proposed herein is on such a parcel. A regular system should be developed from Town purchase of small areas in sizeable subdivisions under the recommendation of the Planning Board. Authority is now vested in the Planning Board to require reservation of such parcels for ultimate purchase by the Town.

2. PLAYGROUNDS

It is recommended that the seven elementary school sites be the locations at which facilities are developed for active recreation for the age groups 6-14 years plus some facilities for younger children and for youth and adults. The obvious advantage to this is that the School Department will need the majority of these facilities for their physical education and athletic activities. The use of these areas on a year round basis will not present any serious conflicts in schedule. Provision should be made for toilet facilities, either separate or those of the school. The program already adopted by the Town for elementary schools projects a total of seven sites listed below:

Cochituate School (existing, to be expanded); Happy Hollow School (existing); Loker School (recently completed); Claypit Hill School (recently completed); two schools in the northern part of Wayland for which the sites have been purchased; a school in the vicinity of the intersection of Old Connecticut Path and Rice Road, which site has not been selected.

At each site (school site) the following areas and equipment are recommended:

An area for younger children (up to 8 years) including:

Primarily an apparatus area with space for informal games, to include swings, seesaws, slides and similar equipment.

If the demand develops in any of these playgrounds for use by pre-school children, wading pool, sand boxes and small scale apparatus would be required. The use of the school playground by pre-school children will occur chiefly in Precinct 1 if at all, since separate areas are recommended for most of Precinct 2.

A shelter house or covered area as part of the school would be desirable.

Grassed play areas with space and court layout, etc. for:

Informal games (separate area from the fields).

Field area for such games as softball, soccer, touch football and mass games. (Certain fields and courts can be laid out to overlap or be superimposed, e.g., spring and autumn sports). These should include space for: one Little League baseball field (also for school use); at least two softball diamonds, one of which should have base lines for adult use; one touch football field; one soccer field; two volley ball courts, two badminton courts; one horseshoe area.

Paved area for:

Informal games, particularly for the younger children.

Other formal courts for games as the interest among the older children and the adults warrants such, e.g., handball, shuffleboard, tennis and basketball.

If necessary parts of these paved areas can serve as auxiliary parking.

Lawn area to flood in winter for ice skating.

In some instances: outdoor theatre; picnic area.

In the case of every school except the Cochituate School there are usable areas of 5 to 7 acres for these facilities. This means that for playgrounds there will be about 40 acres for an ultimate population estimated to be 17,000 or 1 acre per 425 persons, which is well above the National Recreation Association standard of 1 acre per 800 persons for playground area.

At the Cochituate School, the Town Playground, containing 4.6 acres, is immediately adjacent. This area now contains a Little League baseball field with lights and stands, a practice softball or baseball field, and an unkept tennis court. The proximity of the site of the proposed junior high school will permit some of the activities for older children to take place there. For this reason any further development of the restricted site at this playground should be oriented toward serving the school's needs and the needs of the younger children up to 12 years of age.

3: PLAYFIELDS

Three playfields, one at each of the junior high schools and at the high school (in accordance with the long range plan of the School Department) are recommended. These will have outdoor athletic facilities for the School Department's program plus facilities designed for use of the youth and adults of the community. The most complete set of facilities is proposed for the new high school site which building is in the planning stage at present.

The following is proposed as the ultimate facilities for the two junior high school sites (one is the present high school in Wayland Center; the other is in Cochituate north of East Plain Street):

Court and Lawn game areas:

At least two tennis courts.

Four volleyball courts (either lawn or paved).

Lawn space for four badminton courts.

Outdoor basketball courts, paved—2 for boys, 2 for girls.

Lawn area for informal games (approximately 1 acre).

Small paved area for miscellaneous games requiring pavement.

Area for flooding for ice skating.

Fields for boys (and adult use):

Two touch football fields with four softball diamonds overlapping.

Space for track (¼ mile) in anticipation of requirements of the school program.

Space for portable stands.

One soccer field which may have softball diamonds superimposed.

One regulation baseball diamond (mostly for adult use).

Fields for girls (and adult use):

One field hockey area.

Four softball diamonds (combined with hockey and soccer).

Archery range.

One soccer field.

Specialized functions as interest develops:

Outdoor theatre.

Picnic and fireplace facilities.

Day camping site.

In the case of the present high school some additional land is needed in order to accommodate all the fields recommended herein. This may be accomplished by filling some of the marsh that is presently a part of the school site. The area south of the present baseball diamond extending close to Pine Brook would if filled make more useable the area at the extreme south of the site. This latter part is above the marsh at present. This would increase the useable area for the school site to 25 or 26 acres.

For the senior high school site on Old Connecticut Path West which has about 60 acres above the marsh land, the following is proposed as the ultimate facilities for town and school use assuming that one senior high school of not more than 1,000 pupils is developed here. The following is recommended:

Court and lawn game areas:

At least four tennis courts.

Six volleyball courts (either lawn or paved)—3 for boys, 3 for girls.

women.

Lawn space for six badminton courts.

Outdoor basketball courts, paved—3 for boys, 3 for girls.

Lawn area for informal games.

Small paved area for miscellaneous games requiring pavement.

Two handball courts.

One or more areas for flooding for ice skating.

Recreation

Fields for boys (and adult use):
One football field with ¼ mile track.

Space for stands.
At least one practice football field with two softball diamonds superimposed.
One soccer field with two additional softball diamonds superimposed.
One regulation baseball diamond with backstop and stands.
One or more additional baseball diamonds superimposed on some of the other spaces required.

Fields for girls (and adult use):
Two separate fields laid out for either field hockey or soccer.
At least four softball diamonds.
Archery range (space for several groups simultaneously).
Specialized features:
Outdoor theatre (reasonably close to school building).
Possibly a band shell.
Picnic and fireplace facilities.
Day Camping sites.

4: USE OF SCHOOL DEPARTMENT BUILDINGS.

The School Department has permitted and encouraged the use of its indoor facilities for athletics, meetings, arts and crafts work, theatre, etc. These facilities have been available upon request provided adequate leadership and supervision is supplied.

The present high school has a regulation size gymnasium which can be subdivided into two practice spaces. All four elementary schools have playrooms (smaller than high school regulation size basketball courts) for athletic activities. These are now being extensively used in the school department's after-school athletic program and by parent groups (primarily at night). Two new schools, one a high school and the other a junior high school will contain gymnasiums or athletic arenas or cages such that indoor sports areas will be available for community use.

The playrooms of the elementary schools will serve the students of that age group (6-14) plus certain adult groups interested in physical exercise but not so concerned with using full size basketball courts. At the elementary schools space and equipment should be provided for adult exercise classes as well as organized games other than basketball. The junior and senior high schools will have indoor basketball courts of full adult regulation dimensions for use of high school groups and younger adults.

When all seven elementary schools and the three secondary schools are completed, there will be indoor athletic facilities to provide a generous community program. The libraries, classrooms, auditoriums and special training rooms should be available for community use for drama groups, arts and craft classes, and meetings of all sorts.

The Town of Wayland, through its recreation staff, should endeavor to give the community the fullest use of the indoor facilities of the school system. This is to say that new activities should be initiated by the recreation staff when possible, without interfering with or discouraging any programs of the private groups such as the Junior Town House.

5. TOWN-WIDE FACILITIES.

It is recommended that certain specific facilities for town-wide use be developed, in addition to those described in the preceeding sections.

a) The first is the acquisition of approximately 4 acres of land at the eastern end of Dudley Pond for future recreational use. The elimination of pollution of Dudley Pond and the improvement of streets and areas contiguous to it will add to the desirability of a recreation area.

b) At the present Town Beach further development of courts for outdoor games such as basketball, volleyball, badminton, horseshoes, etc. is proposed. There is one recently constructed basketball court here now. There is the opportunity for more boating activity by town residents if mooring and docking facilities were provided. This would be partially self-supporting since it could be operated on a fee basis. It is proposed that a small area for pre-school children's use on a year round basis be developed to serve the immediate neighborhood as well as the summertime users of the beach. (This is part of Proposal Number 1.) This area would be partially fenced, contain small scale apparatus and wading pool if necessary to supplement the beach (for use of very young children) and possibly some type of shelter.

c) For skiing, hiking, picnicking and nature study, the acquisition of a hill site in the area between Rice Road and the Weston town line is recommended. The slope that appears most desirable for skiing is wooded at present and would require improvement by removing trees and stumps and doing some grading to make useable some wide trails for skiers of varying skills.

d) The Town of Wayland offers an opportunity to preserve woods roads, bridle paths, hiking trails that may now exist and to establish a network of such to connect the open reserve lands of the Town and of the Sudbury Valley Trustees. It is proposed that a careful survey of the present legal status of the existing trails, woods roads and abandoned roads be made. From this a program of acquisition of easements or actual purchase can be planned. Suggested paths and connections are shown on the accompanying recreation land map.

In addition to this it is strongly recommended that a network of paved sidewalks and paths be established to encourage the walking to and from recreation sites and schools. In light of the fact that most of the active recreation facilities will be at the school sites, these paved walks would serve a dual purpose. This is not to suggest that all children would be able to walk to school, only those within a reasonable distance. Where traffic hazards exist, police assistance should be provided to assist younger children in reaching the school sites. For access to the recreation facilities in after school hours or in the summer, these walks and paths will make it much safer for children bicycling and walking.

In a number of instances the bridle paths and woods roads can also serve as walks to school and recreation facilities. In such instances a width of six feet could be paved, the remainder of the pathway left in sod. As the areas contiguous to these paths are developed for residential use, care should be exercised by the Planning Board to preserve thep aths. In establishing these trails, etc. it is important to anticipate the subdivision of parcels where such is to be expected.

Sidewalks generally along only one side of existing streets should be constructed by the Town in instances where school and recreation sites require connections to residential areas. These sidewalks need not follow the grades of the streets nor is it necessary to remain within the present right of way of the streets where an easement or actual pathway can be acquired elsewhere. In new subdivisions, it is recommended that consideration be given to reserving pathways for Town purchase to serve the purposes outlined herein. In addition, where appropriate, sidewalks should be required generally on one side only of the new ways.

It is recommended that this be given high priority by planning and beginning a program of acquisition of rights of way and easements.

6. PRESERVATION OF OPEN SPACES.

There are two programs directed toward the conservation of open space in Wayland, that is, in addition to any efforts of the Town itself. One is the program of the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., a group with which most Wayland residents are familiar, formed in 1953 to acquire or at least assure for preservation much of the wooded and marsh areas in the Sudbury Valley watershed. Its activities have been chiefly in Wayland to this date. By gift and purchase this group has acquired considerable acreage of marsh and wooded land, well distributed throughout the Town, including land north of the Standby Reservoir near Rice Road, an area in the Upper Mill Brook basin, areas in the Sudbury marshes along the river, land south of Sherman's Bridge Road and one parcel in the Wash Brook basin north of Heard's Pond. This group is now raising funds for the purchase of two tracts, one in the Wash Brook basin, the other at the southern end of Heard's Pond.

The Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources is authorized to make plans for and to procure (title, easements etc. by gift and by purchase when funds are available) a continuous crescent of open land encircling the Metropolitan Area of Boston. This is called the Bay Circuit, plans for which were first proposed about 30 years ago. The Sudbury Valley is a link in this "circuit" with much of the marsh land included in the preliminary determination of the land desired as open area. The intent is such that no conflict of interest need arise between the Department of Natural Resources and private groups holding land for preservation in its natural state. To date no land has been acquired by the State under this program.

A program of purchase by the Town of wooded lowlands and open marshlands in the Sudbury Valley watershed is recommended for action in the near future to supplement the program of the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc. It is vital to preserve these lowlands which now are obtainable at moderate cost but which will not remain so as development of the metropolitan area continues for another decade. These marshlands are unique in providing habitat for a large quantity and a wide variety of birds. The marshlands, particularly the areas around Heard's Pond, are the most important and unique recreational asset of the Sudbury Valley. The preservation of the natural habitat is considered to be the most critical factor in determining the continued survival of wild bird life.

Until such time as the State Legislature appropriates funds for the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources to procure land (by eminent domain) for the Bay Circuit, the entire responsibility rests with the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., which group is making strenuous efforts to interest donors in giving land and to raise money for purchase. The time element is so critical, that assistance is needed from the Town of Wayland if the objectives discussed herein are to be achieved. Close liaison by the Park Department, its Advisory Committee and the Planning Board with the Sudbury Valley Trustees and with the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources is urged in order to make the most of opportunities to acquire land which should be preserved as natural areas.

The Town appointed committee (Annual Town Meeting 1953) requested to report on recreation sites, recommended among other things, that certain forested areas of low lying land be preserved as reservations. This committee in its final report in 1957 cited five areas listed below:

"1. The low-lying forest and marshlands surrounding the brook between Oxbow Road on the west and Red Barn Road on the east.
2. The low land surrounding the upper reaches of the Mill Brook lying generally north of Claypit Hill Road, west of Concord Road, and south of Glezen Lane, being attractive forest and low land including about four acres of cranberry bog and a two-acre pond.
3. Land surrounding Pine Brook lying generally east of Cochituate Road, south of State Road east, west of Pine Brook Road, and north of the Aqueduct, being attractively forested low land through which flows a substantial stream.
4. Land north of the auxiliary Reservoir at Rice Road, lying generally west of Rice Road and south of Mainstone Farm.
5. The low forest land lying between Heard's Pond and the Sudbury River."

(The Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., have already acquired some land in areas numbers 2 and 4, and are raising funds for the purchase of areas adjacent to Heard's Pond although not the specific parts suggested in item 5 of this list of recommendations). This committee report is cited to reinforce the evidence that there is strong town interest in preserving these areas.

7. FUNDS FOR RECREATION

The national Recreation Association recommends as a standard that communities spend about $3.50 per capita for recreation. Of this amount, one third is suggested for program leadership, two thirds for maintenance and operation of facilities.

The Town of Wayland, outside of its School Department, spends very little for what might be classed as program leadership. About 40 cents per capita is spent for supervision of facilities, chiefly at the Town Beach for life guards and matron. Although it is most desirable for organizations like the Junior Town House, the Red Cross, and special committees and groups to provide program direction and instruction, there is need for a town program to encourage the use of the facilities that are now and will be usable for recreation. Recreational programs other than active athletics need to be encouraged and developed for which a town program is needed. Private groups can be counted upon to assist these programs but not to take the sole responsibility for organizing and providing instruction and leadership.

It is proposed that the Town of Wayland increase the funds voted to the Park Department specifically for recreation leadership to approximately $1.15 per capita, gradually over a four year period, 1959 to 1962. This will mean about $11,000 or $12,000 by 1962.

Wayland does not operate under a typical situation in regard to maintenance and operation expenses since the Park Department maintains the outdoor areas of all town owned property including the public schools. This makes comparison to standards inapplicable. In any case the development of the active recreation facilities proposed herein, will necessitate greater expenditures for maintenance and operation. At present, the Park Department spends about $2.20 per capita, for maintenance and operation.

8. RESPONSIBILITY FOR RECREATION.

Since this report is recommending a further development of recreation facilities and programs, it is proposed that a five-member Recreation Advisory Committee to the Park Department be appointed immediately to work with the Park Commissioners, the Planning Board and other official and private groups to make plans for a recreation program of increased scope. It is further recommended that by 1962 the Park Department be changed to a Park and Recreation Department with five Commissioners rather than three as at present, in conformity with Chapter 45 of the Massachusetts General Laws). The advisability of continuing the Recreation Advisory Committee should be determined after the expansion of the program is well advanced and the Park Department expanded as proposed.

9. STAFF.

It is proposed that the Park Department employ by 1959 or 1960 a recreation director on a part-time basis if a qualified person can be found, willing to serve on this basis. The National Recreation Association is able to assist in finding people experienced in recreation leadership. By 1962 it is recommended that the director be employed on a full-time basis. The remainder of the staff for program direction should be on a part-time basis, relying on private groups such as the Junior Town House for assistance.

10. ACQUISITION AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM.

An acquisition and development program is needed to provide the recommended land and facilities at a rate to keep pace with the growth of population. It is proposed that land acquisition be given priority in order to insure that it will not be used for other purposes.

A suggested schedule for the first four years is as follows:

a) Acquire and promote the development of the pre-school children's areas proposed herein. In some instances these are reserved areas in recent subdivisions awaiting town purchase or reversion to private use. In some instances the play areas are proposed on land already owned by the Town. In nine cases, acquisition from private owners is necessary.

b) Develop with the facilities recommended the following school sites (some already partially developed):

1) The present high school site (needs more area for developed play fields)
2) Happy Hollow School
3) Claypit Hill School
4) Loker School
5) Begin the grading, loaming and grassing of the play areas at the junior high school site and at least one of the two elementary school sites in the northern part of Wayland.
6) At least 5 tennis courts (including the reconditioning of the two now not used).

c) Acquire the following parcels:

1) The wooded hill for skiing, hiking, etc. between the Weston town line and Rice Road.
2) The seventh elementary school site, also in the Rice Road area.

d) Develop plans for acquisition of the site at the east end of Dudley Pond after study has been given by the Planning Board to the possibilities of redeveloping for residential use the area surrounding this site.

e) Present requests to the Town for funds to purchase areas of marshland and wooded lowlands in cooperation with the Planning Board and the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc.

Discussion of Specific Aspects of the Recreation Proposals

A. TENNIS.

The ratio of public tennis courts to population proposed by the National Recreation Association is one court for each 2000 persons. On this basis Wayland would require 5 courts at present and about 9 ultimately. If public interest warrants it, more than these are justified. This report has recommended that four courts (only two counted for community use) be constructed at the high school, two at each of the junior high schools and the remainder of the number to reach this ratio be built at the elementary schools, particularly those more remote from the high or junior high school sites (for better distribution). This is not to say that tennis courts are not justified for use of the older elementary pupils; only to say that the students at the junior and high schools will make more use of them. The rehabilitation of the two courts, one in Cochituate and one in Wayland Center, is proposed as an early step.

B. HUNTING.

The Sudbury marshes and the Heard's Pond area are one of the most important habitats for birds in eastern Massachusetts. In light of the present day recognition that the preservation of the habitat is the all important factor in conserving wild life, it seems entirely feasible to permit hunting in the marshlands and underdeveloped areas of the Town under conditions which insure safety. Hunting in close proximity to developed areas is obviously undesirable, as is the overuse of the remaining areas. A plan is needed which

a) protects these areas against encroachment by development.

b) creates buffer areas to protect built-up residential areas against the dangers of hunting.

c) controls the number of hunters by issuing permits each season and by providing adequate policing.

C. FISHING

Although fishing is now an important form of recreation in town, it could be made more effective and more permanent under policies that encouraged State stocking of ponds and streams, limited the use of areas and, again, insured against pollution or encroachment by development.

D. USE OF THE SUDBURY RIVER.

The river is potentially a great asset to the region as a canoeing stream, particularly if the awakening interest in preserving the river results in conserving the remaining wilderness areas in Sudbury and Concord River valleys. Ultimately, after pollution is eliminated, the river can provide swimming and bathing opportunities. Fishing and boating can be expanded. This valley is important as a regional asset for recreation, and should be conserved for public use under policies that prevent destruction of the natural beauty by overuse and abuse.

Letters to the EDITOR

Anti-Fluoridation

To th Editor:

Article 18 in Wayland's Warrant for Annual Town Meeting proposes fluoridation of the water supply.

There appears to be only one reason to favor fluoridation; namely a probable reduction in dental decay among children.

On the contrary, there are strong reasons against fluoridation:

(1) Any town or city is responsible for providing all its citizens with safe water. Artificially fluoridated water has never been proved safe.

(2) Authenticated cases of illness and death caused by fluoridated water are on record. Courts today are full of damage suits from this cause.

(3) Sodium fluoride, the chemical used in artificial fluoridation, is a known cumulative poison which builds up not only in teeth but in bones, glands and organs. To administer a known poison to an entire population regardless of age, health, and individual susceptibility is rank folly. Arthur C. Ford, Commissioner of Water in New York City, said in his report on his Department's position on fluoridation: "No satisfactory reason has ever been advanced to show why everyone in a community must be compelled to risk life-long extraordinary exposure to the toxic action of fluorides, particularly when safer, more effective and more economical ways of administering fluorides for caries reduction in children's teeth have been pointed out and are available."

(4) Maintenance of a uniform concentration of fluorides throughout a water system is impossible. Up hill, down grade, angles in pipes, dead end streets, varying pressure, all affect water circulation. My house is the last on a dead end street. Concentration of iron rust in the sluggish circulation at this point is so great that at the cost of $62. I had to install a special filter where town water enters my home. What concentration of fluorides would occur there? Use of fluoridated water for drinking or cooking at my location is a risk I would not take. And mine is far from being the only dead end street in our town.

If fluoridation is unquestionably beneficial as claimed by its proponents, why have some 850 towns and cities in the United States rejected it and 95 more discontinued it after a trial run? Why in our own Massachusetts have only 23 cities and towns adopted it while at least 26 others have rejected it and 3 more tried and discontinued it? Why have over 1000 prominent doctors, dentists, and scientists formed a national organization, the Medical-Dental ad hoc Committee on the Evaluation of Fluoridation for the purpose of educating the public on the inherent dangers in fluoridation?

To impose mass consumption of fluorides on Wayland is not only dangerous but quite unnecessary. Those who wish to risk their use have only to prepare their own. At slight cost at a drugstore they can buy tablets, drop one in a quart of water or milk, and obtain the exact proposed ratio of 1ppm of fluoride. In this way, and this way only, can they be sure of the advocated concentration. But it would be far safer for Wayland's children, if their parents would concentrate on feeding an abundance of fresh milk, whole grain breads and cereals, fresh fruits and vegetables, eggs, cheese, fish, and meat. They should limit sweets and personally oversee ragular and thorough attention to teeth at home and under a dentist's eye. Children so cared for will develop and keep naturally strong teeth, and their health will not be endangered in later years by a build-up in their bodies of poisonous fluorides.

Sincerely,
Mabel C. Russell
(Mrs. Howard S. Russell).

Fluoridation Note

WAYLAND — Apropos of fluoridation, Robert L. Boyles of 46 Pequot Road sends this quotation from Consumer Bulletin of October, 1957:

"Table salt can now be fluoridated by adding sodium monofluorophosphate. According to Dr. Gunnar Santesson of Stockholm, the fluorine compound is readily absorbed, is highly stable, and is one third as toxic as sodium fluoride. The cost of adding fluoride to salt is small compared with that of fluoridating drinking water, and Dr. Santesson points out that it makes fluoride intake a matter of personal choice. Fluoridated salt containing sodium fluoride is already in use in some sections of Switzerland."

WAYLAND — A group called the Wayland-Cochituate Citizens Committee held an anti-fluoridation meeting on Feb. 22, it reports, and says it finds "many strong arguments" against adding fluorides to the water.

Fluoridation Vote

To the Editor:

In the Town Crier of Feb. 20 it is stated that the issue of fluoridization "was raised a year ago" at Town Meeting "but did not come to a vote."

May I point out that on page 48 of the printed report of the 1957 Annual Town Meeting on a motion "that no action be taken under this article" (on fluoridization), "a counted vote was taken": "Yes 245, No 164".

Yours respectfully,
Howard S. Russell

Winter view of Heard's Pond, from near the Walker tract which the Trustees wish to buy. The bundled up figure with outstretched arm is George K. Lewis.

WAYLAND — The Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc., an organization formed in 1953 to preserve marsh and wilderness areas in Town, have now acquired by gift and purchase several hundred acres of wild land and, their January report says, are seeking $12,500 with which to buy 150 more acres around Heard's Pond.

One of these tracts, the so-called Sears tract, is on the north end of the pond and includes 2000 feet of shore line and some dry hardwood land, besides a good deal of swamp.

The othr called the Walker tract, is on the southwest edge of the pond. Here, atop a steep bluff, is where the Indians used to have a village. Many archeological finds have been made here. Here are also some fine beech trees. The approach to this land is from Stockfarm Road, in Sudbury.

Donations are deductible for income tax purposes.

Officers of the Trustees are Henry M. Parker, president; George K. Lewis, treasurer, and Allen E. Morgan, secretary. Directors are Gordon Osborne, Nathaniel P. Hamlen, Richard Stackpole and Roger P. Stokey.

Twenty major displays of missiles, most interesting to those of a scientific turn, are on display this week at M.I.T., in the main lobby off Massachusetts Avenue.

Mlle. de Wendel Of Rombas Visits Weston

WESTON — On the afternoon of Feb. 4, Mademoiselle Segolene de Wendel, member of the prominent French family of steel magnates in the Moselle region of France around Weston's affiliated town of Rombas came to pay her respects to the Weston-Rombas Affiliation Committee and to Mr. Fiske, its Honorary Chairman, with whom she had long been in communication since the earliest days of the Affiliation.

In those days, shortly after the war, the schools, town organizations and the people of Weston contributed materially and liberally to the relief of the destitute people of Rombas, not completely recovered from the effects of the war, by sending numerous parcels of food, clothing and materials for distribution to the needy, through various social service groups in the town.

Among them were several established and maintained by Mlle. de Wendel and by an association of public spirited citizens in the Moselle region. Her chief works then of a charitable nature, were "Foyers Des Vieux", centers for social gatherings of elderly people and for providing them with adequate warmth and hot food, "Ecoles Menageres", providing training in home-making and domestic science for young girls not going to the University, and Summer camps for the young to restore and maintain their normal health.

During the latter part of the war, after having fled from her estate in Hayange, near Rombas, she was imprisoned for a year and a half in Lyon, for having worked with the underground. Since the war she has continued and expanded the same good works as before, and has recently been assigned by the French Government the task of providing for the needs of 3,000 Hungarian refugees in France. Notwithstanding the short notice as to her visit, it was possible to assemble to greet her and her two gentlemen escorts for tea at Mrs. Fiske's house, Mr. Walter H. Trumbull, who with Mrs. Trumbull and their daughter had visited her at her Chateau in Hayange, in July, 1951, Mrs. Bonner, Chairman of the Affiliation Committee, Mrs. Crawford and "Tad", whom Mlle. de Wendel had met at his reception in Rombas in December, 1956, and Marcel Megel, this year's scholarship student here.

Present Wayland High School Would Be In Flood Plain District

WAYLAND—Flood plain zoning is new in Massachusetts, and Wayland is thinking of adopting it. Made possible by an enabling act passed by the Legislature in in 1954, it would put about one-seventh of Wayland's total area in a flood plain district, with special restrictions as to what can be built on such land for human occupancy.

Specifically, all land having an elevation at mean sea level of less than 124 feet will be affected if this new section is added to Wayland's zoning by-laws. Under it, anyone "desiring a permit to erect or place a building intended for human occupancy within the Flood Plain District" will have to submit an application to the Building Inspector, who will have to transmit it to the Board of Appeals. Certain conditions as set forth in the new by-law will have to be met before the Board can issue a permit to build.

Members of the Planning Board explained that legislation such as this is overdue. There is nothing at present to prevent prospective buyers who do not know about the flood problem from purchasing houses built on land that might be under water at the time of a flood such as those which occurred in 1886, 1896, 1936, 1938 and 1955, when the lowlands were covered by from seven to nine feet of water.

The present High School will be in the Flood Plain District. The new high school site is not. The new Town Office Building itself is not — it has an elevation of 133 feet above sea level — but the land at the side of it is. Pelham Island will be an island completely surrounded by the flood plain district.

Wilson-Ward

WAYLAND — Miss Alice Gail Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Ward of 285 Main Street, Cochituate, was married on Jan. 25 at Fisk Memorial Methodist Church, Natick, to Clive Jack Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson of Chicago.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William J. Ogle, who was assisted by Rev. Howard P. Kellett, Vicar of the Old North Church, Boston.

Miss Beverly Ward was her sister's maid of honor. More than 200 guests attended the reception.

Mr. Wilson is a graduate of Illinois Institute of Technology in Metallurgical Engineering. Mrs. Wilson was graduated from Natick High School and Katherine Gibbs School, Boston. She is a past worthy advisor of Natick Assembly 28, Order of Rainbow Girls.

Weston Hearings

WESTON—The Selectmen are holding hearings on Saturday, March 1, to consider changing several private ways to public ways. The roads in question are Cahill Drive, Spruce Hill Road, Drabbington Way, part of Radcliffe Road and Spring Road.

Notices are being sent to all landowners concerned.

Town Meeting

The new school areas will be further back from Wellesley Street than was at first planned.

This new school will be of 12 rooms at first, capable of expansion to 20 rooms. Provided the projected new senior high school is built in the meantime, this expansion would not be necessary until 1966 or 1967, the Committee thinks. Again provided this new school can be made ready by 1959, and again provided the new High School is built soon, the pressure should be off for a time.

The Committee has prepared and is mailing out a handsome brochure, which should be in the hands of all residents by this time. It explains the whole situation more fully than can be done here.

The Committee has also called a public hearing at the Town Hall for 8 p.m. Monday, March 3, at which the whole business will be explained and discussed.

A second elementary school site has been marked out, also on the Arboretum land, but only because there had to be two locations. The second school is said to be far in the future.

The report says the Committee does not recommend building an auditorium with the first unit, but that the School Committee does want one.

Red Cross Service

This is a renewed service and done on an entirely volunteer basis.

---

WAYLAND — The clothing exchange and food sale sponsored by the Dudley Pond Improvement Association will be held Thursday, Feb. 27, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the club house on Old Connecticut Path, Cochituate.

---

WAYLAND — Dr. and Mrs. E. Perry Truesdell of Framingham and Cochituate will be among those attending the 36th annual congress of the New England Coucil of Optometrists at the Hotel Statler, Boston, from March 2 through March 5.

---

Th next meeting of the South Middlesex Association for Retarded Children, Inc. will take place Monday, March 3, in the Natick Federal Savings Auditorium at 8 p.m. Speakers for the evening will be Mrs. Catherine Best and Miss Anne Sherry, both Natick Special Class Teachers. Their topic will be "Our Children in Special Classes".

Town Building

were speeches and ceremonies galore. This 1958 ceremony was streamlined, with a minimum of speechmaking. Lieut. William Grady of the State Police brought greetings from Otis F. Whitney, Commissioner of Public Safety.

Among those present was Mrs. Edmund H. Sears, whose late husband was one of a small group which presented the land on which the building stands to the Town, many years ago, for this very purpose.

Rep. James DeNormandie was there, as was Mr. Austin S. Hale of Weston.

Visitors were much impressed by the building, and particularly by the fact that it's all paid for. "Only thing in Town that is," said one citizen. Its cost was somewhere around $360,000, and it's the newest thing of its kind in Massachusetts. It houses not only the Town Departments, but also Police and Fire Departments and Civil Defense.

Members of the building committee were Robert M. Morgan, John R. McEnroy, Francis Hartin, Frederick Perry Jr., William Hulbert, Herbert R. Fallgren and Norman E. Taylor. Former members of the committee were John W. Leavitt, Richard Burchill and F. Clifton Haynes.

The Framingham Concert Band played during the afternoon and big bunches of flowers appeared. It was bad weather for a civic occasion, but better than on the previous Sunday, when it was first scheduled. Then it had to be postponed on account of heavy snow.

The building was built by the N. D. C. Construction Company, of which James N. Cazanas of Wayland is president. The planting and landscaping will be completed in the Spring.

WAYLAND—The Wayland Council of Parent-Teachers Associations is sponsoring a public meeting at the Cochituate Elementary School on Friday, Feb. 28, at 8 p. m. The School Committee will be present to interpret and discuss the school budget for 1958.

A coffee hour will follow the meeting, with further opportunity to talk with School Committee members John Arnold, Eleanor Benjamin, John Butler, Douglas Surgenor and William Waldron, and with School Superintendent Edward Anderson.

Charles H. Carter, Oldest Man In Town, Has 98th Birthday

WAYLAND — Cochituate's "Grand Old Man", Charles H. Carter of West Plain Street, celebrated his 98th birthday on Feb. 18 with visits from old friends and a large cake that bore the date "1860". That is the year when Mr. Carter was born, in the house on Main Street now occupied by the Carbonneau family.

His mother was Elizabeth J. Dudley. Much of the land around Dudley Pond was given to her forbears by a colonial grant from an English king. Through his mother, Mr. Carter is a descendant of Captain Joseph Winch of Framingham and Revolutionary War fame.

Mr. Carter attended Wayland schools and recalls walking daily from his home down to the Lokerville District School, located on the triangle of land now maintained as a park by the Town at the intersection of School Street, East Plain Street and Commonwealth Road East.

He remembers many things that happened in this locality, and used to wheel his baby daughter out in her carriage to watch Mansion Inn being built. Several years ago, while the Inn was still standing, his birthday celebration was held there, and he was awarded the Boston Post cane. Mr. Carter has one son, 74, who lives in New Hampshire, and his granddaughter, Miss Marian Pond, with whom he lives at 46 West Plain Street.

One of the gifts which he received this year, which he particularly likes, is a replica of Bunker Hill monument, made of wood by an old crony of his. Set in the base are three bright new pennies; marching up the side of the monument are nine dimes and a nickel (95) making 98 cents, and the whole is topped by a miniature American flag.

WAYLAND—Pembroke College in Brown University announces that Mary J. Fabisak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Fabisak of 10 Bennett Road, has recently been named to the Dean's List for her high scholastic standing. A graduate of Wayland High School, she is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1960. She is active in the Brown Ski Club and the Yacht Club.

50 Years In Wayside Inn Chapter

WAYLAND — A pin in recognition of 50 years of membership in Wayside Inn Chapter, D.A.R., was presented to Mrs. John J. Erwin of Pelham Island Road on Saturday afternoon, March 1, by Mrs. George W. Shepard, regent, and Mrs. Herbert H. Dicks, vice regent. Mrs. Erwin joined the Chapter on March 11, 1908. Such a long continuous membership in one Chapter is said to be most unusual.

Anybody Seen Pedro?

WESTON — Mrs. Claude Forkner Jr. of 92 Ash Street asks help in locating Pedro, reddish brown cocker spaniel belonging to her husband's parents, who disappeared from her home on Feb. 3.

Mrs. Forkner Sr. was staying at her son's home while Mrs. Forkner Jr. was having a baby. The elder Forkners live in Darien, Connecticut. They brought Pedro with them, and he was a dog in a strange place. He just went out and failed to return.

To make matters worse, Pedro was licensed in Darien, but the day before he was brought to Weston the tag fell off. He still wears a collar. He has an intermittent tic in his shoulder, the result of an automobile accident. He is affectionate and a great lover of children.

Mrs. Forkner Jr. has advertised, notified the police and done everything else she could think of. She thinks it possible that Pedro has just attached himself to some household, members of which would have no way of knowing where he belongs. Mrs. Forkner offers a reward, expenses, anything to get Pedro back.

Weston Red Cross Brief

The first week in March has been designated by the Red Cross as "Salute To Youth" week. This is in recognition of the tremendous amount of work which members of the Junior Red Cross perform.

Settlement Of School Land Issue Announced

WESTON—Selectman Richard H. Field announced on March 3, at a hearing on the proposal to have the Town building a $754,000 elementary school on the Arboretum land, that the Selectmen have reached a verbal agreement with the Arboretum to buy a 25-acre tract for $35,000.

Previously, the Town had voted to buy 55 acres for $60,000. The Arboretum didn't want to sell any land at any price, but was faced with the prospect of having the Town take it anyway. So, said Mr. Field, the Selectmen thought it was a good job to have the matter settled without going to court. The Town thus gets the land needed for two schools for $25,000 less than the original appropriation for land.

Through some mathematical mixup, it was previously announced that the tract involved contains 32 acres. The figuring now is that it contains 25 acres, an area said to be ample for the purpose.

John G. Brooks 2d, chairman of the School Committee, said the Committee had decided that double sessions for the 4th, 5th and 6th grades, next year, would be the "least awful" way to solve the overcrowding problem, and that this solution will be submitted to the Town shortly.

James S. Turner, chairman of the Elementary School Building Committee, presided. The Special Town Meeting on the school issue will be held March 10.

Dr. Freymann Elected In A Close Contest

WAYLAND—Dr. John Gordon Freymann won a position on the Board of Health over Clinton W. Lee by a narrow margin, 713 to 702, in the Town election held March 3.

The vote was light, as there were only three contests.

For Road Commissioner, Robert M. Carson had 868 votes to 566 for John Simoni. For Planning Board, Gordon E. Gott won with 634 votes to 397 for Edward C. Mendler Jr. and 339 for Hollis E. Polk.

The referendum to permit the Town to insure Town employees on a group basis carried, 748 yes to 282 no.

Wayland In Tech Final For 3d Straight Year

WAYLAND—Wayland entered the Tech Tournament finals for the third year in succession by defeating a speedy Marshfield team, 54-43. The team will meet Hanover High Friday at 3 p.m. for the championship.

Hanover edged East Bridgewater. If this had been reversed Wayland would be meeting a Bridgewater team for the third time. Last year Wayland beat West Bridgewater to win the crown. The year before it lost to Bridgewater in the finals.

It was a thrill-packed game all the way. At the end of the first period the score was tied 12-12, as both teams appeared tense and missed many scoring chances. Marshfield pulled away to lead 29-23 at half time.

In the third period, Wayland closed the gap and trailed 34-36. Ed Marsh tied the score and George Bradley drove the length of the court to break the tie, and Wayland was in full command from then on.

With 3 minutes to play, leading 46-40, Wayland put on the "freeze". Trying for the ball Marshfield began fouling and Gerry Whelchel sank 7 straight from the foul line to put the game on ice.

Wayland was forced to play without Bob Regan, top rebounder, who is bed-ridden with the flu. Sophomore Eddie Marsh more than took up the slack as he completely dominated both back-

Noted Caller Will Be At WCL Square Dance

WESTON—Ralph Page, above, is a celebrated caller who will be at the Women's Community League square dance at the Cambridge School in Weston on Friday, March 7, from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Among Weston people who plan to attend are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. L. Sterling McKitterick Jr., Mr. and Mrs. G. Carey Matthiessen, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McNerney, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Blacklow, Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Gruener, Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Weston Blake and Mr. and Mrs. Mario Castillo.

All must wear sneakers. Tickets at the door.

Town Clerk's Hours

WAYLAND—Leila Sears, Town Clerk, announces a revised list of office hours: Monday, 8-9 p.m.; Tuesday and Friday, 9:30 a.m.-1 p.m., and Wednesday and Thursday, 2-5 p.m.

Historic Burgoyne Elm, Still Sound, Gets Annual Treatment

Burgoyne Elm, right center, has been spreading its branches over the Boston Post Road for three centuries. Picture, made after February snowstorm, looks towards Weston Center.

WESTON — Some preventive work has been done recently on the historic Burgoyne Elm on the Boston Post Road, near the intersection of Concord Road, says Tree Warden John L. Duffy, but the old tree seems to be in pretty good shape and should live a long while yet.

Just for a guess, Mr. Duffy says it's 300 years old. It was tall enough to be noted in 1777, when Gen. John Burgoyne's beaten army was marched down across Massachusetts to prison quarters at Somerville. The tattered British and Hessians, the records say, camped under the tree for one night.

Each year, says Mr. Duffy, the tree is trimmed of all dead wood, to keep the meetles out. Then it is sprayed and fertilized. It is checked regularly for the disease, but it hasn't caught it yet.

Although it hasn't had much advertising, this is one of the most interesting historic trees in Massachusetts. Burgoyne's army was marched down Old Connecticut Path and then the Boston Post Road, and this elm is one of the few remaining natural landmarks remaining on this ancient route from the West.

While the Burgoyne Elm is big, four to five feet in diameter, Mr. Duffy says an even bigger one on Glen Road, six feet in diameter, had to be removed this year because it was diseased.

FOOD TESTIMONIAL

WAYLAND — From the bulletin of the Kiwanis Club of Wayland:

"Newly-elected quartermaster Tony Bova provided Wayland Kiwanis with the best meal of the year, roast duckling, with a terific ice cream dessert. Tony has definitely proved he has the stuff to get us fine food. We'll be expecting similar and even better menus from now on."

Letters to the EDITOR

Nacochwa Volunteer?

To the Editor:

Did you know that the Natick Girl Scout Council owns a beautiful camp site and camp building on Lake Cochituate? Camp Nacochwa is a day camp and it operates over a period of four weeks in July. It gives nearly 400 girls from Natick, Cochituate and Wayland a happy camping experience.

The camp includes a water front program with qualified Red Cross instructors. The girls are grouped according to swimming ability and progress individually.

The campers are arranged in small groups according to age level. Each group is under qualified adult supervision according to the size of the group.

Other phases of programs covered are: sports and games, songs, arts and crafts, dramatics, outdoor camping skills and nature study. Cookouts are held weekly.

In order to service such a large number of girls, it is necessary to have a good many volunteer adults planning for and working with the girls. It is a most gratifying type of work as it offers so many benefits to Girl Scouts of all ages.

Do any of these activities interest you? 1. Counselor with Brownies, Intermediates or Seniors? 2. Sports? 3. Teaching songs? 4. Outdoor crafts? 5. Nature? 6. As a substitute counselor? 7. Helping with children of volunteer workers? 8. Staying a night or two at the camp?

It is not necessary to be a registered Girl scout in order to work at camp so if you know of someone else who is interested do give us her name.

Camp runs in two-week sessions for four weeks each week on the following dates: July 8 through the 11th, July 15 through 18, July 22 through 25, and July 29 through Aug. 1 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Some volunteer one or two days, others can give two or four-week service.

It is with your help that we are able to offer our girls such a wonderful camping experience at such a reasonable fee.

How much time can you give? Call me at OL 3-7628 if you are interested.

Cynthia Hill
Day Camp Chairman

Zoning Board Hearing

WAYLAND — The Zoning Board of Appeals of Wayland took under consideration at a recent hearing the petition of the Stein, Inc., of Main Street, Cochituate, to remodel and enlarge the building there.

Brandon Delaney showed his plans and architect's drawings of an L-shaped building, with wooden exterior, which he would like to build on this site. The new building would have a seating capacity of above 80 persons, with room at the bar for 20 more. Plans call for a cathedral-type ceiling with decorative beams, and a radiant-heated floor.

Sitting for the Board of Appeals were Frank Smith, Kimball Powning and Roger Ela. Notice of the Board's decision will be mailed out to abuttors and the owner.

Flower Show Exhibit Being Prepared By Weston Garden Clubs

WESTON — The Country Garden Club of Weston and The Weston Garden Club are working together on one of the 13 gardens in front of a community museum in The Garden Clubs' Exhibition Area Women's Exhibition Committee in the 1958 Massachusetts Horticultural Society Spring Flower Show, March 9-15.

Mrs. Charles Ford and Mrs. Donald Wyman are co-chairmen and on the committee are Mrs. John W. Ayer, Mrs. J. Manton Bradley, Mrs. James T. Mountz, Mrs. Lovett Morse and Mrs. John G. Wright from the Weston Garden Club and Mrs. Robert E. Marsh, Mrs. Lewis W. Mustard III, Mrs. John R. Perry, Mrs. Ransom Rowe and Mrs. Sheldon C. Sommers from the Country Garden Club of Weston.

The title of the project is Modern Motion. Endeavoring to surround a creative art form that challenges sight and touch, nature's own produces the third sense — smell. Altogether they beg for appreciation and enjoyment stimulated by contemplation or participation of the whole family. The lines of the pine trees, the color of the azaleas and the texture of the cherry laurel complement Mr. Alexander Caulder's mobile spherical triangle.

Other workers from both clubs are Mrs. Charles H. Abbott, Mrs. Karl Adams, Mrs. Richard P. Berry, Mrs. Stephen E. Bissett, Mrs. David Blaney, Mrs. George E. Bottjer, Mrs. Horace W. Cole, Mrs. Harry C. Crawford Jr., Mrs. Erlund Field, Mrs. Howard M. Forbes, Mrs. John F. Graham, Mrs. Chester H. Graves, Mrs. Richard Howard, Mrs. Edward B. Hubbard, Mrs. Donald M. King, Mrs. Howard J. Morrison, Mrs. Jasper W. Nicolls, Jr., Mrs. Albert L. O'Connell, Mrs. Roland H. Schuerhoff, Mrs. Thomas J. Scott, Mrs. Albert R. Speare, Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. Robert E. Sullivan, Mrs. Albert W. Tompkins, Jr., Mrs. Robert A. Townsend, Mrs. William T. Van Huysen, Mrs. Reginald Wells and Mrs. Henry E. Wile.

Sincere thanks and appreciation go to all the other Weston people who are helping. The Arnold Arboretum in Weston has been invaluable as a means of selecting plants, and their generous co-operation has been a great aid to the success of the project. Mrs. Stanley G. French has given the sandstone. Mr. Charles Precourt is doing the structural stone work and Mr. Richard Robinson of Massachusetts Broken Stone Co. is supplying the gravel.

Town Meeting Explained At LWV Affairs Night

WESTON — A well-rounded picture of Weston's Town Meeting form of government was presented by three Town officials on Feb. 27 at the League of Women Voters Town Affairs Night.

Mrs. Joseph A. Markell

Grant Palmer, Town Council and Library Trustee, made a number of interesting comparisons between today's town meetings and those of many years ago. In the old days, Mr. Palmer related, only men attended, and they arrived in horse-drawn vehicles of many types from farm wagons to elegant phaetons. The air was blue with smoke, and the speeches were apt to be louder and more colorful than today.

Francis Goodale, present Town Moderator, described the town meeting as democracy in its purest form, dating back to the days of Athens. He explained how a town meeting functions and the necessity for a moderator to keep it functioning smoothly. Both Mr. Palmer and Mr. Goodale stressed that all citizens should take an active interest in their town government and not feel that it is all "rigged" ahead of time.

Ward Carter, Executive Secretary of Weston, defined his functions, and how the need for such a job has evolved from the increasing load of work on unpaid town officials. He told those attending the meeting in the Upper Town Hall that he felt the presence of an Executive Secretary in the Town had served as an unifying force where all citizens could come for advice or help in Town matters.

During the second half of the

Francis G. Goodale

meeting many of the candidates for Town office were introduced and spoke briefly. Dr. William Elliston, one of the candidates for the contested two-year term for the Planning Board, described himself as a "Weston country-type town" candidate who was interested in the green belt idea.

Janus, Vokes Comedy, Will Open On March 7

Also in the cast are Paul Moorhead, Midge Robinson and Dick Eckler, all of Wayland, and Phillip Bassett of Weston. Director is Warren Eriksen of Wayland, assisted by Barbara Barrett of Wayland.

Production manager is Lee Covington, assisted by Alan Barker, Whitman Hall and Earl Bourne. Others working backstage are Wally Dermond, set painting; Frank Stites and Homer MacDonald, electricians; Nancy Stedfast, prompter; Kemp Reade and Bill Bertelsen, stage managers; Joan Havener and Carol Stites, makeup; Proxy Smith and Ginny Hyland, stage props; Mae Eckler, Milly Eckler and Mary Williams, hand props, and Alice Belles, Marion Hall and Liz Fisher, wardrobe.

"Janus" dates are March 7 and 8 and March 14 and 15.

Loker PTA, March 12

WAYLAND — Loker PTA will have its second program meeting on Wednesday night, March 12, at 8 p.m. Directional signals for disoriented parents will be provided by Mr. William M. Griffin, Wayland High School Principal, as he discusses the significant aspects of "Heading Children for High School."

Parents of future pupils at Loker, or others interested in education, PTAs or the problems of new schools, are cordially invited to attend this or any subsequent meeting this year.

Dr. David Gitlin, Loker PTA President, will not be presiding at this meeting, as he leaves this week for Latin America where he will visit laboratories and deliver addresses at the invitations of governments in Mexico, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia, Venezuela and Jamaica.

In Cali, Colombia, Dr. Gitlin will be one of three American doctors invited by the first Central American Congress on Malnutrition in Children to make an address. Dr. Gitlin was instrumental in starting this organization, which is sponsored by Rockefeller Foundation.

Wayland Girl Scouts

WAYLAND — March 9 is Girl Scout Sunday and the start of Girl Scout Week. While Wayland scouts have not planned any formal, town-wide celebration, all troops will be having "birthday" parties that week and some are inviting their mothers to share the birthday cake. All the girls will be renewing their Girl Scout Promise.

Recently the Brownies of Troops 14 and 29 (third grade) held a song fest at the Junior Town House. Mrs. Francis Newton taught scout songs and singing games. Then the two troops were presented new troop flags. The presentation was made by Mrs. James Sullivan, representing the Junior Town House Association, who donated the flags. They were received by the troop leaders. Third grade Brownie leaders are Emily Masiello, Anne Quackenbos, Jan Frye and Grace Osmond.

Wayland Girl Scout leaders are planning to spend a week-end camping at Cedar Hill, in Waltham, early in April. They will receive training in all aspects of troop camping. All leaders who survive will return to Wayland to give their girls a good outdoor program this Spring. Mrs. Arthur Weiss is chairman of the event and Mrs. George Lumbert, outdoor trainer from Natick, is advisor to the committee.

Juliette Low, the woman who started the first Girl Scout troop 46 years ago, was over 50 years old when she began her work with youth.

Wayland Legion Aux. Officers

Officers not present were Mrs. Alice Burke, treasurer; Mrs. Rose Lizotte, historian, and Mrs. Hazel Taylor, chaplain.

WAYLAND—Forty years ago, the American Legion Auxiliary came into existence to answer the special needs of veterans and their families. Today, this is the largest women's patriotic organization in America, having units in almost every city and town in the country.

The auxiliary of the Charles H. Alward American Legion Post, as in all units, is comprised of women relatives of American Legion members, deceased veterans or women who were in the armed forces of the two World Wars and the Korean conflict.

Mrs. Esther Strafuss, chairman of membership encourages any person in Cochituate, Wayland or surrounding towns not having an auxiliary unit, to make inquiries about auxiliary activities and benefits. She points out that very few realize that children of war dead or veterans who died as a result of war service are eligible for a number of educational scholarships.

Poppy day sales, volunteer hospital work, the gift shops conducted in hospitals at Christmas, and the Girl's State program are familiar examples of American Legion Auxiliary endeavors. As in all worthy organizations, membership is the most important step towards achieving greater goals and the auxiliary is no exception. Mrs. Strafuss invites wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of World War II and Korean veterans to join the Wayland unit and realize the enjoyment and satisfaction derived from these varied activities.

Dr. Drury Speaks To Forest & Trail Assn.

WESTON — Longfellow's forest primeval should have included a liberal addition of murmuring oaks, beeches, chestnuts, and other hardwoods, in order to stand up to present day biological research, suggested Dr. William H. Drury, Jr. of the Hatheway School for Conservation in Lincoln, speaking at the Annual Meeting of the Weston Forest and Trail Association, on Feb. 20 at the Country School.

Dr. Drury pointed out that the splendid growths of white pine in Massachusetts, harvested during the last century, were largely an accidental growth, resulting from seedlings getting off to a running start, when New England pastures were abandoned for the better farmlands in the west. He advocated treating woodlands, in a town such as Weston, as a form of wild garden, encouraging existing growths for beauty as well as for profit, rather than attempting radical changes in the vegetation.

At a business meeting preceding Dr. Drury's talk, Mr. Harold B. Willis Jr., Chairman of the Moderator's Forest Committee, gave an account of his committee's proposals for acquiring additional land in the Jericho area, which would include an excellent access from the north, at a cost that, there was reason to believe, would not exceed $300 per acre.

The meeting was well attended. Refreshments afterwards were served by Mrs. Ralph Hower and Miss Florence Freeman.

GIRL SCOUT COOKOUT

WESTON — Troop 4, Girl Scouts of Weston, gathered in Janet Tenneson's backyard on Feb. 24 at 10:30 for a cookout in the snow. Adventures of this type are an important part of senior scouting. Nancy Ayers created a giant snowman, Erika Saunders blew on the wet kindling the girls gathered until it sparked and the other eight girls tramped in the woods.

The troop was delighted with the home made brownies and chocolate macaroons that Ann Finison and Erika Saunders created.

After a brisk snowball fight, Mrs. Tenneson invited the group in for a fancy cake and ice cream. Mrs. Julius Mueller and Mrs. Arthur Jones, Scout Leaders, enjoyed the cookout fully as much as the girls.

Wayland 67, Ashland 58

Wayland began the defense of its championship successfully defeating Ashland, 67-58. George Bradley netted 31 points to lead the way and Gerry Whelchel chipped in 12.

It was nip-and-tuck in the first half. With seconds left in the first half Bradley connected on a 40-foot set shot to give a 37-35 lead at the intermission. In the third period Wayland outscored Ashland 20 to 12 to sew it up.

standing contributions to the Navy in the field of guided missile technology by Garrison Norton, assistant secretary of the Navy (Air). The award was made in Washington, D.C.

The Navy award says: "Outstanding service to the Department of the Navy in the design and engineering of military equipment embodying special radar techniques. Mr. Phillips' extraordinary ability and persistent devotion have proved an inspiring example to his associates and he has been directly responsible for the solution of some of the most formidable problems that have been encountered in the evaluation of practical radar techniques and missile guidance systems."

Raytheon is prime contractor with complete weapons system responsibility for the Navy's air-to-air Sparrow III guided missile, and the Army's surface-to-air Hawk. The first direct hit and destruction of an aircraft in flight by a guided missile was made by the Navy's experimental Lark missile equipped with a Raytheon designed and built guidance system.

Phillips, a 10-year veteran with Raytheon, served as assistant manager of the Bedford laboratory from 1955 to 1957, manager of the Missile Systems Department from 1953 to 1955, and as head of the Department's guidance section the previous year. Earlier, he held various positions designing servomechanisms and special radar circuits and systems.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips came to Wayland in 1955. They have four children. Patricia is in the 8th grade, Wayland Junior High; Barbara is in the 5th grade at Claypit Hill School, Deborah is 5 years old and Thomas Jr. is 2.

Mr. Phillips attended Boston Latin School and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Children's Theatre Workshop Production Set For March 28, 29

WESTON — The sixth annual production of the Children's Theatre Workshop, sponsored by the Women's Community League of Weston, will be presented on Friday, March 28, at 8 p.m. and Saturday, March 29, at 3 p.m. at the Country School Auditorium.

The play is titled "El Gaitero Escoes" (The Scottish Bagpiper), written and directed by Mercedes Chapman Bassett. The story is based on one of many legends about the Mission Indians of California and tells of a young Scot who settled on a Mexican land grant. The part of the piper is played by Richard Douglass, whom Weston will remember from the 1954 Children's Theatre Workshop production. There are 32 children in the cast of "El Gaitero Escoes," drawn from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Since 1951 the Women's Community League of Weston has offered an unusual opportunity to work in various phases of theatre arts to Weston children through its Children's Theatre Workshop. Instrumental in starting the program seven years ago were Mrs. C. Richard Soderberg, Mrs. Philip D. Bassett, Mrs. Harold Alcaide and Mrs. Donald J. Hurley. The chairman of Children's Theatre Workshop for 1958 is Mrs. Meade Hartwell.

Wayland Votes Biggest Budget, Turns Down Outside Revaluation

WAYLAND — A budget of $1,670,265,38, biggest ever, was voted at an overflow Town Meeting in the High School gymnasium on March 5. Only 17 out of 57 Articles were acted on, and the meeting was continued until March 12 and, if necessary, to March 19.

Dominic Anzivino

The biggest argument came over a motion, read by George V. Deverell and supported by Mrs. Norman Alstad of the Finance Committee, calling for an appropriation of $20,000 to pay for a revaluation of the Town's real estate by outside experts.

Lloyd J. Osborn

A dozen or more got into this debate, and the pros and cons were well presented. One said the proposal was a reflection on the Assessors. Others said it wasn't, that revaluation was just more fair and scientific. Some said that

8-Inch Chestnut Tree Found Alive In Wayland Creates Excitement

WAYLAND — The existence in Town of a healthy chestnut tree, seven to eight inches in diameter, became known on March 8, and caused almost as much excitement as the discovery of a dodo's egg would have.

The chestnut, a noble tree valuable for its nuts, shade and timber, used to be common around here. Then, 30 or 40 years ago, a blight struck and killed it.

Since that time foresters, botanists and horticulturalists have been seeking specimens which have somehow escaped the plague. They find them, too, but usually only saplings which die before they get their growth. An article printed in The Rural New Yorker magazine in January, 1958, said that anybody finding a chestnut eight inches in diameter should report it to the Chief, Forest Service, USDA, Washington 25, D.C., or to the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station in New Haven.

This tree stands beside Claypit Hill Road, on the land of Georges H. Barrel or on land which would be included in the proposed widening of the street. Mr. Barrel says he has known for years that the tree was there, but on Saturday he told William R. Hulbert, a neighbor, about it, and they notified the Massachusetts Conservation Department.

Men from the Department appeared at once, delighted and excited. One of them, Charles Woodman of Natick, a forester, says this tree is untouched by the blight. Apparently it had one or two burrs on it last year, and apparently, he says, it is a seedling. Some chestnut saplings grow roots, he says, which travel 25 or 30 feet from the original root, which often shows amazing vitality.

The interesting thing about this tree, he says, is to see whether it will bear fertile seeds. Botanists are so keen in this hunt for surviving chestnuts because they keep hoping to find one which is resistant to the blight, a sort of Noah which might get the species started again.

Georges Barrel and chestnut tree.

Mr. Barrel says there is also another chestnut on his land, somewhat smaller, and in fact a number of small chestnuts are to be found in this region. The trunk is straight and dark gray, and the leaf is canoe-shaped.

Mr. Woodman says the chestnut isnt's supposed to bear its burrs until it is at least eight inches or so in diameter. If the small one starts to produce burrs, he says, it's a bad sign, for such a premature phenomenon indicates that the blight has hit it.

Mr. Hulbert said he was going to introduce a resolution in Town Meeting, to make sure the Barrel chestnut doesn't get chopped down. Mr. Woodman says it's the biggest chestnut he has seen in this part of the world.

Weston Meeting, March 31

WESTON — The regular Weston election and Town Meeting will be held Monday, March 31, it has been announced.

Weston Votes 12-Room School, No Auditorium

WESTON — By a margin of 308 to 1, Weston voters on March 10 voted to build a $754,000 12-room elementary school, without an auditorium, on Arnold Arboretum land not far from The Country School.

The first motion, read by Chairman James S. Turner of the School Building Committee, called for just this.

But John G. Brooks of the School Committee said that body thought the $60,000 auditorium should be built now, not in seven or eight years, when the program calls for enlarging this school to 20 rooms.

Before this difference could be resolved, Dr. Lawrence H. Fuchs moved an amendment, calling for the construction of the entire plant, all 20 rooms and auditorium, at once.

He spoke on this motion in detail. When he had finished he was applauded, but a number of speakers arose in rebuttal.

Moderator Francis G. Goodale finally called for a voice vote on Mr. Turner's original motion. Only one "no" was heard. The man insisted he meant it, so there was a standing, counted vote, all "yes" except for one "no".

It's hoped that this new school, one of two to be built eventually on 31½ acres of Arboretum land, will be ready for use by September, 1959.

Wayland Wins Class D Title Again In Frantic Tussle In The Garden

After winning the basketball championship in Boston Garden, the delighted Wayland players carried Capt. George Bradley off the floor on their shoulders. Coach Charles Bowers, who in his first two years of coaching has had two championship teams, got a sky ride too.

Wayland fans came away from Boston Garden talking to themselves after watching Wayland clinch its second straight Class "D" title.

With the score tied 48-48, George Bradley had the ball at midcourt. He stopped and looked at the clock. There were 5 seconds left to play. He faked to the right, drove around his man to the left and flipped the ball up underhanded. It swished in with 2 seconds showing on the clock.

(Daniel Goshtigian)

That was the game, the championship and Bradley's last and probably most important basket for Wayland. Wayland is the first team ever to win the Class "D" crown 2 years in succession.

Wayland leaped off to a 17-13 lead in the first period as Bob Regan connected for 4 hoops on 4 shots. Hanover's height ad-

Letters to the EDITOR

About Red Cross

To the Editor:

This letter is really addressed to you, the citizens of Wayland and Cochituate, because last year you generously supported your Wayland Chapter of the American National Red Cross.

Here are some of the services which you received in return for your contribution:

1. Free swimming and lifesaving instruction at Lake Cochituate Town Beach — over nine hundred (900) children and adults registered for these classes.

2. Free home nursing and baby care instruction given by the Chapter at the Parmenter Health Center.

3. Home service: a. Emergency assistance to Active Members of the Armed Forces and their dependents and to Veterans during the first six months after discharge. b. Assistance to Civilians' families not eligible for Welfare and because these Social Services are not available due to the fact that other agencies do not operate this far out in the country.

4. Blood donor service:—A program insuring blood to donors and their dependents during the twelve (12)-month period immediately after blood donation date.

To continue this service to Wayland and Cochituate we ask your generous and continued support in our March 1958 Fund Drive.

About Conservation

To the Editor:

As a subscriber to your very excellent paper, and a former resident of the Town of Weston, I want to congratulate you for the wide publicity given to the conservation program, which is so excellently being promoted by the Sudbury Valley Trustees, Inc. As a lover of wild life and all that has to do with it, the actions taken by this very excellent organization needs the support of everybody in the towns adjacent to this very interesting territory. Unless steps are taken today to preserve the sanctuaries for our wild life, it will soon be too late, as they are now draining swamps and putting up houses of one kind or another and sooner or later, wild life will be forced to seek other places.

A wonderful start has been made in acquiring all this wild land and it is my ardent hope that more land can be acquired on a reasonable fee basis. It is a necessary heritage that we must leave to our children and those to follow.

Sincerely yours,
John F. Linder, Jr.

About Parks

To the Editor:

May I take this means of acknowledging the many cards and letters I have received in favor of the bill to acquire and develop new State Parks and Reservations.

I appeared at the hearing on March 5 and vigorously favored passage. My only regret is that the present bill doesn't go further. It barely scratches the surface as far as need is concerned. It is fortunate that in our own local areas the Sudbury Valley Trustees and Weston Forest and Trail Ass'n are making a real effort to fill this need.

I wish I could answer each card or letter personally but their large number makes this impossible.

Sincerely yours,
James DeNormandie
Representative
10th Middlesex District

Dr. Fuchs To Address Benevolent Alliance

WESTON — Dr. Lawrence H. Fuchs of 9 Ellis Road, assistant professor of political science at Brandeis University who has often appeared on radio station WCRB and television Channel 2 as a news commentator, will speak to members and guests of the Benevolent Alliance of the First Parish Church at the First Parish Hall at 3 p.m. Monday, March 17.

Hostess for the day will be Mrs. Raymond Coburn, with Mrs. Walther H. Stockmayer assisting. Mrs. John B. Paine Jr. and Mrs. Robert Little will pour.

Leaders of Girl Scout troops say, " a Girl Scout is a girl you can count on."

About Dog Licenses

To the Editor:

The Wayland Town Clerk's Office now has the 1958 dog licenses. Although the 1957 license does not expire until March 31, we feel sure that many will be glad to obtain their new licenses before the "last minute rush."

In case the announcement in last week's Crier (March 6), has given you a mistaken impression: The Town Clerk's Office is open 9-5 daily, for all business. The Assistant Town Clerk, Mrs. Courchine, is a Registrar, and fully qualified to handle 99 44/100% of the business of the office. The hours as stated last week, apply only to the personal hours of the Town Clerk, and it was intended to stress the fact that she is there 1st and 3rd Mondays in the evenings: 8-9 p.m.

League Handbook On Procedure Shows Way To End An Argument

WAYLAND—The Wayland League of Women Voters put out a handbook of Town Meeting procedure this Winter, largely for the benefit of newcomers, and a new citizen made use of it at the March 5 Town Meeting.

It was getting on towards midnight and the Article on revaluation had been pretty thoroughly argued. The citizen, so new in Town that those sitting near him didn't know his name, got tired of the oratory and turned to the book for a way to stop it. He spent two or three minutes searching, and he was heard to mutter, "It's in this book somewhere."

He finally found the way out. He rose and said, "I move the previous question."

"That would cut off all further discussion of the subject," Moderator Howard S. Russell told him. "Are you sure that's what you want to do?"

"Yes," said the man.

So the Town voted to vote on the previous question, and then voted down revaluation.

Kumlien's Gull, Rare Bird, Seen In Weston

WESTON — Mrs. Charles L. Smith spotted a Kumlien's gull, extraordinary inland visitor, on March 6 at Norumbega, where Mr. Walter R. Koe of Wayland feeds the ducks. It was only the third record of sighting of this bird in Massachusetts inland waters.

Mrs. Smith says the herring gull, the common one, has black wingtips. The Iceland gull, occasionally seen, has white-tipped wings, and Kumlien's gull, an in-between, has wings tipped with gray. It was the first time a Kumlien's gull had been seen in Weston. Allen Morgan of Wayland, executive director of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, went to Norumbega next to have a look, but the bird was no longer there.

WAYLAND — Curtis Spalding of 12 Plain Road, is among those from this area making early reservations for the premiere of Dr. Paul A. Siple's film account of man's "First Winter at the South Pole."

$5.40 From Children Included In Weston's $3,000 Heart Fund

WESTON — Kathryn Brown, age 9, and Bobby Millen, 10, raised $5.40 for the Weston Heart Fund by producing a puppet show for 20 neighborhood children, and Mrs. Randolph P. Rice, chairman of the Weston Heart Fund, says she wants to thank them and all the others in Town who contributed so generously to the Fund. More than $3,000 was raised in Weston, she reports.

Mrs. Rice says that the area chairmen, Mrs. David Kellogg, Jr., Mrs. Edwin Goodall and Mrs. Raymond Bidwell, with all the area captains and solicitors, worked with great zeal and energy, and that the happy outcome of the campaign reflects their efforts.

Wayland Meeting

in Waltham and Natick it meant higher taxes.

The argument started late in the evening, and towards midnight somebody moved the previous question, to cut off further debate. This motion carried. Then the Article was defeated, 399 to 199, and everybody went home.

The school budget was much bigger than last year's but nobody kicked. Mrs. L. William Bertelsen, speaking for the League of Women Voters, said the budget represented both the nation's educational needs, as made apparent during the past year, and the Town's growth. She said good schools are desirable and upgrade the Town. Nobody said otherwise.

A question was what would happen to the tax rate. Assessor William Lewis said the Assessors hoped to keep it under $70. It was brought out that although expenses are up, the Town's valuation has increased by more than $2,000,000 during the year.

Some of the actions: Specific pay increases were granted, plus

Bruce F. Kingsbury

3½ per cent for everybody in the Town's employ (except teachers, included in the school budget).

Decision to turn in motor vehicles and buy new ones. There was some debate about the condition of the Town's police cars, after a year's service, and it was agreed by those who spoke that they are "junk". It was said that they are on the road 24 hours a day.

Voted to build a new 2,000,000-gallon standpipe on Reeves Hill, to supplement the present 500,000-gallon reservoir. Cost will be $200,000, but the water customers will pay for it and the money will not come out of the tax rate.

William S. Lewis

(There is plenty of water in the Town wells. The trouble in dry seasons comes in trying to keep up the level in the standpipe, which provides the pressure. With another big standpipe, it is believed, local residents should be able to use all the water they want to, no matter how serious a drought.)

Voted to buy 20,530 feet of land and an old barn on Millbrook Road, north of the brook, for $3500. There was some kicking about this, but it was explained that the Town owns the low land along the brook, north of State Road East, and that this purchase looks toward a long range improvement of the Center.

Voted $10,000 to go into the sock against future purchases of fire apparatus. Mrs. Richard A. Howard moved an amendment to this Article, that the apparatus should not be actually bought until after a vote of the Town, and this also passed.

Voted to buy uniforms for both Police and Fire Departments. This was a new thing in Town.

Voted to lease the site of the old Town Hall to the Wayland Historical Society, after the old structure is torn down.

John Wilson reported for the committee directed to see about raising the level of Pelham Island Road, which is periodically inundated. He said the Planning Board will apply to the County for money to study the expense involved, and the committee was ordered continued.

Allan R. Finlay, chairman of the School Building Committee is looking towards completion of the proposed new high school on the Schofield property on Old Connecticut Path by September, 1960. The Committee has been exploring the educational needs of such a school, has asked the Federal Government for $50,000 for planning and has hired a firm of architects, he said. He added that the Claypit Hill and Loker Schools are completed, except for a little landscaping in the Spring.

It was moved and voted that a five-member recreational advisory committee be appointed to carry through with the report of the recreational survey committee, printed in the Crier a couple of weeks ago.

Odds and ends: Moderator Howard S. Russell presided. He said he didn't like to hear Wayland real estate described as "raw land". Said it supported a prosperous village for more than three centuries. . . Mrs. Charles Gillespie, on revaluation: "A man's judgement is a highly unpredictable quality." . . . The Town rose in tribute to John Connelly, 66-year veteran of Wayland Town Government and Town Meeting, who missed one of his first meetings; Mrs. Mary McNeil, school nurse who retires April 1, and Gerald Henderson, former Selectman who died recently. . . Mr. Russell again: "Anybody who runs for Assessor knows in advance that his feelings are going to be hurt.". . . The parking lot behind the school was filled to overflowing. But it was a clear night for Town Meeting, with a full moon and temperature above freezing. . . Theodore R. Magoun presided over the overflow crowd in the school library. . . Archibald Cox explained the changes recommended by the committee studying Town Government. . . Somebody asked to have the local confusion of telephone numbers and postoffice addresses straightened out by his committee. Mr. Cox said he'd be glad to put it on the agenda, but he didn't have much hope of fixing things. . . Chairman Robert M. Morgan of the Finance Committee said that body was six to one against revaluation. Mrs. Alstad, only woman member, was for it. . . Dominic Anzivino, on revaluation: "I got a tax bill for a piece of land in Natick and it was up three times, and if that's what you like, vote for it." . . . Many newcomers in Town asked qustions, which seemed to be answered satisfactorily.

T. H. Hillery Passes The Bar Examination

COCHITUATE—Thomas H. Hillery of Daymon Farms is getting ready to hang out his shingle as a attorney. He was among the group of law school graduates who passed the bar examinations recently.

He is a veterans of two years with the Army of Occupation in Japan, in 1947 and 1948. With his wife, Mary, and 4-year-old daughter, Karen Michael, he lives at 8 Bald Rock Road. He has been in business with his father in the Hillery Transportation Company, but plans now to practice law at home.

WESTON — Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stone of E Bar L Ranch, Greenough, Montana, announce the arrival of a son, George Putnam Stone, on Feb. 24. Mrs. Stone is the former Jane Sturgis Bidwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. Bidwell of 59 Orchard Avenue.

Vokes Produces Lively Comedy

"Janus," a comedy by Carolyn Green, presented currently by the Vokes Players, provides an almost perfect vehicle for the talents of this organization. Good lines and a different twist to an otherwise conventional plot provide amusing material which is several cuts above most TV "dramas" billed as authentic live entertainment. In short, "Janus" is worth leaving your armchair.

The small cast of five is effective, so that the frequent uncomfortable feeling of inadequacy so often present in amateur productions is happily absent. Peggy Bruce is charming as the lusty half of an unorthodox writing team, and Dick Eckler, as her sometime collaborator, is poised, at ease and totally convincing. Phil Bassett presents an always polished and sometimes hilarious deceived husband. The Bureau of Internal Revenue is almost too ably represented in Paul Moorhead and a sickly smile, coupled with a silencer on his fountain pen. The literary profession receives an unexpected boost from Midge Robinson's unabashed performance.

The single set is a masterpiece of effective painting and magnificently ghastly furniture whose source must be a trade secret. The total production reflects credit on its directors, Warren Eriksen and Barbara Barrett. — S. R.

vantage began to show and tney rallied to tie the score 23-23 at halftime. When the third quarter was over things looked bad for Buzz Bowers' five. Hanover led, 40-36, and the Wayland team was hampered by fouls, but the game was far from over.

Bradley put on a real show in the final session as he tossed in 11 of Wayland's 14 points. Wayland led 47-44 with 2 minutes left in the game. They then tried unsuccessfully to "freeze" the ball. Hanover stole the ball twice and went ahead 48-47. A foul shot tied it and set the stage for Bradley's Merriwell finish.

Besides Bradley's scoring, sophomore Ed Marsh played another outstanding rebounding game, especially in that hectic last period. Bob Regan not only did a fine job rebounding but also hit on 7 of the 8 shots he took, for 14 big points. Gerry Whelchel played a great defensive game and though he was held to only 4 points he connected in the last period when it counted.

WESTON — Country Evening Concert subscribers who heard Metropolitan Opera soprano Lucine Amara on the Telephone Hour and on WCRB's Evening at the Opera recently are eagerly anticipating her appearance in Weston's Country School auditorium this Friday evening. This event, which marks Miss Amara's recital debut in the Greater Boston area, will be the third and final attraction of the Country Evening Concerts current 7th season. Closing the season, by the way, will reverse a trend for the attractive Miss Amara, for last week she flew to San Francisco to star in the opening night of the spring opera season there, and next month she is to sing the lead in the opening night of opera week in Boston, in the same role in which she opened the Metropolitan season in New York last fall.

Included in Miss Amara's Weston program are songs by Brahms, Schumann, Wolf, Falla, Obradors, Samuel Barber, and two arias by Verdi, the Willow Song, from "Otello", and Pace, Pace, from "Force of Destiney".

Weston Committee Favors Buying 68-Acres For Larger Forest Area

The tract enclosed by the broken line, marked "Raymond", is the area the Town Forest Committee recommends buying now, to add to the adjacent Jericho Town Forest.

WESTON—An Article in the Warrant for Town Meeting, March 31, will propose an appropriation for land that will give access from the north to the Jericho Town Forest.

The Moderator's Town Forest Committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Harold B. Willis Jr., with assistance from the Finance Committee in negotiations with the owner, is recommending a purchase of 68 acres at a cost of approximately $300 per acre. (See map, Raymond area.)

This purchase would obtain a good dry woods road for access for fire protection, and an entrance from the north from Concord road near Weston College, the only present access being from the south across the B. & M. Railroad.

In addition, there would be obtained a four-acre level field abutting Concord Road, that could be used for a house site, or for any other purpose that might appear desirable in the future. The land includes several well established stands of white pine, that need only pruning to develop into excellent forest trees.

The Committee believes that this is likely to be the last opportunity for acquisition at the cost mentioned, as the land has considerable potential for building development.

The Committee hopes (March weather permitting), to arrange an opportunity for looking over this area by any citizens interested. Details will be announced in the next issue, Town Crier.

Charles H. Carter, Town's Oldest Man, Dies At Age Of 98

WAYLAND — Charles H. Carter, 98, Wayland's oldest male resident, husband of the late Anne F. (Belcher) Carter of 120 West Plain Street, died March 16 in the Leonard Morse Hospital in Natick following a brief illness. Mr. Carter observed his 98th birthday on Feb. 18.

Dr. Freymann Wins In Recount In Wayland

WAYLAND — Dr. John Gordon Freymann, who was apparently elected to the Board of Health at the Town election by the narrow margin of 713 to 702 over Clinton W. Lee, was confirmed in his election by a recount held March 11 at the Wayland Town Building.

The net change, said Miss Leila Sears, Town Clerk, was a loss of one vote for each candidate in Precinct 2.

Roger P. Stokey, former Town Counsel, was counsel for Dr. Freymann at the recount. Observers for Dr. Freymann were Mrs. L. William Bertelsen, Mrs. Bruce F. Kingsbury, Mrs. Charles R. Thomas and Mrs. Gregory Wolfe. Mr. Lee was his own counsel and his observers were Dr. David R. Corey and Mr. Robert Robinson.

Mrs. Masters Will Speak At Cochituate Community Church

Mrs. Beryl Bowden Masters
(Harvard Studio)

WAYLAND — Mrs. Beryl Bowden Masters, a Christian missionary from Rhodesia whose husband and son were both killed by polio, which also crippled her and her other son, will speak at the Cochituate Community Methodist Church at 8 p.m., March 20.

Mrs. Harry Burton has arranged the program. Refreshments will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. Ernest Schleicher. Mrs. Herbert Schleicher will preside at the business meeting.

Weston Town Meeting

WESTON — A budget of $1,354,284, biggest ever, and a referendum to permit insurance for Town employes, looked like the principal pieces of business for the Town's election and regular Town Meeting of March 31.

The insurance referendum is the same as the one which recently passed in Wayland by a big majority. It calls for accepting a Massachusetts statute which permits a contributory system.

The budget includes a school budget of $779,179, which, it is said, reflects to some degree the latest increases in Wayland teachers' salaries.

(Douglas Surgenor, chairman of the Wayland School Committee, says that the recent vote of the Town gives Wayland teachers raises of $600 apiece and sets the Wayland minimum starting pay for teachers at $4000 a year. Some communities in the Commonwealth have higher starting pay than Wayland, says Mr. Surgenor, but Wayland is now among the top 10. The starting pay is important, he says, because many girls fresh out of school mean to marry soon, and the high initial rate enables Wayland to have a fair pick of the beginners. And

Fluoridation Beaten In 3-Hour Town Meeting - Only $20 Spent

Robert G. Fleuriot

Mrs. Charles R. Thomas

WAYLAND — Fluoridation was voted down, two proposed zoning amendments were defeated and Wayland voters debated three hours while appropriating a total of only $20, at the continued Town Meeting on March 12. This meeting was adjourned at 11 p.m., until March 19, with 30 Articles left to be acted upon.

The fluoridation motion was put by Dr. Howard H. Jenkins of Winthrop Road. It asked for $7000 to put sodium fluoride in the local drinking water, to the extent of one part in 1,000,000. Dr. Jenkins said fluoridation has been thoroughly tested, has been approved by all the reputable medical bodies in the United States and has never done anybody any harm. He also cited the incidence of dental trouble among Wayland children, which he said is around 98 per cent.

The first anti-fluoridation speaker was Mrs. Howard S. Russell, who said nobody has proved fluoridation safe, that fluorides in the system are a cumulative poison and that the one part per million could not be maintained at a uniform level in a public water system.

Dr. Alvin Volkman said that to get any toxic effects a 50-pound child would have to drink from 100 to 1000 gallons of water a day, and that a 10-pound child would have to drink from 20 to 200 gallons a day, and "any mother knows what that would mean in terms of diapers."

Willard B. Dik moved an amendment, to have the question put on the ballot at the 1959 Town Election.

Several others spoke, pro and con, and Town Counsel Frank Kilburn finally gave it as his opinion that the referendum amendment wouldn't do, legally speaking. So that was dropped. On a motion for the previous question, to end debate, the vote was 586 to 9 in favor. Then, on Dr. Jenkin's motion, the vote was 170 yes, 392 no.

Mrs. Rudolph Bruce then rose and asked what would be the procedure to get the proposition on the ballot next year. Selectman John R. McEnroy assured the gathering that if the matter were brought to the Selectmen on petition in the regular fashion they would be happy to put it on the ballot next year, and so

Letters to the EDITOR

About Foreign Aid

To the Editor:

The unprecedented President's bi-partisan Conference on Foreign Aspects of United States National Security held February 25th in Washington brought World Trade and Aid to the headlines. It is now important that businessmen, executives, hourly workers, professional men, housewives etc. take the responsibility for fostering World Trade and Aid, even if in some instances it would seem to hurt financially.

World Trade and Aid means a great deal to the security of the United States, as well as to that of the world. It may even be more valuable than our military program. We all use and depend on imported items. Many Americans are employed by activities directly related to world trade as well as by the economic aid programs for under-developed nations.

The League of Women Voters has staunchly supported reciprocal trade since 1934 and asks you to support the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. Urge your Congressmen and Senators to vote to extend this Act which expires in June.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Warren T. Eriksen,
President, Wayland League of Women Voters.
Florence E. Freeman,
President, Weston League of Women Voters.

Wayland Town Meeting

Those with strong convictions on either side seemed not changed in their views, and some in the middle said they didn't know what to think. It seemed that the issue might be around for some time.

Next, the Town voted to establish a flood plain area, consisting of all land less than 124 feet above sea level, just above the water level of the 1955 flood. Special restrictions would be imposed on buildings constructed below 124 feet. This passed, after some argument, 405 to 12.

Then came a hearty hassle on two zoning amendments, to change the areas north and south of Commonwealth Road East, near its junction with East Plain Street, from business A to residential.

People from the new Brookdale section, near this area, seemed to be leading this move. The Planning Board opposed it. Brookdale people said yes, they knew there was a business district there when they moved in, but it wasn't good, constituted a traffic hazard and was otherwise undesirable.

The Planning Board said that two years ago it asked the Town to rezone these areas as residential, but the Town turned it down. Now, said the Board, businesses were established there and it wouldn't be fair to put them in a non-conforming status.

The Planning Board and the Zoning Board of Appeals got a few lumps from the Brookdale people.

Some of the argument was about a building on the South side of Commonwealth Road.

A citizen said the Board of Appeals approved it as a warehouse, which, he said, belongs in a light manufacturing area.

Roger Ela, for the Appeals Board, said it was an office building, which will look different when finished. He said it was built 10 feet too near the street, and the 10 feet is being cut off the front of the building.

Somebody else, later, said the office building is built of steel girders, has a 30-ton chain hoist in the middle and seems short on windows. Roger Stokey said this area was a sore spot and would get worse unless something were done about it.

In the end the first motion, covering the North side of the street, was beaten, 169 for to 193 against. The second motion, covering the South side, had a majority for, 190 to 139, but lost for lack of a two-thirds vote.

Article 23, the one to forbid people to park trucks in their dooryards, which looked as though it might produce debate, was passed over rapidly.

The Town voted to relocate Claypit Hill Road, although William R. Hulbert read a letter from the Department of Conservation about the live chestnut tree there. Mr. Hulbert also reminded the meeting of a law, said by Moderator Howard S. Russell to be 100 years old, which forbids anybody but the Tree Warden to cut down a shade tree standing beside a public way.

Then the Town voted to accept some streets, at a total cost of $20, and somebody moved adjournment.

Charles H. Carter

He was born in Cochituate in 1860, a son of Elbridge A. and Lucy J. (Dudley) Carter, a direct descendant of some of the original settlers of this section, and had been a lifelong resident of this community. He recalled hearing about the details of the Civil War and the efforts of Abraham Lincoln to free the slaves.

About 1870, his father, the late Elbridge A. Carter Sr. hired a farm in Framingham in the area near the present Shopper's World and lived there until the family decided to move back to Cochituate. Upon the family's return to Cochituate, he was enrolled as a pupil in the old school building which stood directly in back of the present Cochituate Grammar School. Here he finished his education and was graduated from both grammar and high school, which at that time were housed in the same building.

He recalled that church services on Sundays in the early days of his memory were actually all day sessions, especially at the old church. Foot warmers were brought by each church attendant in the form of a heated brick. In the memory of Mr. Carter, both Lake Cochituate and Dudley Pond served as convenient and often used locations for baptism by full immersion and the services of baptism were frequently held at the water's edge.

The first job ever held by Mr. Carter was at the shoe factory of Albert Lyon, located near the present Memorial Square, where he learned all branches of the shoe manufacturing industry and later worked at the shoe shop of William and J. Madison Bent, located where the Socony Station and Cochituate Motors now stand.

He decided to branch out in business for himself and established a retail fish merchant route with a gleaming white team and later a truck offering fresh fish throughout Cochituate, Wayland, Natick, Saxonville and Sudbury areas, retiring only a few years ago.

For many years he took an active part in all affairs of Cochituate Grange P. of H. and successfully ran regular dances for the benefit of the organization. From his 83rd to his 90th birthday, he danced every week at the old fashioned dances held at the Littleton Town Hall, Littleton, Mass., and at 90 years of age he had the distinction of winning 1st prize for waltzing at the Mansion Inn.

He is survived by a son, Clarence H. Carter of Nashua, New Hampshire and a granddaughter, Miss Marion Carter Pond with whom he made his home.

Funeral services were conducted in the Gibbs Memorial Funeral Home, Route 30, on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with the Rev. George C. Gutekunst, pastor of Cochituate Methodist Church officiating and Mrs. Jennie Wright Schleicher at the organ. Interment was in the historic Carter lot in Lakeview Cemetery.

"Gay Side Of Wayside", Frank Hatch Original, Is Vokes May Musical

WAYLAND — "The Gay Side of Wayside", second original musical by Frank Hatch to be produced by the Vokes Players, will be given on eight evenings in May, 14 through 17 and 21 through 24.

The plot hangs on the discovery of a gay manuscript by Longfellow in a secret compartment in the Wayside Inn, and involves the Ford Foundation and excursions to New York and Castine, Me.

Alice Colliton is director, assisted by Jane Cannistraro. Anita Barker is doing the choreography and Carolyn Jamieson and Irene Ewing the choral work. Dan Kennedy is handling the production.

Mr. Hatch's other musical for Vokes, "One on the Town", was produced several years ago. It was about Wayland people and some of their activities, including bird watching.

Teachers' Pay Issue Discussed At Hearing

WESTON — Substantial agreement that Weston teachers' salaries should be increased was expressed at the annual budget meeting, held in the Town House on March 24, but some difference of opinion among School Committee, Finance Committee and Selectmen was apparent on some phases of the issue.

Selectman Richard H. Field said the School Committee has refused to lower its budget to include its part of the Town's share of the proposed insurance for Town employees. He said that at Town Meeting he will move to reduce the School Committee's budget by $2300 to cover this.

Leonard Dowse, chairman of the Finance Committee, said he'd like to see merit stressed more, a greater differential between salaries of men and women teachers, and less emphasis on across-the-board increases.

John G. Brooks 2d, for the School Committee, said the Committee's salary proposal is considered the absolute minimum by the Weston Teachers Club and the Education Committee of the PTA. It's lower than the teacher's idea, he said, and higher than the Finance Committee's idea.

The School Committee favors raising the minimum starting pay from $3,600 to $4000 for women teachers and to $4200 for men. It would raise maximums by $500 and continue the merit plan. (Weston is among the 1 per cent of communities in the country having merit increases.) It would all add up to a proposed average increase of $687 for present teachers.

Comments from the floor:

Dr. Charles A. Janeway: "We'd better start caring more about education and paying for it and put the teacher back in the status he used to have."

Edward R. Langenbach: "It's the men teachers we aren't treating right."

Mrs. Rachel Hare: "Teachers' salaries in Massachusetts have gone up 25 per cent since 1939, while other salaries have gone up 70 per cent."

WESTON — The Little League of Weston has accepted with regret the resignation of Frank L. Hitchcock, who has been Commissioner for the past three years. Members expressed their appreciation of Mr. Hitchcock's efforts in promoting the size, enthusiasm and efficiency of the organization.

New Commissioner is Mr. Edward J. Czarnowski.

About Red Cross

To the Editor:

Some of your readers have expressed an interest as to why the Wayland Chapter, American Red Cross did not participate in the recent United Fund Drive.

Here are a number of reasons:

1. The Wayland Red Cross Chapter has always waged a successful drive to raise the funds needed to meet its quota for local and national budgets and has done this on a volunteer basis without the need and expense of a professional fund raising organization.

2. To maintain absolute control by the Chapter of all Chapter Funds raised for local programs and needs.

3. To reserve the right to decide what local Red Cross programs are needed and to determine and control its own budget under which local Red Cross programs are carried on.

4. To be better able to continue the high QUALITY OF SERVICE which the Chapter has given to Wayland and Cochituate over the years.

5. We are not alone — Many other Chapters all over the country are independently campaigning in March for the American National Red Cross.

Invest in yourself — give to your local Wayland Chapter and Cochituate branch of the American National Red Cross. Give locally where you and your family actually get service.

Mrs. Pierpoint Blair,
Vice Chairman,
Tower Hill Road,
Wayland

About Dr. Elliston

To the Editor:

Because there is to be a contest for the two-year term on the Weston Planning Board, the undersigned citizens wish to call the attention of all voters to the candidacy of Dr. William A. Elliston.

Dr. Elliston is well fitted for this position by his knowledge of our town. During the past four years he has been chairman of the Moderator's Town Forest Committee, which has been responsible for establishing the Highland Street and Jericho Town Forests.

He believes that the present time will prove critical in deciding how far the natural assets and beauty of the town can be preserved, and advocates in addition to measures already taken by the Planning Board:

1. Study, by all Departments concerned, of measures to preserve desirable natural features of the town, with leadership from the Planning Board.

2. Specific study of the "Green Belt Plan" for Weston, prepared in 1956 by professional consultants for the Planning Board.

We wish to endore Dr. Elliston's candidacy, and urge voters to record their vote in his support.

About Valuations

To the Editor:

Wayland in Town Meeting assembled again rejected outside reappraisal of all real estate in town — for the third year in a row.

Yet the many hours of Town Meeting time the subject of reappraisal has occupied has been well spent, in the opinion of those who have actively supported reappraisal. We are pleased to note that the gap between the assessment rate (the percentage applied to fair market value of a dwelling) applied to post-war built dwellings and that applied to pre-war built homes has been reduced for the second year in a row. We believe this improvement has been at least in some small measure due to public interest in reappraisal and in assessment practices. The rates used for the past four years are as follows.

| Year | Pre-War Dwelling | Post-War Dwelling |
|---|---|---|
| 1955 | 40% | 45 % |
| 1956 | 40% | 45 % |
| 1957 | 38% | 42.5% |
| 1958 | 37% | 40 % |

We who are interested in fair and equitable sharing by property owners of the Town tax burden will continue to point out any improvements in Wayland's appraisal and assessment methods. We will also continue to remind the Town of the present inequities (as evidenced by a comparison of assessments values with sales prices) which we think will remain until eliminated by outside appraisal.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Norman J. Alstad
Mrs. Anthony L. Alesi

About Blood

To the Editor:

The need for whole blood has never been more urgent than it is right now. Open heart surgery has enabled children and adults as well, to live a normal life, who otherwise would have died from their congenital heart diseases.

The basic problem of this operation is that it takes a minimum of 12 pints of whole blood, not more than 24 hours old.

Massachusetts is the only State in the United States which has a voluntary program for supplying blood to these patients. At this time a minimum of three operations a week are being performed, but as more pumps are made available the problem will become increasingly acute.

The Weston Blood Program has been asked, along with all the other communities in Massachusetts, to help fill this need.

The blood is collected at the hospitals where the operations are performed. Anyone who wishes to volunteer to give a pint of blood for this operation please call Mrs. John A. Paine, TW 4-4079, or Mrs. Henry Wheeler, TW 3-3512.

Mrs. John A. Paine

Edgar St. Germain

As a candidate for Planning Board, he says "You can't stop progress but you can help a lot to guide it properly."

Hospital Associates Mark Fourth Anniversary Of Gift Cart Service

Members of the Waltham Hospital Associates recently observed the fourth anniversary of the hospital gift cart, "store on wheels", which is operated by volunteers six mornings and two afternoons a week, carrying papers, candy, cigarettes and other articles to patients.

Twenty-four volunteers have given 750 hours of service in this activity, and the aim is to get enough more volunteers, particularly in Weston and Wayland, to add service on other afternoons and Sundays.

Co-chairmen for the gift cart group are Mrs. Daniel Viles of 34 Partridge Hill Road and Mrs. R. W. B. Farrar of 33 Skating Pond Road. both of Weston.

Wayland Town Meeting Ends With Promise of $70 Tax Rate, Up $8

WAYLAND — The twice-adjourned Town Meeting came to an end at 10 p.m. on March 19, after the remaining 30 Articles in the Warrant were whisked through. Last event in it was the announcement by Chairman Robert M. Morgan of the Finance Committee that the tax rate will probably be around $70, up $8.

Most of the articles were routine, although they required Town action. They involved easements and transfers of real estate, for highway, drainage and miscellaneous purposes, and went through quickly once they were explained.

The only serious argument came on Article 43, to build a short piece of road from Brookdale to Loker Street.

Brookdale residents said that in their development there are now 35 dwellings and soon will be 70. Only entrance to the area is from School Street, and Brookdale children have to go to the Loker School by bus the long way around, to School Street and Commonwealth Road. The proposal for another entrance was favored by all on the general grounds of safety and convenience.

The catch was that the layout of the new piece of road, as recommended by the engineers, left Dominic Anzivino, owner of much of the land in question, with a piece of land only 1650 square feet in extent on one side of the street.

Under the zoning rules, it was explained, such a piece of land is not available for building, and it was proposed that the Town pay Mr. Anzivino for it.

He objected, wanting to know why the Town couldn't have left him a full sized house lot (20,000 feet) instead of only 1650 feet. There was a half hour debate, and in the end there was a standing vote, 200 to 90, in favor of taking the land for the street.

Then there were two other Articles, calling for taking the 1650 feet of Anzivino land and 10,550 feet of land of Donald F. Copeland, in connection with this same transaction. These were voted, leaving the Selectmen authorized to take the parcels by "eminent domain, gift or otherwise."

Other business:

Voted to install a new water line on Wallace Road, off Old Connecticut Path.

Voted to swap some land with a developer at the old Mansion Inn property, so that adjacent roads can be improved.

Voted to relocate the stone marker commemorating the Wayland battle of 1676 in King Philip's War, to put it nearer the present road.

Voted $12,000 to acquire 10 pieces of property of sub-standard size. Buildings on this property will be razed, as part of the long-range program of wiping out shacks in Town.

Voted to adopt a revised building code.

Passed over an Article calling for cleaning up Dudley Pond shores, on the ground that much of the shore is private property.

Thanked Mrs. Lucille Champagne of the High School faculty and the Senior boys and girls of the school who acted as ushers and pages during the three meetings.

Position On Teachers' Salaries Is Stated By School Committee

WESTON — In order that the citizens of Weston will fully understand the budget figure for teachers' salaries as it appears in the Town Report, the School Committee submits the following brief explanation.

Their basic recommendations are these:

(1) To raise minimum salaries $400, from $3600 for women and $3800 for men to $4000 and $4200 respectively. Adjustments will be made for all teachers to avoid inequities resulting from adjustments in the minimum.
(2) To raise $500 at the maximum of each salary range.
(3) To continue to give $200 as a normal annual increment.
(4) To continue to apply the Merit Plan.

The figure in the stated budget to cover all such increases for the calendar year 1958 is about $19,000. Since most of these increases will not be effective until September, 1958, the $19,000 represents only one third of the increase on an annual basis. This means about $57,000 for the school year 1958-59. In their judgment this is a fair and necessary figure to maintain a properly competitive position with surrounding communities, as well as take into consideration each teacher's preparation, experience, and effectiveness in the classroom.

The flexible Merit Salary Plan which has been in effect in Weston for several years they believe is sound and is in accordance with the wishes of the people of Weston and the teachers themselves. The present salary schedule has been in operation just three years. Last year it was adjusted at the minimum levels to reasonably meet local competition and this year they feel it needs another appraisal and adjustment. These recommendations are made after studying the total school system requirements and the rest of the Town budget. They have also studied the schedules of surrounding communities and other selected communities elsewhere in the country.

They recognize that adequate salaries are only one factor in achieving a good educational system in Weston; but they believe that adequate salaries are indispensable.

The Personnel Committee of the Weston Teachers' Club and the Education Committee of the Weston Parent-Teachers Association, enlarged to include members of other town organizations, support the foregoing School Committee proposals as an absolute minimum salary increase essential to getting and keeping good teachers in Weston.

Another Weston Pops Night Is Scheduled

WESTON — The Weston Pops Night of last Spring proved to be such a rousing success that two evenings of music will be presented this year, announces George Buckminster, president of the Weston Boosters.

The dates will be Friday, May 2, at 8:45 p.m. and Saturday, May 3, at 8:45 p.m. The place, the Weston Town Hall.

The Westonaires, popular singing group of 28 male voices, will again participate, as will the Kitchen Canaries, beautiful and harmonious housewives, plus the inimitable Chamber Music Society of Lower Newton Street.

The capacity audience which last year delighted in this informal evening of music will be pleased to note that again the "Pops" motif will prevail. Tables for 10, decorated with Spring flowers, will cover the floor of the Town Hall, and pretty usherettes will mingle with the audience as they offer corsages for sale.

Hostesses are urged to make their reservations early to avoid disappointment. Tickets are $5.00 a couple. All proceeds go to the David A. Perry Memorial Fund for high school student scholarships.

For reservations Friday, May 2, phone Mrs. Herbert Nelson, TW 4-4130. For reservations Saturday night phone Mrs. Robert McMullin, TW 3-6331. Balcony seats may be obtained for both nights at $1.00. The reservation chairmen will attempt to seat groups of fewer than 10 at tables together.

Educational Needs Of New Weston High School To Be Studied

WESTON—The first of a series of weekly meetings to study the high school curriculum with an eye to how the subject offerings will fit into the proposed High School will be held Thursday, April 3, at 8 p.m.

If the Town authorizes a building committee to prepare plans for a High School this Spring, a set of specifications will be necessary. Customarily the building committees have looked to the School Committee to set forth what should be contained in any new building. With the approval of the School Committee, Dr. Anthony Brackett, superintendent of schools, has worked out a plan to involve parents and teachers in a study of subject offerings so that specifications can be prepared which should command general approval in the community.

All parents and teachers are welcome to take part in the study, as well as any other citizens of the Town, whether or not they have children in the public schools. In order to be certain of a wide geographic distribution of parents, however, a nucleus of parents has been chosen by the grade mothers. Two families from each grade level have been named. In some instances, both husband and wife are planning to come to the meetings. A working group of at least 26 parents and half as many teachers is assured.

As a guide for discussion at the work sessions, a list of questions and problems relating to the curriculum is now being prepared by members of the Weston High School faculty under the direction of Mr. Aimo Teittinen, Vice-Principal of the High School. These questions from the faculty will be organized into a guide book by a Steering Committee consisting of the Superintendent of Schools, the Principal of the High School, and a representative of the Teachers Association and a representative of the P.T.A.

WESTON — On March 18 members of the League of Women Voters of Weston visited the Massachusetts Correctional Institute at Walpole. Arrangements for the field trip were made by Mrs. Lawrence Pexton, a director of the Weston League and chairman of Item I of the State Current Agenda, "Parole: Measures to develop the full potentialities of the parole system for the rehabilitation of the offender".

Among those who made the trip were Miss Florence Freeman, Mrs. Nancy S. Enos, Mrs. Victor Harnish, Mrs. Robert Haydock, Mrs. Lyman Stone Hayes, Mrs. Alexander D. Mackintosh, Mrs. Lawrence Pexton, Mrs. Robert Stauffer and Mrs. John Stover. They were shown the parts of the buildings and grounds which are open to women visitors. Mrs. Pexton reports that the program facilities and general atmosphere indicate a belief in the desirability of rehabilitation rather than punishment of the men.

Wayland H. S. PTA Gives 3 Scholarships To Seniors Each Year

WAYLAND — Beginning with modest awards years ago, the Wayland High School PTA has annually given scholarship aid to deserving seniors. As college expenses have gone up, the scholarship awards have been increased. Last year the PTA raised more than $1,000 which was divided among three seniors judged by the Scholarship Award Committee to be qualified.

Winners were Dorothy Campbell, who is a freshman at Jackson College of Tufts University; John Lynch, at MIT, and Stanley Marshall, at the University of Maine.

In 1956, also, three scholarships were awarded: to Allen Lynch for the freshman year at Boston University; to Kathleen Andrews and Agnes Houston, both of whom entered Regis College.

Wayland townspeople are now being offered this year's opportunity to help build the scholarship fund by purchasing tickets to the PTA Scholarship Frolic, to be held Wednesday, April 9, at Ten Acres. Entertainment will begin with the cocktail hour and run through the evening, arranged by a committee of which B. J. Nolan is chairman.

The committee in charge of ticket sales, headed by Mrs. John Simoni, includes Miss Nancy Zullo, Louis J. Taris and Reid Taylor of the High School faculty. Mrs. Howard Weeks is chairman of the committee on sponsors. Programs are being arranged by Peter C. Baker and Mrs. Ernest Walston. Mrs. John B. Gregory is publicity chairman, assisted by Mrs. Blakeslee H. Colby.

Local League Leaders Favor Trade Agreement

WESTON — Miss Florence Freeman, President of the League of Women Voters of Weston, Mrs. Lawrence F. Davis, 2nd Vice President, and Mrs. Burton A. Bromfield, International Relations Chairman, were among those from Weston who attended the luncheon meeting at the University Club, March 20, sponsored by the Boston League of Women Voters and the World Trade Center.

Mrs. John G. Lee, President of the League of Women Voters of the United States, spoke on "Trade Agreements 1958". She was introduced by Mr. Ernest Henderson, President of the World Trade Center and former President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

The luncheon meeting was held as a kick-off for the drive for support of the five-year renewal of the Trade Agreements Act which is before Congress again. The League has stood squarely behind the Act since 1936 believing that it is in the overall national interest despite some regional business dislocations. It agrees with Eric Johnston, the advisor to the President on trade and aid, that the Reciprocal Trade Act is "one of the sturdiest columns supporting our capitalist economy". Hereabouts there is strong protectionist opposition to the Act on the part of fisheries, wool importers, textile and watch manufacturers and others.

The Weston League is in the process of formulating plans to arouse the interest of citizens in the importance of reciprocal trade to our national security and economy. At its last board meeting it decided to contact other organizations and groups in town and important businessmen to enlist support for the extension of the Trade Agreements Act which expires in June.

Others from this area who attended the luncheon were Rep. James DeNormandie of Lincoln, Mrs. Rudolph Bruce of Wayland, Public Relations Chairman of the Massachusetts Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Karnig Berberian, a member of the Wayland LWV Board in charge of training discussion leaders and also a member of the State Board and Editor of the State Bulletin.

Weston Votes Average Teacher Raises of $687, But Not More

WESTON — After a long debate, in which both the local and national implications of teachers' pay were explored, Weston voters decided, 250 to 110, in annual Town Meeting, March 31, that the average $687 raise allotted by the School Committee for this year should stand.

The action came on a motion by Richard D. Robinson of 89 Ash Street, who asked to amend the school budget to add $6000 for salaries this year and, consequently, $18,000 next year.

The Finance Committee representatives said they thought the pay increases already provided for by the School Committee were more than adequate for now.

Part of the argument was whether Weston should lead the parade in salaries or should remain in a favorable competitive position.

In the end, both Finance Committee and Selectmen asked the citizens to go along with the School Committee. John G. Brooks of the School Committee said that the proposed budget increases the minimums to $4000 for women and $4200 for men, lifts the maximums by $500, provides annual increments of $200 and applies merit adjustments.

The Town voted $15,000 to buy 68 acres of land in Jericho, to be added to the Town Forest, and money for playgrounds at Cat Rock and on the Jennings land in the South end of Town.

In the election, Dr. William A. Elliston was chosen to the two-year term on the Planning Board, 296 to 102, over Edgar St. Germain, in the only contest. The referendum, to provide health insurance for Town employees, carried, 333 to 33, it was announced.

Mr. Francis G. Goodale, Moderator since 1948, presided. A resolution of appreciation for his services to the Town was voted.

Letters to the EDITOR

About D.A.R.

To the Editor:

I have enjoyed so many of your topics on the History of Wayland also read with interest the articles from the Wayside Inn Chapter D.A.R. As Secretary of our Chapter here in Stamford, the Gov. John Winthrop Chapter, I have read your articles to our members at many meetings.

As I had lived in Cochituate for many years, and my dad held many offices in the town, I did not have the pleasure of joining the Chapter in Wayland for I would have liked to have met the 50-year member of the D.A.R. Society, Mrs. John J. Erwin, who has done so much for the D.A.R. in her own town, and for the State and National Society.

I will be a delegate from our Chapter along with Mrs. Ralph A. Wilkinson, Past Regent, to go to Washington in April, and hope to bring back many interesting slides and movies of D.A.R. interests to show at one of our Chapter meetings at a later date.

Sincerely,
Doris Hobbs

Dr. Fuchs To Speak On Sane Nuclear Policy

WESTON — An international agreement to suspend hydrogen bomb tests, with a system of inspection under the United Nations, is urged by Dr. Lawrence Fuchs of Weston, who will be one of the speakers at the forthcoming forum on April 16 at the Jones House.

Dr. Lawrence H. Fuchs

In urging this step Dr. Fuchs takes issue with the views expressed by Dr. Edward Teller and Dr. Albert Latter in their book, "Our Nuclear Future", excerpts from which were recently printed in the Boston Globe.

Dr. Fuchs says: "What Dr. Teller fails to realize is that the main reason for ending nuclear tests is to establish a system of nuclear inspection under the United Nations which is the first and necessary step toward enforceable world disarmament."

Dr. Louis S. Osborn of Arlington, also a speaker at the forum, in commenting on the statistics given by Dr. Teller in support of his arguments for continuation of tests, says: "In order for the public to make a reasonable decision, all facts must be considered, not merely certain facts."

Col. Richard S. Leghorn of Weston, the third speaker of the evening, has this to say from the military point of view: "I personally hold firmly to the view that within a few years Russia will accept enough controls to stabilize the arms race."

The Weston forum promises to provide lively and informative discussion of the issues raised by Dr. Teller and also of the broader program of the Greater Boston Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. The meeting is sponsored by the Weston members of the Committee.

WHY THE WORLD-WIDE COMPETITION AD?

The Weston Members of the Working Committee, Greater Boston Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, have launched the "World-Wide Competition" advertisement on page 5 because they believe in the point of view so well expressed by the well-known lawyer, Grenville Clark, co-author of the new book, "World Peace Through World Law":

"OUR SALVATION MUST, IN ALL LIKELIHOOD, COME FROM THE CREATIVE THINKING AND PERSISTENT ADVOCACY OF PRIVATE CITIZENS, NOT SUBJECT TO THE HANDICAPS AND INHIBITIONS OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICIAL. . . .

"We all need to realize more sharply, I believe, that this problem of substituting world law for international violence is not one which can or will be solved by chiefs of state, prime ministers or foreign offices, and that it is PRIMARILY A MATTER FOR THE PEOPLE THEMSELVES THE WORLD OVER, drawing upon all their resources . . .

"There are inherent reasons why executive officials cannot reasonably be expected to initiate the novel and, indeed revolutionary measures without which genuine peace will remain a dream."

Obviously the Weston Committee had time to ask only a relatively few Weston people to sponsor the advertisement. However it hopes that after reading this statement and advertisement, many more in Weston will feel equally inspired to give their names and support.

WORLD-WIDE COMPETITION

$10,000,000,000,000 in TAX-FREE PRIZES

You Are Already Entered! If your name begins with A, B, C, to Z, or with △, ϕ, or ⊖, or if you live in the U.S.A., Russia, or any place on earth, you are already entered in this competition. Your children and grandchildren are entered automatically.

THE PRIZES are conservatively valued at more than TEN TRILLION DOLLARS: They include:

A five-mile layer of pure, non-radioactive air.
Cities consisting of buildings, not rubble.
Water reservoirs not contaminated with fall-out.
Farmlands capable of growing edible food.
Milk without cancer-producing Strontium 90.
Healthy children-to-be: your descendants.
Your home, car, TV set (and incidentally your life).
— Various extras, such as unlimited energy from the atom, and perhaps interplanetary travel.

What is the Competition For? The survival of mankind. It is a competition between man's ability to create and man's ability to destroy. Man can make this earth a paradise, or he can now make it a vast cemetery, forever as dead and silent as the moon.

Which Side is Mankind On? Both! People are striving to make the world a better place to live in, yet these same people are making bigger and bigger stockpiles of nuclear bombs and missiles.

The Basic Problem: Already the U.S.A. and Russia have more than enough nuclear bombs to kill, quickly or slowly, every man, woman and child on earth.

We have created "such scientific instruments of destruction that we are now in desperate danger of destroying ourselves . . . The central problem of our time — as I view it — is how to employ human intelligence for the salvation of mankind." General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, "Boston Sunday Globe," Jan. 5, 1958.

Starting Date of the last phase of this competition: August 7, 1945, at Hiroshima, Japan.

How to Withdraw from the Competition: You can't — EVER! The only hope is to terminate the competition.

How to Lose the Competition: Just keep hoping for the best. Do nothing about it. If we get wiped out, so will they. What could be fairer?

Suggestions:

Finding a road to peace is not easy. We must work hard to find and then build it. When you ask people for constructive suggestions, you are apt to get answers like these: "Pray," "Understand Russia better," "Strengthen the UN," "Train more scientists," "Educate the underdeveloped countries," "Vote for so-and-so." Some people say: "We must all be friendly before we can disarm," while others say the reverse: "Let's all disarm, then we can all be friendly."

Undoubtedly some of these suggestions have merit. However, we who are paying for this "ad" are convinced that:

1. The primary step toward peace is to suspend the testing of nuclear bombs in both the U.S.S.R. and the United States, and provide adequate inspection by the UN. Such a move would help reduce world tensions and pave the way for solving other international problems.

   We find it difficult to follow the position taken by Dr. Edward Teller when "he makes claims which even the United States Atomic Energy Commission has specifically avoided." Norman Cousins, in the "Saturday Review" of March 15, 1958, also says: "One of his principal reasons for continuing unlimited testing is that he is confident that eventually he can produce a 'clean bomb'. This is a startling way of describing a weapon with reduced radioactive fallout that has lost none of its power for incinerating millions of people. Most difficult of all to comprehend is why it should be necessary to spend billions of dollars to develop a bomb to get rid of a radioactive hazard that is supposed to be negligible in the first place."

2. The U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. should negotiate steadily and tirelessly until control over nuclear bombs and missiles is achieved.

3. Even during the negotiation of controls, communication between peoples of the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. should be promoted by the exchange of students, teachers, scientists, businessmen, farmers, technicians and just plain tourists.
   " . . . the more contact we have between people of the two nations the quicker we'll realize we are all human, with weaknesses, with limitations, and that for better or worse we had better agree not to annihilate each other . . . I'd like to see constant exchanges between scientists, educators, artists, people of the two countries." — Cyrus S. Eaton, Chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, "New York Herald Tribune," November 8, 1957.

Conclusions: The problem must be solved soon if at all. It is too big for just a few to solve. We all need each other's help. If enough of us put our minds on it, we may come up with new constructive ideas. We need to talk with friends, club members, neighbors, church groups. We need to write our ideas to the President and Congress. The competition is on. Our lives are at stake. There is NO WITHDRAWING FROM THE COMPETITION.

What You Can Do Now:

1. Latest developments indicate the urgent need for sending wires and letters to the President and to his disarmament advisor, James Wadsworth, at the White House, urging immediate postponement of the impending tests and negotiation of an international U.N. Agreement to stop tests.
2. Talk to your friends about the ideas in this advertisement. Offer your name as a sponsor of this advertisement or similar ones. A wider public concern is a start in the right direction.
3. Make up your mind about these problems and write to people, including those in public office who serve you, such as:
   Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C.
   Senator John F. Kennedy, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C.
   Representative Harold D. Donohue, House Office Building, Washington, D.C.
4. Mail us the information coupon below. We want your comment on our proposals and the advertisement.
5. Send a contribution with the information coupon. It will make possible further publication of advertisements such as this.

William Gauthier Is New VFW Commander

WAYLAND—The annual election of officers of the Wayland Post 6260, V.F.W., took place at the post quarters in Cochituate on Tuesday, March 18.

The following men were elected: William Gauthier of Park Lane, Cochituate, Commander.

Edward R. Connolly of Stonebridge Road, Cochituate, Senior Vice Commander.

Donald F. Landry of 12 Yorks Road, Framingham Centre, Junior Vice Commander.

Joseph O'Day, Riverview Circle, Cochituate, Quartermaster.

John Bryant, Chaplain.

Dr. David Corey, Post Surgeon.

Carl Lindbohm, Sylvester Landry and George Monreau, Trustees.

It was announced that 100 per cent membership has already been attained. Plans are being made for an open house to take place in April. All townspeople and veterans will be invited to attend. The date will be announced soon. The new addition is completed and there is now a sizeable hall which is available for town organizations. At the present time a group of Brownies avail themselves of this hall and two other town groups meet there weekly.

Weston LWV Members Get A Big Hand From The Legislators

WESTON—The League of Women Voters of Weston entertained the three members of the Massachusetts General Court who represent Weston citizens, Senator Charles W. Olson of Ashland, Representative J. Robert Ayers of Weston and Representative Henry A. Turner of Waltham, at a luncheon at the Bellevue Hotel in Boston, March 26.

Mrs. Allen E. Cole, Legislative Chairman, made the arrangements for the luncheon and a tour of the State House afterwards. Miss Florence Freeman, Mrs. Lawrence F. Davis, Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis, Mrs. Charles Carr Jr., Mrs. Charles E. Applegate, Mrs. Lawrence Pexton and Mrs. Harold Downing, former President of the Waltham League who has moved to Weston, were among those who attended. There was a lively discussion of the League's 1958 Legislative Program.

In the afternoon members of the group had the opportunity to observe both the Senate and the House of Representatives in session. In both houses they were formally introduced from the gallery and enthusiastically applauded from the floor. They were fortunate to be in the Senate when the bill to abolish the educational requirements for parole officers was swiftly and resoundingly defeated. The League of Women Voters has worked hard in opposition to this and similar bills.

Rummage Sale Work Day

WESTON — The Women's Guild of the First Baptist Church will hold its regular monthly meeting and rummage sale workday on Wednesday, April 9, at the church at 10 a.m.

The Friendship Circle will hold a food sale in the Ladies Parlor to sell to the ladies who come to work on the sale, which will be held on Friday, April 11 at the church from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

The business meeting will be at 11:30 a.m. Bring a box lunch. Coffee and dessert served by Mrs. Harold Mosher, Mrs. Wallace Sawyer and Miss Valerie Colpitts.

Committee in charge of the sale includes Mrs. John Akers, Mrs. Norman Stockellburg and Mrs. Joseph Crowe. In charge of coffee and doughnuts will be Mrs. N. Hugh MacDonald, Miss Mabel Burrage, Mrs. John Maher and Mrs. Terrance Shown.

Water Resources To Be Studied By LWV Units

WESTON—On the Water Front might be the title for next week's attraction produced by the Conservation Committee of the League of Women Voters of Weston. The League committee will take up facts and figures for a discussion of water resources at three unit meetings. Mrs. Frank M. Lewis is chairman of the Conservation Committee which includes Mrs. Fred Amon, Mrs. Leo Christopher, Mrs. Raymond L. Clapp, Mrs. William A. Elliston, Mrs. Chester Graves, Mrs. Lyman Stone Hayes and Mrs. Wilmot Whitney, Jr.

The first unit meeting will be held next Tuesday morning, April 8, at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Victor C. Harnish, 327 Boston Post Road, with Mrs. R. Douglas Pillsbury acting as discussion leader.

The one evening unit meeting planned for this month is scheduled for Wednesday, April 9, at Miss Florence Freeman's, 18 Montvale Road, with Mrs. Thomas S. Barrows as leader.

Mrs. Mead Hartwell will lead the discussion at the third meeting Friday morning, April 11, at 10 a.m. at 46 Hill Top Road, the home of Miss Muriel S. Haynes.

Coffee will be served at each meeting before discussion begins formally. As is usual at all L.W.V. meetings, non-members are as welcome as faithful duespaying Leaguers. Green thumbers, whose activities do not include the League but who have a concern for conservation would be an asset.

WESTON—Charles B. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan E. Smith of 39 Byron Road, a senior at Amherst College, has been named to the Dean's List for excellence in scholarship.

Sunday Afternoon Fire Drives Out 11 Persons

WAYLAND — Eleven persons were driven out of a three-family house at Main and King Streets, Cochituate, on Sunday afternoon, March 30, by a fire of undetermined origin which blocked traffic on Main Street for 3½ hours.

Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin praised the men of his Department for limiting the damage, which was confined to the rear of the building. The property is owned by George Mather, who lives on the ground floor. All the residents were able to reoccupy their homes, and nobody was hurt.

Police Chief Ernest H. Damon and officer John Pelletier detoured traffic from Main Street to School Street and East and West Plain Streets.

3-Hour Service Of 4 Weston Churches, 12-3 On Good Friday

WESTON—The Weston Council of Churches is sponsoring the traditional "Three Hour Service" on Good Friday from 12 noon until 3 p.m. at St. Peter's Church. Based on the seven last words or sayings of Christ from the cross before His death, the service will include eight 15-minute addresses from four Weston clergymen.

The Three Hour Service is so arranged that worshippers may come and go at any time. Each meditation is placed within a setting of hymns, scripture and prayer. Worshippers may come at any time, stay for as many meditations as they wish, and leave during one of the hymns.

"All are invited to stay for the entire Service, but inability to remain that long should not deter anyone from coming for a 'word' or two," the Council announced.

After an introductory address by the Rev. Philip S. Krug, Rector of St. Peter's, the congregation will hear the Rev. Miles Hanson, Jr., Minister of the First Parish Church, preach on the first two words. These are "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do", and "Today thou shalt be with me in paradise".

The Rev. Robert W. Huston, Minister of the Weston Methodist Church, will speak next on "Woman, behold thy son; Son, behold thy mother", and "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me!"

Addresses on the fifth and sixth words of Christ, "I thirst" and "It is finished", will be given by the Rev. Joseph E. O'Donnell, Jr., Pastor of the Weston Baptist Church.

The final meditation, "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit", will be by Mr. Krug, who is also officiant for the Service.

Mr. And Mrs. Elwell On TV

WAYLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Elwell, owners of Arrowhead Gardens, were featured guests March 28 on Joe Kelly's TV show, "New England Farm and Food Program". They discussed as well as demonstrated some of the finer points of raising Easter plants and propagation of bedding plants as carried on at their greenhouses on Plain Road and the Boston Post Road.

SMARC Meeting

Mr. Maurice Edelstein will be the guest speaker for the next monthly meeting of the South Middlesex Association for Retarded Cihldren, which will take place Monday, April 7, at 8 p.m. in the Natick Federal Savings Auditorium.

L. O. Mitchell Is V-P

WAYLAND—Louis O. Mitchell of 23 Red Barn Road, above, has been elected a vice-president of Trans-Sonics, Inc., Burlington, Mass., according to a recent announcement by the Board of Directors of that firm. Mr. Mitchell, who has been the company production manager since 1948, is responsible for the introduction of new methods for automatic calibration and adjustment of precision instruments.

"Agricultural Club"

The newly-elected officers are John Benjamin, president; Sandra Woodard, vice-president; Dale Ferguson, secretary-treasurer. Other members are Mary Maguire, Guy and Alfred Gledhill, Peter Surgenor, Susan Cutler and Martin and Jane Benjamin.

Easter Sunrise Services

WAYLAND — Following the custom of recent years, a sunrise Easter service as held at the State Park on Route 30 at Lake Cochituate. Worshippers from the Cochituate Community Methodist Church joined with many from Natick. Early in the day the weather was clear, but later it rained hard.

WESTON — Many got out of bed at the crack of dawn on Easter Sunday to attend services on the Town Green. Afterwards, breakfast was served in the hall of the First Parish Church. Weston Baptist Church, St. Peter's Episcopal Church, the Weston Methodist Church and the First Parish Church all joined for the service.

Weston Ministers To Discuss Arms Race In April 13 Sermons

WESTON — Ministers of three Protestant churches of Weston will address their sermons next Sunday, April 13, to one of the most important questions of our day, that of the armaments race and its perplexing social and moral problems.

"Christians in the Nuclear Age" is the topic of the Reverend Philip S. Krug at St. Peter's Episcopal Church. The Reverend Joseph E. O'Donnell of the First Baptist Church, taking his text from St. Mathew 7: 13-14, asks "Which Gate is Life?" and at the First Parish Church (Unitarian) the Reverend Dan H. Fenn, guest minister from Wayland, deals with "A Hard Saying."

Parishioners of the Weston Methodist Church are no strangers to these issues, for they have already heard the Reverend Robert W. Huston's messages entitled "Adventure in Testimony" and "The Modern Samaritan."

This concentration of effort, is in fact a cooperative one. Its purpose is in part to focus attention on the forthcoming open Public Discussion at the Jones

No Rocket Fuel Permits Will Be Issued By Local Fire Chiefs

WAYLAND — Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin has announced that the Fire Department will not issue licenses for the local storage of rocket fuel, which he describes as highly dangerous even in the hands of experts.

It isn't that he's against science, he says, but it's the law. The Department of Public Safety classifies rocket fuel and similar substances as fireworks, which are not to be possessed or set off except under strict legal conditions.

He has had one request for a permit to handle rocket fuel in Wayland, he says, and has refused it. He makes the announcement because of the growing interest among boys in rockets, and he doesn't want any local youngsters to blow themselves up.

Fire Chief Maurice L. Upham of Weston says he has had no requests, but that he would refuse them on the same statutory grounds, unless a bond were posted. He, too, says rocket fuel comes under the head of fireworks.

Says Chief Hartin:

Recent experimentations with rockets and rocket fuel have caused many serious injuries to young people. The building and attempted launching of rockets is not only extremely dangerous but also illegal.

"The materials used in making rockets, bombs or other explosives come within the definition of "Fireworks" and their possession or use is generally prohibited by the statutes.

WESTON — Police Chief J. Sumner Viles reports that a local 12-year-old boy set off a salt cellar full of gunpowder on Golden Ball Road on March 31. Lots of noise and smoke and nobody hurt, but the legal name for it, says the Chief, is "exploding a bomb", and it's serious.

"These devices and fuels are extremely dangerous, even in the hands of highly qualified scientists, working under the strictest of controlled conditions. Serious injuries and fatalities have occurerd even among these groups.

"Most of the States and many municipalities have enacted legislation which outlaws the manufacture, sales, and firing of fireworks by unlicensed persons.

Dog License Time

WESTON — Police Chief J. Sumner Viles wants to remind people that it's dog license time again. See the Town Clerk, he says, before the family pet becomes a case for the dog officer.

Wayland Woman's Club Gives 2 Scholarships

WAYLAND — The Wayland Woman's Club this year will give two scholarships to 1958 graduates of Wayland High School, instead of one as in the past. Last year there was one $300 scholarship and this year there will be two of $200 each.

The first scholarship will go to "the most outstanding graduate of this class who has been accepted at a four-year college." Other considerations are "high scholastic achievement, outstanding service to school and community and favorable attitude." No application is necessary for this award.

The other scholarship will go to a girl entering a service profession such as teaching or nursing. Points to be considered for this award will be "need, scholastic achievement (at least a B average), school and community service."

This scholarship will have to be applied for. Forms will be available in the Guidance Office at the school. Two forms must be filled out during April, one by the applicant and the other by parent or guardian.

The Club awarded its first scholarship of $100 in 1946, when Mrs. Paul Hamlen was president, to Arlene MacCallum, who went to Boston University.

Five recent recipients of Woman's Club scholarships are now in colleges. They are Nicholas B. Willard, Brown University; Mary Jane Fabisak, Pembroke College; Jane Cahill, Framingham Teachers College; Joan Campbell, Simmons College Graduate School, after graduation from Bethany College, and Shirley Bentley, McMullin, director of the Westonaires. Proceeds will go to the David A. Perry Memorial Scholarship Fund. Call Mrs. Herbert E. Nelson for May 2 reservations, Mrs. McMullin for May 3.

Wayland High Ass'n Canvass, April 12, 13

WAYLAND — On April 12 and 13 students of Wayland High School, who participated in interscholastic athletics will make their annual door-to-door canvass to solicit funds. The goal will be $3,000. This money will be used to buy athletic equipment for both boys' and girls teams, which the Town doesn't usually provide.

This equipment includes such things as warm-up jackets for the football team, uniforms for the cheerleaders and special gym equipment. The program is sponsored by the Wayland High Association, a large group of citizens who are interested in fostering and encouraging interscholastic athletics.

The Wayland High Association will sponsor the annual all sports banquet on April 19, at which time jackets and letters will be awarded to this year's athletes. "Swede" Nelson, noted sports figure, will be the Guest speaker.

Bedford Bell Ringers

Mrs. Walter Prouty and Mrs. Thomas Hibbert are in charge of tickets, and Mrs. Leif Hansen is in charge of the candy.

Scientific Age—Boy Studies Rockets All Night, Skips School

WESTON — The scientific age, reports Police Chief J. Sumner Viles, may be blamed for the first case in 20 years of a Weston juvenile appearing in court for truancy.

The boy in question, he says, had been absent 45 times since last September. His mother reported, he says, that the boy would stay up all night studying and working on bombs and rockets, and then would be too sleepy to go to school.

The judge told the boy he'd better do his studying in school.

40 Bird Watchers See The Tufted Titmice

WESTON — The Massachusetts Audubon Society Field Trip to the Sudbury Valley on March 30th made a special stop in Weston to see the tufted titmice which have been coming daily to the feeder of Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Hills, 425 South Avenue, since January 12.

The birds obligingly appeared, as they have for many others who have stopped in to see them during the past two and one-half months. For the majority of the 40 on the field trip, the tufted titmouse was a first-in-a-lifetime bird.

The Hills' hospitality has been greatly appreciated by all who have seen these birds

Letters to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

Robert S. Ogilvie

Dec. 23, 1912 - April 3, 1958

Robert S. Ogilvie died most tragically for himself and his family. We who lived near him remember him in other ways.

Son of parents who were missionaries to China, his part in original and important contributions to the field of electroencephalography are on public record. For us he took the photographs we cherish of our families. Whether it was with his puppets, his magic tricks, his tape-recorder or his patient humor, he made natural and happy the sittings we as parents too often anticipated as only duty and obligation to social custom.

Whatever informal gathering, whether carols or bebop, Bob's company was an addition to its particular mood. It was Bob who saw to it that our children, and ourselves, made the most of our last opportunity for a Halloween hayride. One place along our street is more the way we like it because of his hours of work.

No conformist, no organization's man, these deeds stand in our memories to his permanent credit. Throughout his life he endeavored to live and work as a real individual. Though at the end he brought great grief to society and the ones he held most dear, we love him for what in life he stood for.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Burtis
Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Collard
Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Graves
Mr. and Mrs. G. F. F. Lombard
Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Reilly

WESTON — The Weston Heart Fund raised $3,461 last month, it has been reported .Samuel P. Sears of Boston, Massachusetts Heart Fund chairman, has praised Mrs. Randolph P. Rice, general chairman for Weston; Mrs. Robert B. Whittemore, Heart Sunday chairman, and Mrs. David R. Lutkins, advance gifts chairman, for notable achievement.

Wayland Science Fair, April 12

WAYLAND — The third annual Science Fair will be held at the Wayland High School Gymnasium on April 11 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and on Saturday, April 12 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. The fair will be open to the public on Saturday. Parents unable to attend on Saturday are invited on Friday night.

There will be a wide variety of projects that range from the theory of rockets and their construction to the development of the chick. Some of the previous winners at the Wayland Fair and the M.I.T. Fair will display new projects this year. Karl Schneider, who won the first grand prize at the Wayland Fair last year, is doing a project entitled "Regeneration of Planaria". Karl will demonstrate the phenomenal power of regeneration belonging to this small animal as well as the controlling factors involved in this unusual ability.

Robert Lucey, who placed first in the Physics Section last year, will display his own closed-circuit television set. He will have all the components of a transmitting and receiving set ready for use. If all goes well, he will be able to have the fair on his circuit and broadcast his own explanation of his project.

Robert Wildman will show his common action-reaction engine, the "Axial Flow Turbojet Engine." Bob has constructed a model of this popular engine, and will offer some arguments for as well as the defects of the jet engine.

Tom Cutter and Peter Gierasch are working on an analysis of elipsoids and hyperboloids of revolution. They are showing a model of an irregular elipsoid, and will attempt to discover its algebraic properties.

Ronnie Paradis and John Wesley will demonstrate the theory of rockets and show their own construction of one.

Brooke Gregory has designed and constructed a potentiometer for the determination of PH.

Allan Tallman has conducted a series of experiments on preferential uptake of P32 in fish tissue and will show his findings at the fair.

There will be approximately 200 exhibits at the fair arranged in six categories:

9th grade biological sciences, 9th grade physical sciences, general biology, biology chemistry and engineering.

Twenty local scientists have been signed up by the Science Fair Committee, John B. Gregory, Chairman, as judges. They include:

Dr. George F. Carrier, Mr. James L. Schad, Mr. Luther Davis, Jr., Dr. George W. Pratt, Mr. Frank H. Babers, Malcolm K. White.

Rockets

Since rockets and rocket fuels, in their preparation and in the quantity required, are infinitely more lethal, the Fire Department calls upon parents, teachers, and other responsible officials to ban their use immediately.

"The Department of Public Safety and your Fire Department are opposed to the encouragement of the study of chemistry, physics, and mathematics of rocketry by our youth. On the contrary, they would strongly urge that opportunity to study these fields, including the safety principles, be accelerated and strengthened so that more students will be ready to enter into studies in the higher realms of these sciences, thus preparing themselves for true scientific experimentation in the problems of space.

"In view of the foregoing, the Fire Department cannot assume reponsibility through the issue of a permit, for the proper storage and use of rocket fuel and in many cases, for the actual compounding of the various elements in preparation of the explosive charge, or for the hazards to life and property associated with the firing of said rockets."

Ministers

House on Wednesday evening, April 16.

At that time everyone will have the opportunity to hear three experts inquire "Shall We Stop the Bomb Tests? What Is a Sane Nuclear Policy"?

Two are Weston residents: Lawrence H. Fuchs, Professor of Political Science at Brandeis University, and Col. Richard S. Leghorn, President of Itech Corporation and former consultant to the White House Committee on Disarmament. They will be joined by Dr. Louis S. Osborne of Arlington, Director of the Synchrotron Laboratory of the M.I.T. Department of Physics.

Each member of the panel will consider a different aspect of the problem and will entertain questions from the audience. Professor Fuchs will deal with the political and diplomatic aspects of disarmament and control negotiations, which he has studied intensively.

Colonel Leghorn, author of numerous articles on military strategy and arms control and a member of the Committee on Space Surveillance of the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics, will take stock of the strategic situation. Dr. Osborne will summarize the scientific facts about detection of nuclear tests ,a subject which he has investigated with colleagues in the Federation of American Scientists. Moderator of the discussion will be Russell H. Johnson, Secretary of the Greater Boston Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

Weston members of this committee, aided by numerous sponsors whose names appeared in the full-page advertisement in last week's Crier, have organized the meeting in order to inform themselves and their fellow citizens more completely

Friendly Society To Give "The Male Animal" On April 25, 26

WESTON — A fine attendance is expected at both performances of "The Male Animal", Spring production of the First Parish Friendly Society of Weston, to be given on Friday evening, April 25, and Saturday evening, April 26, at 8 p.m., at the Weston Town House. The 13-member cast features an unusually large amount of new talent.

Dr. and Mrs. John C. Wells Jr., Committee Chairmen, have been hard at work. At both the Friday night performances they plan innovations: the serving of punch during the second intermission, a lobby display of photographs of the players taken by J. Bruce Dougherty, and, on the first floor of the Town House, an exhibition of paintings by Friendly Society members.

Mrs. Hamish Gravem of the cast is in charge of the art exhibit. Serving under Dr. and Mrs. Wells on the general committee are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koester, Dr. and Mrs. John P. Merrill, Mrs. Rearick Byrne, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Dougherty and Mr. Herbert Crouch.

For information about tickets, call Mrs. Ruth K. Moore at the First Parish House: TW 3-9633.

"Lassie League" Is Planned In Wayland

WAYLAND — The Way-Co Baseball program directors are planning a softball "Lassie League" this year for girls between the ages of 8 and 12. The program will be directed by Mrs. William Young and Mrs. George Smith of Sherman Bridge Road.

Registration for those who'd like to play will be at the Wayland and Cochituate fire stations on April 19, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon. Mothers who'd like to help are also asked to register.

Rummage Sale Raises $1000, Halts Traffic

WAYLAND—The rummage sale at the First Parish Church on April 12 made a profit of more than $1000, it is reported, and also, along with the Science Fair at the High School, created a big traffic jam in the Center. Both affairs started at 10 a.m.

Chairmen for the rummage sale were Mrs. Henry M. Doane and Mrs. Edwin G. Schneider.

Weston People Discuss Educational Needs Of Proposed High School

WESTON — One hundred persons assembled at the High School on April 7 to begin a series of weekly Monday night meetings on the educational needs of the projected new high school. Dr. Anthony Brackett, superintendent of schools, originated the series to sound out the thinking of townspeople and teachers, and a final report of findings will be sent to the School Committee.

The group of 70 townspeople and 30 teachers was considerably in excess of the official nucleus of 40 parents and teachers selected geographically and by grade by the grade mothers at Dr. Brackett's request. Any interested citizens are still welcome to attend.

The group split into five different discussion groups, varying in size from 50 in "Subject Areas" to 12 in "Personal Problems". Each discussion group elected a chairman and recorder who summarizes the conclusions to the reassembled group each meeting, and then in writing to Dr.

Brothers Win At Trout Derby

WAYLAND — About 130 kids were on hand for the 4th Annual Wayland Kiwanis Trout Derby held at the pond on Old Connecticut Path, April 12. Two brothers garnered top honors in the two age classes.

Peter Dicks, 6, won his new complete spinning outfit with a 12½-inch trout and his older brother, Steve, 12, received a duplicate outfit with a 14-incher. Young Peter outfished a third brother, David, 9, who won 3rd prize in the younger class with a 10½-inch fish. The trout completely ignored the girls, 15 of whom competed with no luck. A special prize for the girl taking the largest fish went begging.

Complete list of prize winners, age class up to 12 years: 1st, Peter Dicks; 2nd, Andy Kilburn; 3rd, David Dicks; 4th, Tommy Kinder; 5th, Dave Carr. A special prize for the first fish went to Bill Morris.

Age class from age 11 to 15: 1st, Steve Dicks; 2nd, Pete Vrann; 3rd, Howie Woollard; 4th, Ted Langley; 5th, Richard Schneekloth; 6th, Tommy Crowley.

The Boys and Girls Work Committee was in charge of the Derby. Co-chairmen were Edward A. Veno and George Stockbridge.

Where's Old Sudbury Road In Lincoln?

WAYLAND—Some of the confusion in our midst centers around Waltham Road, or, as they call it in Lincoln, Old Sudbury Road.

Waltham Road, Wayland, goes off Concord Road at the monument near the Lincoln line. It runs East for a long quarter mile and it has seven houses on it. At the Lincoln line to the East it suddenly becomes Old Sudbury Road, Lincoln, and runs for a half mile to Route 117, near the railroad crossing, with 18 or 20 houses on it.

People get mixed up trying to locate places on this street. There is a Sudbury Road in Weston and an Old Sudbury Road in Wayland, to make matters worse.

One man, it's reported, who tried to find a place on Waltham Road, Wayland, "drove three hours and wound up in Acton."

Change of Date

WESTON—Because of a conflict of dates with the nuclear policy meeting on April 16, the School Committee's public meeting to discuss double sessions has been postponed until Thursday, April 17, at the Country School.

Motorist Who Discovered Emmons Fire Reported It At Concord

Wayland fire fighters at the Emmons home. At right, in white helmet, Chief Hartin. At foot of the right hand ladder, police officer Edward Burke. Firefighter beside him is unidentified, as is spectator in leather jacket, center. Lieut. Al Lawrence is on the roof, center. Half way up the right hand ladder is Jack Sullivan. At the top of the left hand ladder is George Shepard Jr. and below him is David Hollis. On the porch roof is Reed Porter. At left, on the ground, is Russell Rogers. The man in coat and boots, with a uniform cap on, standing, is from Lincoln.

WAYLAND — A motorist, unidentified, first discovered the fire which took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Emmons of 317 Concord Road on the morning of April 10, and then drove all the way to the Concord town police station, eight miles, to report it, says Fire Chief Francis J. Hartin.

Here is his story of the event, with part of the chronology:

The Wayland dispatcher received the alarm from Concord at 5:08 a.m. He sounded Box 7.

No regular men were on duty in either fire station at that hour. There are two men on duty in the daytime, because most of the call men work out of Town.

When the alarm was given, tappers in their homes waked the call men and the regulars. They jumped out. dressed and headed for their stations.

The Chief was in his car, in his own driveway on Main Street, before the whistle stopped. He got the location of the fire from the dispatcher, then headed for the scene.

Meanwhile, police officer Edward Burke had stopped by the fire station and learned of the fire's location. He went to it, then immediately radioed back that the building was completely involved and that two persons were trapped inside.

It took 3½ minutes for the first men to reach the stations and get the trucks rolling. From Wayland Center to the Emmons house is four miles, more than four minutes even if the trucks are driven faster than they are supposed to be. In this case, the men on the trucks knew, from the radio report, how serious the situation was.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Arthur Russell, a near neighbor of the Emmons, had discovered the fire for the second time, when she went outdoors with her dogs.

She screamed and wakened W. Lorne Yorke, next door, who rushed out and tried to enter the Emmons house, without success. Then he ran back inside his own home and called the Wayland fire department. Paul W. Scoville of 318 Concord Road, also awakened, managed to get close enough to break glass in the downstairs door of the Emmons house, but couldn't get in.

Mr. Yorke then also telephoned to the Lincoln fire dept. The Lincoln Town line is only a step away.

When he arrived at the fire, says Chief Hartin, the first Wayland truck was in sight coming up Concord Road, and the first

Bermuda Shorts Tale From South Africa

WESTON — Members of Weston Rotary Club heard a new story about Bermuda shorts at their April 10 meeting.

The speaker was Ndabaningi Sithole, now 38 and a student at Andover-Newton Theological School. He grew up in Southern Rhodesia, he said, and when he was a boy it was generally supposed white people had no knees, because they were always covered by trousers or skirts.

Ndabaningi Sithole

Then one day, he said, he saw a man in Bermuda shorts on the golf course, and went home to tell his mother that white men did have knees.

"Don't tell anybody," she told him. "They'll never believe you."

Mr. Sithole made no comments on the Bermuda shorts visible around here. He speaks Zulu, and gave the Rotarians an interesting language lesson.

Local Streets Are So Crooked Columbus Couldn't Find North

Newcomers to this region often complain, and why should they, when they don't know each other as well as older residents do? that there are no directions of a dependable nature around here.

In some places, they say, North is North and South is South, and they never meet but everybody knows where they are and consequently they know where people live and which way they're going.

But the streets and byways around here, bordered by stone walls of fantastic length and size, have no location on the compass.

Take Wellesley Street in Weston. It goes to Wellesley, and there all reason departs.

Its direction is indescribable. There's a tradition that in early days no hay wagon more than four feet in length ever traversed it. Any longer vehicle would have been twisted out of shape in its sharp changes of direction.

Take Old Connecticut Path in Wayland. It goes neither from East to West nor from North to South, as a decent road should. It just goes on a slant. Nobody living on this street, it is reported, knows which way is Mecca, and therefore it is boycotted as a residential area by every Mohammedan in Town.

Or take Route 126 or Route 27, whichever one chooses to call it, from South to North in Wayland.

It makes more turns than a whirling dervish. One house on it may face East, the next one West, the next one South. Where it points when it veers under the stone cliff near the golf course nobody knows. The only thing sure is that Sudbury is on the left. Sudbury is where the mosquitoes come from, born on the West wind to the back yards of Wayland.

When Sudbury and Wayland were separated, Sudbury kept the Town records and the Town mosquitoes. It's a conservative sort of Town. Mosquitoes were good enough for its grandpa and by gee they're good enough today.

So much for Sudbury, which is believed to lie to the West. The word "lie" should not be misconstrued. So far as known, truth is as highly regarded in Sudbury as anywhere else, which isn't so much at that.

These twisted roads make it difficult to tell from which direction the wind is blowing.

There was a Weston man, in 1906, who had a theory he could tell wind direction by noticing which way women's skirts were blowing.

Back in those days Weston was a farming community and the women, naturally, wore overalls. Then the overalls would wear out on the bottom and the women would gradually trim them with scissors. Thus the overall legs would rise by degrees from ground level to knee level, and thus came the sawed off dungaree, from which evolved the fancy Bermuda short.

It's a sharp eyed character who can tell the wind direction by peering at Bermuda shorts, and besides, he should be ashamed of himself for staring.

It's true that a woman in skirts walked down through the middle of the Weston business section the other day, and it's true that 11 children were following her, goggle eyed.

Turned out she was from the Back Bay in Boston and didn't know the customs of the country.

Reminds one of the old story about the mother in the sea coast town whose son ran away to sea.

Years later there was a great storm and a ship foundered on the beach. Mother was out there with the rest of the beachcombers, salvaging loot and disposing of survivors. She came across a shipwrecked sailor who was still breathing. She looked at him, and lo! it was her long lost son.

"Mother!" gasped the man.

"Sorry, son," said Ma. "Custom of the Country." She beaned him with a club and picked his pockets.

The only reliable directions around here are up and down. All others are cockeyed.—D.B.W.

Tom Kelly Will Go To Flint Science Fair

WESTON — Thomas J. Kelly Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kelly of 1 Lantern Lane, a junior at Weston High School, was the top winner in the recent Worcester Regional Science Fair, and as a result will represent Massachusetts at the National Science Fair to be held at Flint, Michigan, May 7-10.

Title of Tom's project is "Microbiological studies on the metabolic mechanism of 4-Aminomethylpteroyglutamic acid and nucleic acid metabolism." Boiled down, says Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer, High School science teacher, this means something to do with basic cancer research.

H. Theodore Lehne of Weston, whose project was "Hexaflezagons—Theory and Practical Construction", won an honorable mention at Worcester. Hexaflexagons, says Mr. Sawyer, don't amount to much, but they are interesting and are attracting attention in the mathematics set.

Mr. Sawyer will go to Flint with Tom Kelly.

Weston Becomes First Mass. High School To Offer Russian Course

WESTON — Beginning Russian will be offered to Weston High students in September, 1958, as one of several changes in the curriculum authorized by the Weston School Committee. First year French will be offered in the freshman year and there will be considerable upgrading of standards in the science areas.

Weston High School, in offering Russian, is said to be breaking new ground. Principal Julius H. Mueller says four private preparatory schools in Massachusetts offer the language, but no public high schools. Four high schools are reported to be thinking about it, but Weston is the first to go ahead.

The School Committee took its action after Superintendent of Schools Anthony Brackett consulted with the heads of the modern language departments of the leading local colleges, who recommended the study of Russian rather than that of German in broadening the High School's language curriculum.

People fall off home ladders at the rate of 392,000 a year, it is reported.

Father-Daughter Supper

WESTON — The main event for Troop 22 of the Weston Brownie Scouts during March was a Father-Daughter supper on March 12. The girls prepared for the meal by making the individual place mats and cookies the afternoon of the day before.

Each girl then brought the main part of the meal ready to serve. After dinner they combined a display of their handiwork with a quiz game by identifying the birds which decorated the aprons they were wearing. Each girl had made her own apron.

The fire building charade was fun for all with many humorous remarks by the fathers. A skit about Girl Scout laws ended the evening. The leaders of this troop are Mrs. R. A. Stauffer, Mrs. A. T. Monahon and Mrs. Bernard Warren.

Dr. Howard Attends Congress In France

Following the Congress, Dr. Howard will take part in several special horticultural excursions in France, visiting the Museum d'Histoire Natural in Paris before flying to England, where he will be the guest of Dr. George Taylor, director of the Royal Botanic Gardens at Kew.

Emmons Fire

Lincoln truck was in sight coming down the road.

For some reason unknown, he says, the fire started just above the heater. That was a hot air furnace, with pipes, originally fed by coal and transformed into an oil burner. There were storm windows on the house, which acted as air seals. Thus the fire smoked and smouldered, probably for some time, filling the house with fumes. Dr. J. Harry McCann, medical examiner, gave "suffocation and burns" as the cause of death. Chief Hartin thinks it is most probably that suffocation was the primary cause.

When the firemen arrived, they immediately threw up ladders and tried to get the person they could see at a window. That was Mrs. Emmons, who had reached a storm window and partly broken it before she lost consciousness.

In this effort Capt. Clifford Wedlock was burned and cut. David Hollis cut his hands and was partly overcome by smoke, as were George Shepard Jr. and Capt. Richard Gladu. They were treated at the scene and returned to duty.

Chief Hartin makes the point that, in the night time, there is no way to cut down the time it takes the call men to get to the station and then to the fire. In this case he says the elapsed time between sounding of the alarm and arrival of the first apparatus was eight minutes. Cochituate apparatus, with three miles further to go, was correspondingly later in arriving. And this happened to be one of the longest runs the Wayland Department has to make.

What he wants is what he wrote in his recommendation in the Town Report, "gradual provision for two men in each station 24 hours a day." This would cut down the 3½ minutes it now takes for the men at their homes to get on the job. In this particular case, he says, he doesn't think that saving those minutes would have saved lives. But he thinks there's bound to be a case, sooner or later, where three minutes will make a great deal of difference.

Easter Egg Hunt

WESTON — The first-year Brownie Scouts of Troop 25 had an Easter egg hunt at the home of their leader, Mrs. Perry T. Banghart, 49 Hubbard Road, with 22 girls in the party. ## "Night Of Jan. 16" Is Senior Class Play

WAYLAND — Rehearsals are underway at Wayland High School for the annual Senior Class play. The play this year is a three-act comedy-drama, "The Night of January 16th," by Ayn Rand. Miss Rand is the author of the current best seller, "Atlas Shrugged."

The performances will be held on Thursday and Friday evenings, May 1 and 2 in the High School auditorium. The curtain will be at 8 p.m.

The play is a far cry from the typical high school comedies. It also has a large cast, 36, and over one-half of the Senior Class appears in this production.

Leading roles in the production will be taken by George Bradley, three-sport athlete and Senior Class President, who will play the role of Judge Heath. Thomas Cutter will play District Attorney Flint. Cynthia Dunnan will play the demanding role of attorney for the defense, Miss Stevens.

Karen Andre, the defendent on trial for murder, will be played by Barbara Wood. Mrs. Faulkner, widow of the murder victim, will be played by Anne Walsh. Comedy roles will be handled by Kristin Jensen, June Silva, Noel Willard and Raymond Columbe as witnesses.

The play is under the direction of Mr. Reed K. Taylor of the faculty.

Agnes Smith And George Bradley Win The Sportsmanship Awards

WAYLAND—Agnes Smith and George Bradley, both seniors, were given the Babe Ruth Good Sportsmanship Awards at the annual dinner of the Wayland High Association, held April 19 in the High School gym with 300 present.

George Bradley, who has starred in football, basketball and baseball, also won the Association award, a gold cup, for being the best athlete.

Black and orange jackets were awarded to more than two dozen seniors for athletic efforts. A football from last year's undefeated season was presented to the school, as was the basketball used in the last game of the Tech Tourney in Boston Garden, which Wayland won to take the Class D championship for the second year in a row.

Speaker of the evening was "Swede" Nelson, who delighted the audience with his funny stories.

Arold B. Bradley was master of ceremonies. President of the Association is William J. Morris; Vice President, G. P. Richardson; Secretary, Arnold B. Bradley, and Treasurer, Arthur F. Ferreira.

The Association thanked all the people who contributed so generously in the house-to-house canvass made recently by Wayland High students.

Invocation was given by Rev. William P. Castles and the benediction by Rev. Dan Huntington Fenn.

T. R. Magoun Given Boy Scout "Oscar"

COCHITUATE — Scouters and citizens of Cochituate recently paid tribute to the Boy Scout service of Theodore R. Magoun and presented him with the honored "Scout Oscar". In making the presentation, William E. Irwin, chief sponsor of Scouting in Cochituate, cited Mr. Magoun's six years as chairman of Pack I, Cochituate, as his base point but then went on to note his record of service to Scouting in the town and area.

Mr. Magoun has completed not only Council and Regional courses but also two courses offered Scouters by the National Training School at Schiff Reservation in Mendham, New Jersey. He has put this training to work as an instructor at the Algonquin Council Fay School Training Course Cubbing Section; as a member of the Algonquin Council Finance Committee; as former Neighborhood Commissioner for Wayland; as a member of the Coordinated Committee of the nine greater Boston Scout Councils in their relationships with the United Community Services; as a Merit Badge Counseillor of Troop I, Cochituate; and as a member of the Algonquin Council Executive Board.

Mr. Magoun has attended Camp Resolute three years with the boys in Troop I; assisted in "Operation Zero" (a winter training experience at Camp Resolute for Scouts), numerous Camporees, and two Explorer Balls. His campfire stories of "Cluck" are known throughout the Alganquin Council.

Parents Dislike Double Sessions, But Committee Sees No Way Out

WESTON — Warm arguments developed at the School Committee's open meeting of April 17, held at The Country School Auditorium to explain the whys and wherefores of double sessions for the 4th, 5th and 6th grades next year.

Double sessions, always unpopular with parents, were decided upon by the Weston School Committee because, as Chairman John G. Brooks of the Committee said, "Weston is a year behind in its school building program and is nine rooms short for next year.

Two hundred or more were present. Many questioned whether double sessions are really necessary. Statements as vigorous as some of those expressed in the recent centralization - versus - decentralization argument were uttered.

In the end, there was a show of hands of those willing to go along with double sessions, against those against double sessions. No formal count of hands was made. Observers thought the count might have been nearly 50-50.

45 Pupils Per Room

The Committee's position:

Next year Grade 8 will be taken from the High School and Grades 7 and 8 will go into Building C. That leaves for the elementary school pupils 19 rooms in the County School, and seven in Building A.

The Committee investigated increasing class sizes, but found it would involve having 45 pupils per room.

Wayland offered to take 50 pupils and integrate them into the Cochituate School. But no nearby Town could take all the extra pupils, nor is there enough full-time space in other buildings in Weston. The Committee's effort was "to find what interferes least with the children's education and double sessions is the least awful solution."

The proposed schedule:

8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for the morning session and 12:30 p.m to 5 p.m. for the afternoon. Each child would have a half year of morning and afternoon sessions. In Winter, 5 p.m. is rather late for children to be on their way home, and the afternoon session might have to be let out earlier.

How Long?

Mr. Brooks introduced a panel, consisting of Mrs. Mary C. Crawford and Mr. James Robbins of the School Committee, Mrs. Marjorie Burrill, elementary supervisor; Mr. McFarlin, elementary school principal, and Dr. Anthony Brackett, school superintendent, to answer questions.

Some of the exchanges:

Q. How long will double sessions last?

A. One year, if the new school is finished by September, 1959. Slight possibility of double sessions in 1960-61, before the new High School is finished.

Q. How many children involved?

A. 488.

Garden Club Plans To Beautify Bog And Brook At High School

WAYLAND—As the biggest civic project it has yet undertaken, the Wayland Garden Club is planning to turn the unsightly swamp hole in front of the High School into a small model wildlife sanctuary and wetlands arboretum.

The area involved is part of the bed of Mill Brook, from the place where it goes under Cochituate Road to the comparatively new road from the High School to Pelham Island Road. Here the brook is at the level of the Sudbury River. In flood seasons it becomes a broad lagoon, and in dry times it is a ditch bordered by a bog.

The Club has engaged Mr. Egbert Hans, consultant in landscape architecture and conservation to the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources; to design the project, which will be completed under his guidance.

The Club is also cooperating with the Town Park Department, which is in charge of this area. Local advisors for the project are Mr. George K. Lewis, Wayland Water Commissioner, and Mr. Allen H. Morgan of Cochituate Road, executive vice president of the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

Bird Refuge

The idea is to put appropriate native plants into this spot, to make it a place attractive to both land birds and water fowl.

Club members have been raising money in various ways for the project, and at last report had $581.32 towards it. It's a long range project, and the Club will welcome contributions and other help for it over a period

V.F.W. INSTALLATION

WAYLAND — The installation of officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post will be held at the Happy Hollow School at 8 p.m. on April 25, with refreshments after the ceremonies at the Post quarters on Pine Ridge Road.

CAKE SALE

WAYLAND—St. Ann's Guild will hold a cake sale at Collins Market from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, April 26, it is announced.

Grassroots Meeting In Weston Discusses Stopping Bomb Tests

Some of those present at the Jones House.

WESTON–Around 175 persons attended the public meeting sponsored by the Weston members of the Boston Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy at the Jones House on the evening of April 16.

It was the first forum on this subject held in Weston, and so far as known one of the first held in a small Town anywhere.

The Committee, comparatively new, promotes the view that it is time to stop nuclear tests now. Weston members of the Committee were delighted with the attendance and with the interested attitude of those present. The upstairs hall was full. Forty persons stood during the two-hour discussion.

Russell Johnson of Arlington was moderator. Speakers were Dr. Louis S. Osborne of Arlington, a physicist; Col. Robert S. Leghorn, a new resident of Weston who spoke on strategy, and Dr. Lawrence H. Fuchs of Weston, who discussed political implications. What was different about the forum was that it was a sort of grassroots discussion of a big international issue, and that the subject of discussion was stopping the tests at once.

Letters to the EDITOR

About Hexaflexagons

To the Editor:

Thank you for the story covering the great success of Tom Kelly Jr., and Ted Lehne at the Regional Science Fair held at Worcester Tech., on April 10th-12th.

I believe it is necessary however to correct an impression given as to the importance of Ted's project dealing with "Hexaflexagons". It is true that in light of what we now know that "Hexaflagons" have no particular social or economic importance.

This however should in no way be interpreted as meaning that Ted's project was unimportant.

Ted's selection of this problem demonstrates a high level of mathematical curiosity. His method of investigation was most scientific, the work carried out was both original and creative, and his findings contributed to our knowledge of "Hexaflexagons". All this adds up to "pure basic research" which in the past contributed so greatly to our present day state of scientific development and upon which we so vitally depend for continued progress in technology.

With such great concern now being voiced regarding the urgent need for more and better basic research in science and mathematics it seems particularly significant that projects of this sort be encouraged and that they be regarded as of great importance.

Cordially,
Wallace W. Sawyer
Chairman, Science Department,
Weston High School

About LWV On TV

To the Editor:

Wayland residents who are curious to know what political parties are, why we have to have them, why people enroll in them, what kinds of political pressures are exerted within them, or anything else about practical politics will have an unusual opportunity to have their questions answered next month. Beginning Tuesday, May 6, and continuing for the following four Tuesdays, through June 3, the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts will present a School of Practical Politics on WGBH-TV, Channel 2, at 9 p.m.

These five half-hour programs, which resulted from the efforts of Mrs. Rudolph Bruce, the Massachusetts League's Public Relations Chairman, will be moderated by Dr. Lawrence Fuchs, Assistant Professor of Political Science at Brandeis University. Guests scheduled to appear in this series include the present, as well as former, Republican and Democratic State Committee Chairmen, campaign managers for candidates from each party, and former state legislators from both parties. Viewers who wish to submit questions for the guests to answer may telephone them in to a League-staffed switchboard in Cambridge shortly before and during the programs.

Discussion groups are now being formed by the League of Women Voters of Wayland to meet at homes in town to watch these programs and discuss them. Anyone interested in joining a group may do so by calling ELmwood 8-2247.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Richard Durant
Voters Service Chairman

Mr. Sawyer And Mr. Kellett Will Take Summer College Courses

Mr. Wallace W. Sawyer

Mr. Jeremiah Kellett

WESTON—Mr. Wallace Sawyer, head of science at the High School, and Mr. Jeremiah Kellett, math teacher, have been selected by the National Science Foundation to attend special courses this summer in new methods of teaching physics, chemistry and math.

Mr. Sawyer, who has taught in Weston since 1942, will spend four weeks at the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies in Tennessee. This Institute is conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission, with great competition for acceptance. Adelphi College in Pennsylvania also accepted Mr. Sawyer.

Mr. Kellett will attend the institute at Tufts University, where one out of seven applicants was accepted.

4-H Achievement Day At Wayland On May 3

WAYLAND—The 4 H Clubs of Wayland cordially invite the public to come to their annual 4 H Achievement Day, May 3 from 1 to 3 p.m., on the Trinitarian Congregational Church grounds, rain or shine.

The keynote of the Horse Club project is safety in handling horses. Two of the club members will demonstrate the proper method of mounting and dismounting and will answer any questions. Another member will explain how to take care of a saddle, and show how to do it.

The Agricultural Club will have an exhibit of sheep and hens and will also show the flats they have prepared for their gardens. The Conservation Club will have an exhibit showing conservation plans for the Sudbury River. At 3:30 a member of the Forestry Club will show films indoors of the work the boys have done at the 4 H fair grounds at Westford and at Camp Ashby. Awarding of the 4 H year pins will take place at the completion of the films.

A. Yes.

No Action Called For

Q. Could there be a revision of the Committee's decision?

A. This is a firm decision.

Q. Could we use the kindergarten, Building B and St. Peter's Church, and avoid double sessions?

A. The facilities are sub-standard.

Q. How many will be in the High School next year as compared with this year?

A. There are 490 in the High School, built for a maximum of 450, this year. Next year there will be 384. Grade 8 next year will have 161 pupils.

No action by the meeting was in order. It was a session called by the School Committee to explain to parents why the unpopular double sessions were necessary.

Wayland Girl Scouts

On saturday, May 10, a "Mother's Day" food sale will be held on the village green in Wayland. This will be the first in a series of food sales to be held by the mothers of Troop No. 27, Wayland Girl Scouts, to raise money to send their daughters to Washington, D.C., during the 1959 Spring vacation. A special feature will be Mother's Day cakes and the troop mothers urge everyone to keep mother out of the kitchen on her day by patronizing this sale. Mrs. Lee Johnson and Mrs. Robert Lorentzen are co-chairmen, assisted by all the mothers and daughters.

WAYLAND—Seven Wayland Girl Scout troops from grades 4, 5 and 6 are working on a most interesting Spring service project. The girls in the 4th and 5th grades are making May baskets, gay and cheerful. Girls in the 6th grade, who are working on their cooking badge, are making dozens of cookies to fill the baskets, which will be distributed on May Day to a children's state hospital, a children's ward in a nearby hospital and to local people in Wayland who are chronically ill. The 7th grade troop girls have been visiting these people and have formed some wonderful friendships and on May Day, they will hang baskets on their friends' doors.

In the midst of the sudden, swirling snow-storm of Friday, April 11, 14 intrepid travelers set out from the security of their Wayland homes, with central heat and modern plumbing, into the teeth of the gale. These 14 were girl scout leaders, off with their trainer to brave the perils of Cedar Hill over-nite camping. Behind them, their families looked with suspicion at the neat stacks of pot-pies, frozen fish sticks and cans of soup. Ahead lay the joys (?) of a week-end of out-door cooking, trail blazing, tent pitching, folk-dancing and singing around the campfire. Fourteen set out and 14 returned: Dorothy Turner, Jean Watts, Gertrude Phillips, Mary Lou Tarbell, Jean Fink, Vi Sullivan, Mary Roever, Marjorie Gombos, Dorothy Paradis, Bonny Weiss, Emily Masiello, Alice Rosborough, Ruth Millen and Annette Lumbert.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDY

WESTON — Dr. Anthony Brackett's High School Study Group held its second meeting on Monday, April 12, to discuss the educational needs of the projected new High School.

Members of the final report committee were elected by the various discussion groups. Mrs. James Robbins will represent auxiliary services; Mr. Charles Applegate, administration; Mr. Donald Ross, student life; Mrs. Dudley B. Hartung, subject areas "A"; Mr. Burton Bromfield, teacher personnel problems.

"Gay Side Of Wayside" Sold Out In Advance

WAYLAND — In the highest traditions of Broadway, Francis W. Hatch's original musical, "The Gay Side of Wayside", has been a sell-out for six weeks before its premiere performance.

So great has the interest been that Vokes theatre received its first order for tickets in January, while the first performance will not be until May 14.

The plot, which centers around the misadventures of two couples at the Wayside Inn, who are subsequently entangled with the Ford Foundation and eventually end their wanderings in Castine, Maine, bids fair to outshine Mr. Hatch's earlier success, "One On The Town".

The musical, with Francis W. Hatch the author of music and lyrics, is produced and directed by Mrs. Hugh F. Colliton, Jr. Mrs. Nathaniel I. Cannistraro is assistant to the director. Choreography is directed by Mrs. Allan N. Barker, choral training by Mrs. Donald S. Ewing, Mrs. Charles R. Jameson is accompanist. Mrs. William Bertelson and Mrs. Kemp B. Reade are prompters.

Mrs. Perry Gives 40 Haircuts To Earn $10 For Swamp Project

(John J. McCann)

Mrs. Perry shows how it's done. The subject is her son, Steven Perry, 4 years old.

WAYLAND — Mrs. Frederick G. Perry Jr. won a Garden Club prize for the most ingenious scheme for raising $10 towards the Club's project for improving the swamp in front of the High School.

Mrs. Perry did more than 40 haircuts for boys and men, at 25 cents each for the boys and somewhat more for their elders.

She says she perched the customers on a kitchen stool, wrapped each one in a sheet secured by an old diaper pin, and gave with butch cuts or bangs, as requested. She says these were amateur haircuts, given with a skill she acquired by trimming the heads of her own four boys. Her slogan: "We aim to please."

The prize, a small flower arrangement with shells, was awarded at the Club's annual meeting, held at the home of Mrs. William Benson on Lincoln Road on April 22.

Other club members raised money for the project by baby sitting, making doll clothes, setting up flower arrangements, cooking and even handwriting analysis.

New officers elected were Mrs. William Hodgkinson, president; Mrs. Robert Elwell, vice president; Mrs. Willis Ryder, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert H. Charnock, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Willard C. Wolf, treasurer.

Mrs. Edwin G. Schneider and Mrs. George Lewis were elected to the board of directors for three years.

Annual Meeting Of Historical Society

WAYLAND—The annual meeting of the Wayland Historical Society, for members only, will be held May 8 at the Heard House. The house will be open at 7:30 p.m. for display of new acquisitions. After the business meeting and election of officers, refreshments will be served.

Community Chorus

WESTON—A Spring concert in Weston this year is planned by The Community Chorus of Wayland, Weston and Sudbury for May 11, at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Weston Center for a performance of the Brahms "Requiem."

Nancy Doucette, of the New England Conservatory of Music, will accompany the Chorus on the Church's newly rebuilt organ, under the direction of Chester W. Williams. Admission free, no tickets required.

Weston Boy, 5, Needs B Negative Blood For Open Heart Surgery

WESTON—Mrs. Henry Wheeler and Mrs. John B. Paine Jr., co-chairmen of the Weston Red Cross Blood Program, have a very special request.

On June 4, a 5-year-old Weston boy is going to have "open heart surgery" at the Children's Medical Center in Boston. His heart has a bad valve.

The surgeons propose to use a machine which takes over the job of pumping blood while the heart is being fixed.

Seven pints of "B negative" blood will be needed, and must be given at the Center on June 3. This is an extremely rare type of blood, says Mrs. Wheeler, and there may not be seven persons in Weston who have it. But the request is by no means limited to Weston.

The name of the child is not now announced.

Those who can give B negative blood are asked to call Mrs. Wheeler, TW 3-3512, or Mrs. Paine, TW 4-4079.

Weston Women Will Be Models

(John J. McCann)

WESTON—Some of the women who will model in the fashion show on April 14 at the luncheon and annual meeting of the Women's Community League met recently at the home of the program chairman, Mrs. Putnam P. Flint, to discuss plans for the show, which will have as its motif, "A Trip to the Brussels Fair."

Juli Dane of Boston is co-ordinating the fashion show. Mrs. Arthur A. Nichols, president of the WCL, will preside at the luncheon and business meeting which will precede the fashion show.

Reservations are limited. Tickets for the luncheon should be reserved before Friday, May 9. A check for the luncheon may be sent with the annual dues to the treasurer, Mrs. Arthur C. Murphy. ## Weston Fire Whistle Will Give CD Signal

The Weston fire whistle will sound a series of short blasts, the "take immediate cover" signal, as part of Operation Alert 1958, a Civil Defense exercise, on Tuesday, May 6, at some time between 9 a.m. and 12 noon, but the public won't have to do anything about it.

In Wayland the fire whistle will not be blown, but the communications center will be manned.

In Weston, wardens will be asked to report on how far the fire whistle can be heard. But in both Towns the general public is in free. Not a thing to do.

How To Address The Chairman And Really Grab The Audience

When a person gets up to speak in public, he wants to make a real impression. He wants to grip his audience. He want undivided, hear-a-pin-drop attention. He wants to be quoted around Town afterwards, too, and here are some simple tips to help the amateur speaker achieve these significant results.

First, avoid the trite. Thus, when addressing the League of Women Voters, one may start this way:

"Madame President: You girls have a nice little club here. It's true, a good many think you all belong at home, tending to children, church and husbands. But I say it does no harm for women to have a little social life now and then. Provided, of course, they don't get mixed up in politics or issures they don't understand very well . . ."

Nobody has ever tried this. It might go over.

Or the Boy Scout meeting:

"Mr. Scoutmaster and little Scouts: I wouldn't fool around tying knots and building camp fires, if I were you. With any luck at all, you'll never be called on to hang anybody, and if you have to hang a picture, you'll probably have a wife who can do it. As for fires, they are dangerous and besides, central heating has been invented. Now the poker program I'd recommend. . . ."

At this point the speaker could close his remarks gracefully, always supposing he didn't have a Boy Scout ax buried in his noggin.

To members of the Garden Club:

"I've always wondered who does the hoeing around here. There are 500 Garden Club members in this community, and not one with loam under her fingernails. Some say the seasons are changing and I guess they are. All the Garden Clubbing gets done in December and March and drops dead in July. I propose organization of a Summer Garden Club, to be composed of women who'll stay home in hot weather and plant corn with a Japanese flower arrangement buried in each hill . . ."

Reading a speech like this makes one wonder how long it would take a committee dressed in sun hats to hide a body with a trowel.

Or the PTA:

"This organization ought to disband. Let the teachers run the schools and pound some education into the kids' heads, without being bothered by a bunch of parents. And if the teachers don't do the job right, let's go and make life miserable for the School Committee. What are they holding public office for, if they don't expect to be miserable . . ."

Or the Little League Committee:

"Now, I go for golf, myself. It's quiet out there on the links, without a lot of 11-year-old boys around, and . . ."

And after the church supper at the Baptists:

"I had an aunt who was a Methodist, and her view of theology always was . . ."

The Bird Watchers Club:

"Looking at pretty birds is all very well, but there's no profit in it. I'd like to suggest that instead of just watching birds, all the members should go hunt birds' nests and steal the eggs. Instead of paying 65 cents a dozen for hen's eggs, why not get eggs of pink left-wingers, forked-tongued guzzlewits or bottle-sided beepers for nothing, and thus save on food? Besides, stealing birds' eggs would call for great skill and woods craft and would thus sharpen the abilities . . ."

As noted above, the secret is never to use the cut-and-dried approach. Always be fresh and different. You may lose some friends this way, to be sure, but perhaps you don't have as many as you think anyway. And if it's true that it costs a lot to move, it's still better than having critics throw rocks at your front door every night. — D.B.W.

WAYLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Seth F. Johnson of Happy Hollow Road announce the birth of their fifth child and fourth son, at Newton-Wellesley Hospital on April 16. The little fellow had no first name for a while because "Amy", the one tentatively picked, turned out to be inappropriate.

Seated, left to right, are Ed Quinn, highest single string bowler—131; Manny Leonardo, member of the winning team, and Anthony Bova, highest three-string bowler, 349. Standing, left to right, are other members of the winning team: John Bianchetti, Don Prior, captain Frank Libby (highest average scorer of the season with 96.2), Jerry Joyce and Ross Hubbard. At the banquet, attended by league members and their wives, it was announced plans are now completed for expanding the league's bowling facilities to six alleys at the Bowlerama, Framingham. Interested members of St. Ann's Parish should contact Paul Keating, EL 8-2487, for further information.

WESTON—The regular monthly walk of the Weston Forest and Trail Association will be held on Sunday, May 4. The walk will start at 2:30 p.m. from 420 Concord Road (north of Weston College), and work towards draper Road in Wayland. Tea afterwards will be at 420 Concord Road by invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Speare. Guests welcomed.

O'Neill - Babin

An early Summer wedding is planned.

Weston Women Active At City Club Show

WESTON — Three members of the Country Garden Club of Weston were active in The Women's City Club of Boston Spring Flower Show on April 24.

Mrs. Ransom U. Rowe was chairman of judges. Mrs. Howard B. Spicker was treasurer and Mrs. Eben Wallace was chairman of hospitality.

The title of the show was "Spring Comes To Beacon Hill" and there were six classes. Mrs. Howard Spicker won 1st prize in Class I with her lovely arrangement in a straw container to be hung on a door. Mrs. Eben Wallace won 1st prize in Class VI. Her unusual design was inspired by the Esplanade.

Weston Plant Sale

WESTON — The annual plant and flower sale will take place this year on Friday, May 16, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., sponsored by the Benevolent Alliance of the First Parish (Unitarian). The committee for the sale will have a varied selection of seedlings, flower plants, vegetable plants and shrubs.

In case of rain the sale will be held on the First Parish porch; otherwise look for an attractive display of plants and flowers on the church grounds.

Wayland And Weston Baseball

WESTON—Coach George Harris greeted 22 boys who turned out for Weston's 1958 varsity baseball. Only "Topper" Bulkley, Kim Cummings and John Doherty, along with pitchers Jim Robbins, Elliot Lappin and Greg LaTucky, have played varsity ball before.

The Wildcats' pitching should be their strong point, as sophomore Forbes McMullin joins Robbins, Lappin and LaTucky to make up a potent 4-man hurling staff. Bulkley will again hold down 3rd and Cummings will be at 1st. Doherty is an outfielder.

The rest of the positions will be up for grabs among the following: Bob Bogardus, Bob White, Guy Nickerson, Bill Turner, Art Taylor, Doug McDonald, Alan Scott, Tony D'Antonio, Dick Rizzo, Steve Shepard, Fred Thyng, Ron Powers, Eric Granholm, Jack Mahoney and Dick Leonhardt.

If a few of the promising undergraduates can come through as expected Coach Harris should have another fine team.

WAYLAND — Ten veterans from last year's tournament team were among the 40 candidates which turned out for Wayland High's 1958 baseball team. Nick Willard and John Washek are the only starters missing from last years' squad that won the Dual County League championship, only to lose to Scituate by a 2 to 1 score in the finals of the class "C" tourney.

Bob Page, Dick Morris and Ed Marsh return to share the pitching duties while George Bradley will handle the catching. Jerry Whelchel, Bruce Waldman, Bob Pierce, Spen Richardson, John Wesley and Jerry Joyce are the other returnees.

During the first week of practice Coach Bowers trimmed the squad to 16 players. Juniors Dick Brewer and Joe Devine, sophomore Steve Powers, and freshmen Roy Bradley, Lee Patton and Paul Gustafson make up the remainder of the team.

Buzz Bowers' nine looks like the team to beat in the Dual County League again this year.

This theme will be carried out in silver and gold satellites, three dimensional stars and other celestial figures. The dance is planned for Friday, May 23, at 9 at the Weston Town House. Henry Sweedey's 10-piece orchestra has been booked, promising continuous music for four solid hours of dancing under the stars. The committee for arrangements includes Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stohlman, Dr. and Mrs. E. Heffernon, Mr. and Mrs. A. Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. R. Weaver Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilcock, chairmen.

The committee suggests that hostesses plan their dinner parties now so that when reservations are accepted they won't be disappointed, as reservations are limited and for members only.

A High School "Queen" Will Rule At Strawberry Festival In June

(John J. McCann)

WAYLAND — This year's annual Strawberry Festival will be held on June 21 at the High School field.

Plans for this event were announced at a meeting held recently at the home of Chairman Mrs. Daniel H. Rossborough Jr., who promises many new surprises this year.

"For example," she says, "this year will mark the advent of what we hope will become a Town tradition, — a 'Queen of the Strawberry Festival', to be selected from among our high school girls. High school students will select five candidates, with the final winner being selected by the townsfolks. Mrs. Gerard M. Houghton of Stonebridge Road, Cochituate, is chairman of the 'Queen' committee".

The festival is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Square dancing is the major activity. Of almost equal prominence is the business of eating — with beautifully decorated booths featuring everything from strawberry sundaes to hot dogs. The children square dance from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. with the calling by Wayland's Beth and Dick Best.

Adults square dance from 9 p.m. until midnight with calling by Boxford's Joe Perkins, the Kuntry Kaller. Coronation of Wayland's first "Queen of the Strawberry Festival" is scheduled for 8:45 p.m.

The Festival is sponsored by the Wayland Junior Town House.

Tickets are 75 cents and it is hoped that those unable to attend the Festival will still donate the price of one or more tickets.

Committee heads assisting Mrs. Rossborough are Mrs. Luther Davis Jr. (tickets), Mr. and Mrs. John R. Breckenridge (food), Mrs. Guy Heald (solicitation), Mrs. Robert Mills (flowers), Mrs. John Pratt Jr. (finance), Malcolm Berrett (grounds), Daniel Rossborough Jr. (publicity), Mrs. James Mavor Jr., Mrs. Christos Stergis and Mrs. Jack Furrer (decorations). Assisting Mrs. Rossborough is last year's chairman, Mrs. George Johnson Jr.

I. T. on last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. This is a very great honor as the competition was great among the three hundred and six participants which came from all parts of the commonwealth. By winning this first place award, John will, together with twelve other high school students, represent Massachusetts in the New England Science Fair at the Science Museum on Friday and Saturday of this week.

His project on "Effects of Tranquilizers on Psychological Behavior Patterns in Mice" received most favorable comment from the judges. John's invitation to participate in the New England Science Fair is the fifth such invitation for a Weston High School student to receive since the start of this fair in 1953.

Recreation Committee Is Asked To Think Many Years Ahead

WAYLAND — Town Moderator Howard S. Russell has announced the membership of the Recreation Advisory Committee, appointed by him as directed by vote of the annual Town Meeting. The committee:

Theodore R. Magoun, chairman; Joseph J. Joyce, Harvey C. Newton, Mrs. Edward A. Veno and Mrs. Donald B. Willard.

This committee's job is to follow up the long report, printed in the Crier of Feb. 27, which went into the whole subject of the Town's recreational possibilities and needs. Its task is to consider the report, work with existing Town committees and officials, especially the Park Department, and make such specific recommendations to the Town as it deems advisable.

In his letter to the new committee members, Mr. Russell says:

"In the Moderator's opinion this committee has been given an exceedingly important field of work, and one of far reaching influence. Its possibilities for benefit to the Town are not solely for one season or a single year. Your consideration of recreation and conservation should be with future decades, even centuries, also in view."

2000 Boats Expected On Lake Cochituate

COCHITUATE — Registration of boats at the State Park office of the Department of Natural Resources here is expected to reach the 2,000 mark this year. Last year's figure, says Superintendent Carl Lydiard, was 1,981. Two dollars buys a permit allowing the owner to put his boat in any of the four reservoirs maintained by the Department: Ashland, Cochituate, Hopkinton and Whitehall. Lake Cochituate gets the lion's share because the facilities at the Route 30 boat landing are the best.

The large number of boats in the water has already resulted in several instances of improper handling. To help combat this situation the membership of the Lake Cochituate Boat Club announces that it is ready and willing to give advice, information or instruction to anyone asking for it. Members can be identified by the blue pennon.

WESTON — More than a dozen Weston persons were among the 100 present at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel in Boston on May 5 at the reception sponsored by the Greater Boston Sane Nuclear Policy Committee for Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

The Senator told the group it would be better to concentrate on urging inspection and control through the U. N., rather than asking unilateral cessation of bomb tests at once.

Among those from Weston, besides those in the picture above, were Mrs. William D. Manice Jr., Miss Florence Freeman, Dr. and Mrs. William A. Elliston, Mrs. Mario Castillo, Mrs. Paul Hare and Mrs. Charles K. Cummings Jr.

Weston Kindergarten Registration, May 28

WESTON — Registration for 1958-1959 Weston Kindergarten classes will be on Wednesday, May 28, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. at the Case House, 69 Wellesley Street. It is suggested that each mother bring her child, his birth certificate and his certificate of vaccination.

All children who will be 5 years of age on or before Jan. 1, 1959, are eligible to register. Children who will become 5 years of age between November 1, 1958, and January 1, 1959, and who are registered, will be admitted in September, 1958, on a trial basis, provided there is room for them.

Because of kindergarten registration on May 28, there will be no school for regular kindergarten classes on that day.

Weston Horse Show On May 17, Rain Or Shine

WESTON—The Weston Horse Show, sponsored by the Weston and Wayland Horse Clubs, will be held Saturday, May 17, opening at 9:30 a.m., on route 30, near the corner of Wellesley Street and South Avenue, held rain or shine.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the 4 H members, or at the show grounds: 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for children under 12. Part of the proceeds of the show will go to the Children's Unit of the Metropolitan State Hospital. Food will be sold on the grounds by the Women's Guild of the First Baptist Church of Weston.

Included in the cast were Mrs. Anthony Alesi and Mrs. Warren Wentworth. Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Donovan Jr., and her committee.

Course In Love Letter Writing Might Enliven The Curriculum

In this era when science is getting a big plug in school, it might be a good idea to put a little emphasis on English. In fact, and specifically, it is suggested that a course in love letter writing might be established.

This suggestion, of course, sounds a little radical. It may be objected that the young will learn to take pen in hand and make donkeys of themselves soon enough, by themselves. And some may think that this is a matter strictly for private enterprise, anyway.

But stop and think of all the letters which, by mischance, go astray and finally get read in court.

Would any parent like to think that his child was so lacking in literary skill that his writings would cause coarse laughter all over the land?

It may be submitted that love letter writing is quite an art. To be proficient at it, many temptations must be avoided.

First, if one is really in the mood, he must resist the urge to go all out, to say it all. There must be restraint. The recipient of the letter may take it seriously. What is written in a moment of enthusiasm may be misunderstood. After all, they put escape hatches in submarines.

Attention should be paid to literary style, too. Here, of all places, should be avoided the misspelled word, the awkward construction, the outright blunder. The author must not reveal himself as a prime candidate to flunk English III.

Honest sentiment is all very well, but spelling it "hart" is likely to spoil the effect. This is the value of this course, as education. Here is a practical application of the hard lessons in grammar. Moreover, it's an application likely to claim the undivided attention of the student, like an ice cream cone or a slab of pizza.

As in all writing, this letter should be kept brief. Two paragraphs, well loaded, should be enough. In fact, some have found themselves in trouble enough after writing only one or two sentences.

Also to be avoided is goo. And also, jokes. Nothing is so quickly misunderstood in a love letter as a witticism. Cracking jokes should be avoided, anyway. The solemn lad, at 40, will be making twice as much money as the quipster.

Important to remember is the aim. The object of all this literature should be "you", not "me". Nothing is so interesting as flattery, and this should be the main content of the letter. There is no danger of laying this stuff on too thick. Every bit of it will stick.

Some say the ideal love letter is unsigned. Some go for a single initial at the end. No authorities endorse such signatures as "Tootsicums" or "Deep Dish Sweetie Pie". Dignity should be preserved and besides, if the letter is unsigned it's going to be harder to prove who wrote it.

Who'll give this course is, naturally, up to the Schoool Committee. There's a question whether the instructor should be somebody who has had experience, or somebody young enough to tackle the subject with zest. Too bad there's no textbook. Imagine all the books which have been written about mathematics, and not one on a subject of such universal importance. Class exercises, of course, should be stamped with the letters O.F., for Only Fooling, lest anybody get any wrong ideas.

Advocates of this course say it would go a long way towards popularizing the study of English, and might also help to improve the relations, too often strained, between the sexes. What good could ever come of a romance featured by letters containing split infinitives?—D.B.W.

Special Invitation To See Case Estates

WESTON—The Case Estates of the Arnold Arboretum in Weston will have open house on Sunday May 11. At this time, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., various staff members of the Arnold Arboretum will be about the grounds to show visitors the various plantings and to answer questions concerning them.

Situated on Wellesley Street, adjacent to the present school grounds, a major part of the 150-acre tract is taken up with various kinds of ornamental plantings.

One of the most complete ground cover demonstration plots in the country is here, with more than 180 different kinds of plants. Bordering this interesting planting is a collection of some 80 different kinds of small ornamental trees suitable for street tree planting or planting on the small property.

The various nurseries are filled with native and exotic woody plants from all over the Northern temperate regions of the world. Not the least interesting is the small shrub and perennial garden, where easily grown dwarf shrubs are gradually being planted to replace the annuals and perennials which require much time and care.

Plenty of parking space is available and although the grounds are always open to the public, visitors from neighboring towns are especially welcome on Sunday, May 11.

Cochituate PTA Will Offer Scholarship

COCHITUATE — The April meeting of the Cochituate Parent-Teachers Association was held in the school cafeteria.

Mr. Nelson Ashline, sixth grade teacher, is the new president; Mrs. John McCann, vice-president; Mrs. William Kane, secretary, and Norman Ross, treasurer. Mrs. Kenneth Stevens will serve for the next two years as P.T.A. Council delegate.

Walter Doucette, principal of the Cochituate Elementary School and program chairman for the P.T.A. during the past year, said he thought attendance might be improved by reverting to the custom of having teachers in their classrooms on the night of the meeting, not for individual conferences so much as for general discussion of the work being done by the class, and exhibition of the children's work. This classroom period would precede the regular program of the meeting, which would take place as usual downstairs and be followed by refreshments.

It was also decided that the P.T.A. would sponsor the award of a $150 scholarship to a deserving and qualified member of this year's graduating class at Wayland High School; to purchase for the 5th grade at the Cochituate School a record player, since it is the only grade without one of its own; to meet at least half the expense of changing over the wiring of the public address system from the second floor, where the principal's office was formerly located, to the rooms which he now uses in the basement of the school; and finally, after these expenses are met, to leave $100 in the treasury for next year's needs and to use the difference to buy records for the school's record library.

One of the members present offered to have her husband look at the wiring job and see if it could be done on a volunteer basis. An estimate from a professional firm placed the cost at $159.00, of which the School Department is willing to pay half.

SODALITY BUSINESS MEETING

WESTON—Rosary and benedicition at the church Thursday evening at 8 p.m. will precede a business meeting at the Jones House. Rev. Frank Graf, moderator of the Sodality, will officiate.

Elections of officers for the forthcoming 1958-59 season will be the main point of business. All members are urged to attend.

Annual Meeting Of Loker School P.T.A.

WAYLAND — The election of officers and an address by Douglas Surgenor will share top billing at the last annual meeting of the Loker School PTA, on Wednesday, May 14 at 8 p.m. This will be a significant date for this new organization as members will have their first real voice in the development of their PTA.

George Freedman, who has headed the nominating committee, says that the proposed slate of officers will not be announced until the meeting, and encourages the nomination of opposition of candidates from the floor. Only thus, say Freedman and President Dave Gitlin, can next year's direction be the choice of the majority.

Tickets will be on sale this weekend for the "Function with Flair" planned by the Loker PTA for the night of May 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Loker Gym. This first social event of the Loker School will feature exciting food served buffet style, and fun and dancing.

All members of the executive committee will carry tickets to their neighbors, priced at $3 per couple, and several committees are already at work on making this a gay occasion. Mrs. Edward Gilman and Mrs. George Johnson are in charge of menu planning. Posters will be done by Mrs. Chris Stergis and Ted Musto, and Ray Castiglione is chief coordinator.

30 Foreign Students Will Visit Weston

WESTON — Weston families will again be hosts to about 30 foreign students for the weekend of May 10. The Women's Community League of Weston is one of 25 organizations in Greater Boston participating in the program of the International Student Association of 33 Garden Street, Cambridge.

The Student Center is unique in this area. It is an independent organization, 50% self supporting and otherwise mainly supported by the contributions of those who believe that international understanding is best served by people of different countries meeting on a personal basis.

2500 students from 85 countries use the Center. Among its most popular activities are weekly Sunday night suppers and discussions of world affairs. Others include dances, weekly folk dances and singing, nationality dinners, a home for transient students, lectures, trips and English classes. High on the list of popularity is the Center's program of hospitality in American homes, such as is arranged in Weston by the Women's Community League. The students are eager to see and to participate in the daily life of their American hosts.

Plans for th eweek-end of the 10th include a buffet supper at the First Parish Church on Saturday evening and a walk followed by a tea at the home of Mrs. David M. Little on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond W. Coburn and Mrs. David M. Little are the co-chairmen for the May 10 weekend.

Weston 1, Wayland 0

Eliot Lappen and Bob Page hooked up in a real pitching duel. Who won? Well the final score read Weston 1, Wayland 0. However, the game is not officially over yet.

With Weston at bat in the sixth inning, Powers, the Weston catcher, hit a single over first base. That was the first hit Page has given up this year. Page walked the next two batters. At this point Coach Bowers walked to the mound to talk to his pitcher. This was the second time he had done

Al Thomas Of Wayland Makes News In Halifax

Al Thomas

WAYLAND — Al Thomas, son of Mrs. Andrew Thomas of State Road and the late Mr. Thomas, made headlines recently in the Halifax, N. S., Chronicle - Herald, when he resigned as director of athletics at Dalhousie University.

Mr. Thomas was graduated from Wayland High School where he played football, basketball and baseball and was president of the Class of 1946. After graduation he served two years in the Marines, then did a post graduate year at Wayland High, then was graduated from Springfield. At one time he did practice coaching in Weston, assisting Mr. John S. Proctor. At Springfield College he was hockey captain. He also has a master's degree from the University of Illinois.

At Dalhousie he became only the second coach in the history of the Nova Scotia Football League to guide a civilian team to the championship. His resignation says the newspaper account, came over a matter of Dalhousie University policy. Mr. Thomas wanted academic rank and the University wouldn't grant it.

Mr. Thomas is married and has three children.

Alas, No Bluebird

Thirty-eight species of birds were recorded, including Red-shouldered Hawk, Yellow-bellied Sapsucker, Kingbird, Hermit Thrush (singing), Olive-backed Thrush, nine kinds of warblers and several of sparrows. Fresh diggings of a Pileated Woodpecker were seen in a tree near Cherry

Committee Recommends Weston High School Site At South Avenue

WESTON — The report of the Special High School Plant Committee, scheduled to be delivered to all residents of the Town on May 15, recommends that 62 acres of land at the southeast corner of South Avenue and Wellesley Street be acquired for a new High School site.

A public hearing on the report has been called for Thursday, May 22, at the Town Hall, and it is believed that a Special Town Meeting to act on the recommendation will be called by the Selectmen early in June.

The report is signed by the Committee: Richard P. Berry, H. Ward Doebler, Camillo F. Petri, secretary; Mrs. Rolf Stutz and Mrs. Boardman Bump, chairman.

Mrs. Bump says the Committee considered 14 sites, trying to find one as near as possible to the present High School site, as directed by the Town. So the Committee worked out in circles, and stopped when it came to the nearest site which seemed to be most suitable.

Sports Figures Will Attend Weston Dinner

WESTON — Lindy Miller of WBZ will be master of ceremonies, it is announced, for the annual sports dinner of the Weston Boosters, to be held May 22 in the High School gym in recognition of the efforts of Weston High School boys and girls in the athletic program.

Special sports guests will be Paul Ronty, formerly of the Boston Bruins, and Johnny Pierson, a star of the current Bruins team. Head table guests will include Superintendent Anthony Brackett, Principal Julius H. Mueller, coaches George R. Harris, Robert J. Carini and Miss Marie L. Butera, besides Mr. Austin S. Hale and Mr. Victor C. Harnish.

Tickets may be purchased at the High School or from any director of the Boosters. Reservations must be made by May 16.

A feature of the evening will be the presentation of the Chandler Memorial Award.

New Structure To Replace Old Stone Bridge Almost Finished

(John J. McCann)

The old bridge, shown in this photo made in 1954, before the flood, is a rare example of stone construction without mortar. Bridge was wide enough for only one vehicle. It has stood here for a couple of centuries.

(John J. McCann)

The new bridge is an excellent utilitarian structure.

WAYLAND — Work is almost finished on the construction of a new bridge across the Sudbury River at the Framingham-Wayland line. When the new approaches to it are completed from Stonebridge rd. and Potter rd. the bridge will be opened to traffic, probably sometime late in June. Then the old four-arch, stone bridge which crosses the river a few hundred yards down-stream will be restored, retired and maintained as an historic monument.

The new bridge is a product of the most up-to-date techniques in bridge-building. It spans the river at a wider spot than the old bridge does, but is supported underneath at only one point, the middle, so that the flow of water under it is unimpeded. Prestressed concrete beams were used in building it, bought ready to use, eliminating the need for a great deal of expensive form work at the site.

In contrast, the old bridge has four arches, made of stones carefully fitted together dry, without mortar. This may be why the bridge has lasted so long, mortar might long since have chipped and fallen out, loosening the fit, and causing the big stones to shift position.

Oldest In Country

The bridge is believed to be the oldest structure in Middlesex County. In the winter of 1776, 80 yokes of oxen drawing 40 heavily loaded sleds, crossed it under the command of Colonel (later General) Henry Knox.

He was taking them from Fort Ticonderoga to the siege of Boston by way of the Post rd. when scouts told him that the British were to occupy that road and would intercept them, and volunteered to show them a by-road by which the train could travel unknown to the enemy. A granite marker at the interesection of Old Connecticut Path and Route 27 records his passage through Town.

When the need for a new bridge became evident, it was Representative James DeNormandie of the 10th Middlesex District who introduced a bill into the legislature calling for the preservation of the old historic structure. State funds are building the new bridge and restoring the old one. Dingley Brothers Construction Company are the contractors. Maintaining the old bridge as a site of historic importance will be Wayland's responsibility.

The historic bridge was badly damaged in the hurricane flood of August, 1955, when half its road surface was washed away.

Actually, the new bridge is now in use. The Dingley company, which has built it, will also repair and reconstruct the old bridge.

A local art historian says the original bridge was probably built the way the Romans built their aqueducts. The builder probably put in a wooden form on which the stones were laid until the keystone could be installed, when the wood was removed and the weight and pressures of the stones held up the arch.

Letters to the EDITOR

About Flood Plain

To the Editor:

You may be interested to note that the Town has received a measure of State-wide recognition in its adoption of flood plain zoning. I enclose a copy of a letter to the Planning Board from Mr. Francis W. Sargent.

Yours sincerely,
Wayland Planning Board
L. William Bertelsen
Chairman

The letter:

Dear Mr. Bertelsen:

At the April meeting of the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission, held in Boston on April 14, I was requested as Chairman to write your Board and express the Commission's appreciation for all the efforts that led to the adoption of flood plain zoning at the recent Wayland Town Meeting.

The Commission voted to commend the Town for its forthright approach to the problem of floods in the Sudbury Valley and to express the hope that other communities throughout the state will adopt similar measures where lowlands are subject to development.

Sincerely yours,
Francis W. Sargent
Commissioner

Applause Card

To the Editor:

We should like to express our appreciation for the efficient service performed by the Wayland Fire Department on the afternoon of April 29 when it appeared that our house was going to be destroyed by fire.

The equipment arrived very promptly, and under the masterful direction of Chief Hartin, the fire was extinguished in short order. Damage from water was not extensive and nearly all the debris was cleared up by the men before they left.

If it had not been for this prompt and expert work, the damage would have been far more extensive or even complete.

Sincerely,
Barbara and Jack Wilson

Should The Gardener Give Up, Or Try To Add To The Farm Surplus?

Come Spring planting time, when this was a farming region, there was no doubt in the farmer's mind as to what he'd put in the ground. In would go corn, potatoes, cabbage, carrots, maybe even wheat and rye, not to mention squash and turnips, which would last all Winter.

The idea then was to raise food for the family and the animals for a whole year, and it was serious business.

Nowadays, in this happy country, the raising of food is more than serious. It's a headache, with surpluses everywhere and the Secretary of Agriculture dodging dead cats all the time because obviously it's his fault. He's head of the department, isn't he?

So the backyard gardener in the suburb had better ask himself a few questions before he takes hoe in hand and prepares to add to the Brussels sprout surplus.

How Much Endive?

Question 1. Who's going to eat the stuff, provided drouth and cutworms don't kill it first?

Answer. Not the children. They're going to turn up their little noses at home grown vegetables, just as they do at the store kind.

Q. Parents?

A. How much endive is a parent going to cram into himself, just because it's on hand?

Q. Does having a backyard garden save any money?

A. Figure the cost of tools, fertilizer (who has a barnyard nowadays?) seeds, lime, peat moss, plants and labor, and each green bean costs four cents per inch.

Q. Is it true that home grown vegetables taste better than those bought at the roadside stand?

A. Yes and no. Pick the right roadside stand and the corn will be as fresh as any. Same goes for green peas. Are any other vegetables considered luxuries?

Q. What about tomatoes?

A. Once there was a man who never ate a tomato until he raised a big crop of them himself and was too mean to let them go to waste. He ate six bushels of tomatoes in August and September and spent October eating spaghetti.

But raising a big tomato crop is a way to get the housewife back in the kitchen, over that well known hot stove. Let the gardener persuade her that canning is woman's work, and he can make her life miserable for several days.

Plant Grass?

Q. Are turnips a good crop?

A. Are turnips food?

Q. How about preparing the garden patch carefully and then putting grass seed all over it?

A. Some like to mow lawns. With a good loud power machine, one can cut grass every Sunday morning and thus make sure the neighbors get up and go to church, which they probably need to do after the way they spent Saturday evening.

Q. Cucumbers?

A. There's purer water in the faucet.

Q Pumpkins?

A. Pumpkins are full grown in late August. Halloween comes on Oct. 30. To keep pumpkins fresh until the jack o'lantern season, put them in the refrigerator. There won't be room for anything else in the ice box, of course, but think of the fun the kiddies will have, eviscerating pumpkins and strewing wet seeds all over the kitchen floor.

Q. Well, is it worth it or isn't it?

A. For those who love dirt and exercise, it's worth it. Getting close to the soil, fresh air, Mother Nature and all that. For those who believe in magic, and think the home grown stuff tastes better. For those who can't add, and figure home vegetables are cheaper.

Of course, there's one fellow in Town who has figured out how to garden and have fun simultaneously. He hides a jug of irrigating fluid in the lettuce bed. Often sings and laughs as he goes about his peasant chores. — D.B.W.

300 Sign Petition For Fixing Up Building B

WESTON — A petition has been circulated to insert an additional article in the warrant of the Special Town Meeting on the high school site in June. The inserted article would authorize the appropriation of money to remodel or repair school buildings, and specifies no amount or buildings.

An article in the warrant by petition needs 100 signatures, and this article last week had close to 300.

Backers of the petition include Mr. and Mrs. George W. Dick, Mr. Russell L. Dorrence and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Glover. The article, if voted at the Town Meeting, would avoid the double sessions for grades four to six decided upon by the School Committee. One plan is to renovate Building B for more than $50,000 and use its six classrooms until the shortage is definitely over.

The backers have met with the School Committee, but so far have not resolved the difference of opinion.

What Is Building B?

WESTON — School building B has been a topic of conversation recently because of the classroom shortage that brings double sessions to Weston next year. This 48-year-old building of six rooms has not been used for the public schools in recent years, and many citizens know little about it.

Building B stands at the far end of the circle between two newer brick buildings, A and C, on School Street. The 1944 Simpson Report on Weston schools made by parents and educators declared Building B to be obsolete and said it would be replaced at the earliest opportunity.

Last December the School Committee asked the Department of Public Safety to inspect the building. The state building inspector has agreed to temporary use of the two ground floor classrooms, with a few repairs such as painting and hardware. The Committee intends to make these repairs at a cost of about $4000 for elementary school use next year.

The inspector listed the changes that must be made if any more rooms are to be used. The list includes a new fire escape, lighting, plumbing, new floors, ventilation, and stairwells fireproofed. With these changes, on which an estimate of between $50 - 60,000 has been made, the inspector would grant temporary use of the other rooms until the present classroom shortage is over.

The statutes of Massachusetts require a procedure for competitive bidding on reconstruction and repair of public buildings. Before such bidding can take place, complete plans and specifications must be drawn up. All repairs to public buildings therefore take more time from start to finish, than they would otherwise. Also any borrowing for this purpose would require the approval of the Massachusetts Emergency Finance Board.

Alas, No Bluebird

Brook. Usually 40 to 55 species are listed on these walks, but because of the severe Winter in the South where many of our birds winter, and the storms and cold weather of March and April along the eastern seaboard after migration was under way, many birds were conspicuous by their absence or unusual scarcity.

Very few Chimney Swifts, Tree and Barn Swallows were seen. The Rough-Winged Swallows which have nested near the College Pond since 1952 had not appeared. There were no Phoebes, Bluebirds, Scarlet Tanagers, Baltimore Orioles or Rose-breasted Grosbeaks, although a few of the last two were reported in Weston just before May 10. The warblers seen were very low in numbers, and others of this family which may be looked for the early part of May were missing.

However, congenial people, a beautiful Spring morning, and a few birds well seen and heard, combined to make the walk a very pleasant one. — C.L.S.

Baseball

so and the umpire informed Bowers he would have to remove Page from the game.

The major leagues have a rule that states a pitcher must leave the game if the manager goes out to talk to him more than once. This rule has not been in effect in other schoolboy games this year. Thus, the game was completed under protest. If the protest is upheld by league officials the game will be replayed from that point of protest, with Weston at bat, one out, the bases loaded and Page pitching.

Dick Morris relieved Page and Jim Robbins hit the first pitch to shortstop. Wayland tried for the double play but missed and Powers scored. In the final inning Bruce Waldman walked and advanced to third before Lappen bore down to strike out Ed Marsh to end the game — for a while at least.

WAYLAND — Bob Page pitched a brilliant no-hit no-run game to open Wayland's baseball season with a bang. Page struck out 12, walked 4, and allowed no ball to be hit out of the infield. The closest L-S came to a hit was a sixth inning drive on which first baseman Steve Powers made a fine leaping catch.

Local 'Chorus Girls' Add To Fun Of 'Gayside'

(W. B. Dik)

WAYLAND — Seats for all eight performances of "The Gayside of Wayside", original musical comedy by Frank W. Hatch of Wayland, put on by the Vokes Players, were sold out before the tickets were printed, it is reported, and those lucky enough to get in have been viewing the production with great delight. Director is Alice Colliton. In the picture above are the chorus girls (all Wayland and Weston women, all mothers) who help add eye appeal to the show. Left to right, they are Mae Eckler, Millie Eckler, Hilda Harris, Betsy Swiedler, Neta Barker and Carter Bottjer.

Valley Trustees Are Given 10 More Acres

WAYLAND — The Sudbury Valley Trustees announce a gift to them of 10.2 acres of land off Rice Road, adjoining a previously given tract of 46 acres from the Hamlen family.

The land is just to the West of Rice Road, about at the North end of Snake Brook Reservoir. The new tract, a gift from the Wayland Real Estate Company, backs against the Woodridge development. It is mostly wooded with some wetland.

The Sudbury Valley Trustees have acquired several hundred acres of land in the past few years. Much of it is swamp but much of it is dry. The idea is to preserve wild land for public use and enjoyment, and to acquire it before the whole Town is covered with house lots.

Special Town Meeting On High School Site Is Set For June 4

WESTON — Wednesday, June 4, is the tentative date for the Special Town Meeting to vote on a site for the new high school. The Special High School Plant Committee will hold a hearing on the proposed site on Thursday, May 22, at the Town House at 8 p.m.

The site recommended is a 62-acre tract at the southeast corner of South Avenue and Wellesley Street.

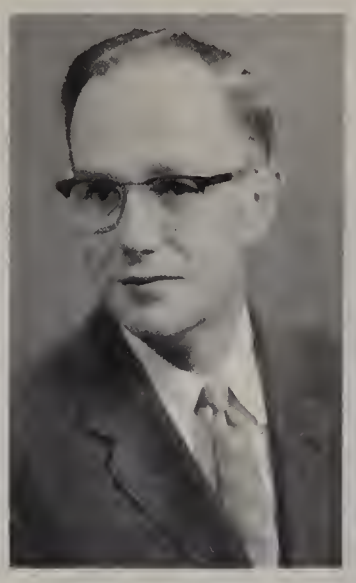
Meanwhile, the Selectmen have received a petition calling for another Article in the warrant for the June 4 meeting, to appropriate an unspecified amount of money to remodel or repair school buildings.

This petition, which the Selectmen were checking to make sure it had the necessary 100 valid signatures, reflects the dissatisfaction of many parents with the prospect of double school sessions for the 4th, 5th and 6th grades next year.

Mrs. Owens Is The New Green Thumb President

WAYLAND — Mrs. Robert Owens is the new president of the Green Thumb Garden Club, which held its annual election at the home of Mrs. Daniel Sheeham of Concord Road on May 12. Other officers are Mrs. Mark Marbet, vice president; Mrs. Robert Hozier, secretary and Mrs. Frank Libby, treasurer.

Rev. R. W. Huston Is Transferred To Malden



Rev. R. W. Huston

WESTON — Announcement of the transfer of Rev. Robert W. Huston to become the minister of the Centre Methodist Church of Malden, was made by Bishop John Wesley Lord at the closing session Sunday May 18, of the New England Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, held in Brookline.

Mr. Huston came to Weston as the pastor of the Methodist Church when he was a student at Boston University School of Theology. He has been active in the Weston Rotary Club during part of his residence and has served on several Town committees.

During the nine years of his ministry the active membership of the church has grown from 145 to 341.

Mr. and Mrs. Huston, natives of Tacoma, Washington, will move to Malden May 27, but he will preach his first sermon in the new parish on the Sunday previous. He follows the Rev. Dr. Harry Belmont Hill as the pastor of one of the largest Methodist Churches in the New England Conference. A farewell reception for the Hustons was held Monday evening, May 19, by the members and friends of the Weston church.

WAYLAND—A chance to express opinions about what's to be included in the proposed new Wayland High School will be given on the evening of May 22 at Loker School, when citizens may meet with the School Building Committee.

Four Weston Painters In Boston Exhibition

WESTON—Mrs. Paul N. Carmichael of 27 Robin Road and Will A. Davenport of Kingsbury Lane are among the exhibitors in the current Jordan Marsh Company's annual showing of "Paintings by Contemporary Artists". Mrs. Carmichael's painting is entitled "Still Life" and Mr. Davenport's is called "Homage to the Eggplant". Five hundred paintings were submitted and 218 are being shown. Exhibit ends May 24.

Other Weston artists represented in the show are Mrs. Hamish C. F. Gravem of 214 Boston Post Road, with "City" and Mrs. Robert T. Parsons, 29 Webster Road, with "Easter", a portrait of her daughter. A former Weston artist, now of Framingham, Mrs. Janette Comeau Lord, has a portrait of her husband, entitled "Late Afternoon", in the show.

At Weston Assembly

(John J. McCann)

WESTON—Meeting a common social problem with a smile is William Bogardus, above, shown dancing with Lee Nicolls at the Weston Assembly on May 16. They are in the seventh grade group. At this time of life the girls are often taller than the boys, because they start growing sooner, or something. Later on, the boys catch up.

Committee Will Hold Two Memorial Day Parades In Wayland

WAYLAND — Memorial Day exercises in Wayland will begin at 11:30 a.m. on May 30 with the annual service of V.F.W. Post 6260 at the World War II memorial at East Plain Street and East Commonwealth Road. Invocation will be given by Rev. Otis F. Kelly and benediction by Rev. Elmer Bigwood.

The Wayland parade form at the Town Building at 1 p.m. and march to the North Cemetery, with police chief Ernest H. Damon and officers leading the way.

Yellow Feathers Seen On Hairy Woodpecker

WESTON — Since about May first, a remarkable male Hairy Woodpecker has been coming daily to a suet feeder in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Fanning, 18 Warren Lane. In voice, size, actions and markings, it is typical except for the fact that all feathers normally white are yellow, making it a most striking-looking bird.

One explanation of this color variation is a condition similar in character to albinism and melanism called "Xanthrochroism," where the normal color of the feathers is replaced by yellow. This is known to occur in the red plumage of male Scarlet Tanagers and in the red spot on the hands of male Downy and Hairy Woodpeckers, but it is extraordinary to have white feathers replaced by yellow. Anothers possibility is that this bird has become stained in some unknown manner.

It has been reported to Dr. William H. Drury and Allen H. Morgan of the Massachusetts Audubon Society by Mrs. Charles L. Smith, who saw the bird on May 14, after having been told about it on May 5 by Mr. Fanning.

A search will be made in the area to see if it is nesting in the vicinity of the Fanning home.

Man Kills Fire With Dish Cloth, Vanishes

WESTON — Mrs. James W. Wilcock of 202 Winter Street put an inch of cold ham fat in an iron skillet to melt on the electric stove at 8 a.m. on May 15, then went out to walk the dog.

She looked around, after a time, and saw a sheet of flame inside the kitchen.

She ran to the street and hailed the first vehicle in sight. It was a truck of the Weston Nursery, driven by a man.

The man stopped the truck, hopped out, told Mrs. Wilcock to shut doors and windows and call the Fire Department. She did.

By the time she had finished telephoning and doing what she was told to do, the man was back out in the drive. The Weston Fire Department arrived and the man showed where the fire had been. But the fire was out.

Then the man climbed into his truck and went away.

The fire had eaten into counter tops and cabinets. Mrs. Wilcock found the damage was more than $1000. Neighbors came in and helped clean up.

What happened was that the man killed the fire, a rather lively little blaze, with a wet dish cloth. Then he carried the skillet outdoors and threw it down. No casualties, and far less fire than there might have been.

Mrs. Wilcock, grateful, found out who the man was and gave her thanks. But the man prefers to remain anonymous.

Weston Memorial Day Parade Start, 2 p.m.

WESTON—Commander Harry B. Jones of the American Legion Post No. 214 and chairman of the Weston Memorial Day Committee, announces that formal exercises will be held at 2:30 p.m., on Friday, May 30, in the new Linwood Cemetery.

Marching groups will include the Legion, Legion Auxiliary, the Police Department, the Fire Department, the firing squad Brownies, Girl Scouts, Mariner Scouts, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts. These groups will assemble in front of the Town House by 1:45 p.m. The parade will get underway at 2 p.m., under the direction of Commander Jones, who will serve as parade Marshal. Mr. Joseph Sheehan will be in charge of the firing squad. Music will be by the Weston High School Band, under the direction of Robert O. Corley, director of music in the Weston Public Schools.

Mr. Henry M. Merrill, Sr., will say a prayer at the Boulder beside the Town House.

5 Weston Boys Apply At Harvard, 5 Get In

WESTON — Harvard, Mount Holyoke, and the United States Naval Academy have accepted all of the High School seniors who applied to them for admission. Weston High School is proud of this record because more than one senior applied at each of these institutions, where competition for admission is high.

Harvard accepted five: Charles K. Cummings III, Joshua F. Lombard, Philip F. Mueller, and C. Peter Rydell of the Class of 1958, and Thomas J. Kelly of the class of 1959, who has been granted early admission. The two accepted at the United States Naval Academy are Guy Nickerson and Barry Spofford. The two accepted by Mount Holyoke are Marla C. Buerger and Nina M. Marchetti, both of Lincoln.

Students are still hearing from colleges to which they have applied. Not all the returns are in.

Boys Take 7-lb. Bass

(John J. McCann)

Baseball Tag Day

WAYLAND — A tag day to raise additional money for the Wa-Co baseball program will be held Saturday morning, June 7. The Park Department provides money or such equipment as baseballs, head guards and other necessities, but the committee uses extra money for uniforms and other items.

See All The Stone Walls Around Here? Their Builders Outlived Their Wives, For A Good Reason

A local resident, the other day, seeking to open a closet door to get at his Spring tonic, which is the same kind of tonic he uses in all seasons, sometimes to excess, found the door blocked by a steam iron, standing on a table on its flat butt, its cord draped neatly around its neck.

It was a booby trap. The citizen picked it up to move it and his hand came away covered with blisters. It was hot, but placed there without a beware sign on it.

The untoward incident (or perhaps toward, because it impelled his nervous system one step further toward total collapse) set the fellow to thinking, and he came up with an original conclusioion.

It is well known that nowadays women live longer than men, and this burned thinker hit upon the reason why. It's life insurance. Women live longer than men because women arrange it that way. The thought of that insurance policy, representing any sum from $50 to $50,000,000, untouchable while the old man is breathing, drives them silly. No, not silly. Practical.

Like this:

"Honey, I wish you'd move that clump of birches in the yard. Just transplant them about 18 feet to the southeast, towards Mecca. They block my view of the neighbor's picture window, and I can't see what they're up to."

But consider:

There are four birches in this clump, each four inches in diameter at the height of a man's checkbook. The clump has a root system which reaches across the Town line into Lincoln and maybe New Hampshire. Honey is crowding 79, he hasn't touched a shovel in 11 years and he's just recovering from an attack brought on by something he ate. Moreover, he has a $25,000 insurance policy of which Mrs. Honey is the beneficiary. See tomorrow's obituaries.

In early days around here things were different. The rule was that every old farmer, made rugged by building all those stone walls still to be seen lining the local crooked roads, had three wives and 15 children. Those wives, good honest women who had no insurance to tempt them, would die off, while the old farmer would live to be 90, lying to his grandchildren every day about the size of the rocks he could lift when he was in his prime.

Also, it is to be noted that among the Wapiti tribe of Tierra Del Fuego, where there is no life insurance because life isn't worth living anyway, both men and women die at exactly the same average age, 42 years, three months and two days, and darned glad to get away from the climate.

It may be objected that blaming women for the fact that men, like the good, die young, is unfair to the half of the population which has always been considered the civilizing influence on the planet. But before we swallow this notion, let us state one incontrovertible fact:

The men who started World Wars I and II had mothers who were women. Every one of them. Does this statistic bear out the theory that women are childishly sweet and impractical?

In the Victorian era, it was bad form for a gentleman to mention money to a lady. It was assumed she wouldn't be interested.

But today it has been established, by trial and error, mostly the latter, that there's no better way to catch a lady's attention than with a light conversation beginning:

"Toots, I got a proposition cookin' that I can see 40 grand in. Now when I get the dough ..."

So now we have life insurance and women live long enough to spend it. This happens by accident?

If the truth were known, it would probably be that the man who invented life insurance had a wife who was a woman and thus his inspiration.

The moral of this is that a man should never touch a hot iron without first spitting on his finger, the way veteran ironers (women all) do so daintily. — D.B.W.

Letters to the EDITOR

About Building B

To the Editor:

In the last Crier there appeared a misstatement of fact which should be corrected in the news item about the petition to insert in the warrant for the next Town Meeting an article to appropriate money to rejuvenate Building B. It was there stated "the article, if voted, at the Town Meeting would avoid the double sessions for grades four to six."

Actually, complete remodelling of Building B would add only four more rooms to those being planned for by the School Committee, and would solve only a part of the problem as three additional rooms are required to take any one of the grades off double sessions.

We urge the townspeople to read carefully the article on Building B in the May 15 Crier and also the letter sent by the School Committee to all citizens of Weston explaining our plans for the whole school system.

If there are still questions to be answered, please call on any member of the School Committee.

Sincerely yours,
John G. Brooks.
Chairman School Committee

Red Barn Fair Profits Go Towards New Home

WESTON — Many of Weston's space-minded youngsters are planning to get into orbit around the Red Barn Cooperative Nursery School's Fourth Annual Fair when it takes place Saturday, May 24, at 80 Wellesley Street.

To carry out the 1958 Space Theme, Fair Chairman Mrs. James H. Gardner of Wayland and Co-Chairman Mrs. Thomas S. Barrows of Weston have announced that a 16 foot replica of an actual guided missile will greet young visitors as they enter the grounds from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Once inside, they will find ingenious helmets, made by Red Barn parents, for sale for later moon flights.

For those in the 2 to 10 year set, there will be rides around the corral on saddle horses. A donkey cart complete with donkey will also be present for leisurely jaunts.

A new feature this year will be color cartoons, while the "yard bird" ride will again be in operation. There will be many game booths, all manned by Red Barn parents. The School's Building Fund will benefit from the proceeds of the Fair and since Red Barn must find a new home in the Fall an all-out effort is being made on this venture.

There will be a bake table featuring delicacies made by Red Barn mothers and a craft table offering handmade toys such as wooden tug boats, hand puppets and jump ropes with felt animals for handles. Anyone wishing to have lunch at the Fair will find a busy snack bar.

Advance ticket sales are under the direction of Mrs. Richard Silverman (TW 3-0534). Tickets bought now are 25 cents, and will be 35 cents at the gate on May 24. These cover the cost of admission while all of the features inside are modestly priced. In case of rain the Fair will be held at the present school building on School Street.

Other committee chairman working under Mrs. Gardner are: personnel, Mrs. Berton V. Phinney, Jr., Publicity, Mrs. Joseph A. Markell; bake table, Mrs. Walter W. McCarthy; decorations, Mrs. John H. Underhill; finance, Mr. Stuart M. Shotwell; grounds, Mr. Walter W. McCarthy; special entertainment, Mrs. George Ingram; horses, Mrs. John G. Brooks and Mrs. David M. Kellogg, Jr.; loudspeaker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Green, and snack bar, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Ecker.

Mrs. Bump Discusses Proposed School Site

WESTON — The Special High School Plant Committee's May 22nd hearing on their proposed site for a new high school was well attended and quiet. Mrs. Boardman Bump, chairman, outlined the Site Report in a 50-minute speech illustrated with slides. Questions petered out by 9:30, when everyone went home.

Mrs. Bump said that the Committee chose the 62 acres of Paine land at the southeast corner of South Avenue and Wellesley Street because it is readily accessible by existing routes, is isolated from houses, and contains open land for building and play fields. The site has been appraised and the price is under negotiation.

After the Committee's investigation of 14 sites, Mrs. Bump explained that no perfect site for a High School existed in Weston. All sites are either too wooded, too far, too rocky, or too inaccessible, and no Weston roads are really adequate.

Mrs. Bump emphasized the fact that a two-thirds vote is required to appropriate money to buy a site. She said that Weston needs school space badly, and if the Town cannot agree on some site, then the building program will be slowed.

Wednesday, June 4, has been definitely picked as the date for the Special Town Meeting. The purpose for a Special Meeting is to vote on a site for the new High School.

Two other articles will also be on the warrant. An article, backed by the Recreation Commission, would acquire approximately 5.5 acres of Renwick land on Merriam Street for a playground to serve the Silver Hill area.

An article, inserted by petition, would appropriate money to remodel or repair school buildings.

Letters to the EDITOR

About Memorial Day

To the Editor:

In recent years the Memorial Day exercises (weather permitting) have been held in the cemetery itself. To me and to others who grew up in Weston, Memorial Day was and is a time for honoring the dead. I would not think of attending a funeral in shorts and to see men and women so attired, romping children and dogs running all over the graves of my relatives and friends is to me a travesty on the meaning of Memorial Day and a desecration of the cemetery itself.

If the townspeople of Weston prefer to celebrate Memorial Day as a gay holiday, they should stay out of the cemeteries and not give offense to those who still regard Memorial Day as a day of dedication and solemnity. Let those who regard it as just another holiday celebrate on the village green.

Sincerely,
Alice F. Fraser

About New School

To the Editor:

It now being approximately two months since the Town Meeting was held authorizing the Special Building Committee to proceed with the design and construction of a new elementary school, we believe it fitting that a report be made to the Town as to our progress.

At the Hearing and the Town Meeting suggestions were made by citizens with regard to plan layout. Before authorizing the Architects to proceed with the preparation of working drawings we asked them to consider these and other suggestions from the Committee. The revisions made in the preliminary plans have resulted, we believe, in a more compact and efficient school and will also permit future additions to be made with a minimum of interferance to school activities.

It now appears that the working drawings will be completed by the end of July. This means that the building construction contract will be let about the last week in August, a delay of three to four weeks in our original schedule.

Assuming that the contract is let by the first of September and that there are no construction delays, it is possible that the building may be completed and ready for occupancy in September, 1959. However, due to the fact that this building must be publicly let on the basis of competitive bids according to State law and it is, therefore, impossible for your Building Committee to select the contractor, we can give the town no assurance that the building will, in fact, be completed by September, '59. All we can say to you at this time is that this is possible.

Recognizing your concern with regard to the problem of double sessions in our school system we are giving maximum attention to speeding this work as much as is consistent with obtaining sound results. Should there be any change in the schedule as outlined above, the Committee will immediately inform the Town.

Very truly yours,
J. S. Turner, Chairman
Special School Building Committee

Lincoln Festival

To the Editor:

It may interest some of your readers to hear about the 6th annual spring festival to be held at the DeCordova Museum in Lincoln on Saturday, June 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Festival of the Big Top, a circus in the gay 90s era, will start off with a colorful parade from Lincoln Center to the Museum. Besides a 10-piece band there will be a genuine antique calliope that was once used in a Barnum circus. Clowns, animals, bareback riders, floats carrying dancing girls, strange and exotic animals and many more wonders will make up the parade.

Eve Walker, the aerialist, will perform in the Big Ring at 10:30 a.m., and at 2:30 p.m. Also in the ring will be a baby performing elephant, girls in a dance routine, acrobats and tumblers, a drill by the bareback riders and many other acts.

The Midway will have games of skill and chance for all ages. Freaks, wild animals and can-can dancers will be part of the Side Shows. Bob Munstedt, well-known ventriloquist, and his puppet, Alex Smallwood, will put on three shows. Mr. Bob will include in his act his Punch and Judy puppet show.

Your admission ticket will entitle you to a chance to win one of many door prizes. For adults: a 12-inch RCA TV set, a winged euonymus shrub, a certificate for an LP record or hostess set.

For children: a Raleigh-Robinhood bicycle, a parakeet with cage, a certificate for an LP record and a toy truck. It will not be necessary to be present at the time of the drawing in order to claim a prize if you win.

Please park at the Smith School, off Lincoln Road, or along Baker Bridge Road and Route 126. Free bus transportation will be provided to the museum from both sites.

Yours truly,
Sallie L. Jackson

Cartons, Scourge Of The Wetlands, A Nuisance, Around The House, Too

Not so long ago the groceries came home from the store in a wooden box, toted into the kitchen by the grocery boy and left there as a means of getting rid of it. In due time the box would be split up and used as kindling in the kitchen stove, and thus it would disappear cleanly.

Nowadays the scourge of domestic life is the cardboard carton, in which is shipped everything but the new automobile with 219-inch wheelbase.

The grocery boy doesn't deliver it any more, either. The housewife goes on her weekly splurge in the supermarket and comes home with the food in six paper bags and five cartons. And it's disposal of these cartons which drives men and women mad.

Being only paper, one might think a carton easy to destroy. Not so. It possesses the strength of 10,000 Mongolian devils. It can be torn apart, but it's a week's work. It can be cut, but hauling a knife through it creates squeaking noises which set the teeth on edge. It can be crushed, but as one stamps on it it spreads out until it takes up even more room.

Old cartons can, of course, be used for storage. Alas, however, they hold moisture like the Atlantic Ocean. Let one drop of water, or one daub of spilled ketchup, get into a carton, and it will spread and soak until carton and contents are a miserable ruin.

Moreover, some cartons are built with trick bottoms. The makers do this on purpose, it is believed. The carton is placed in some obscure corner and used as a receptacle for recently current magazines, which it is supposed somebody will look at again. Nobody ever will, of course, and in time the carton will be full and the housewife will say to whatever male patsy is within hearing, "Get these magazines out of here before I blow my sacque."

So the male will squat, get his hands under the sides of the container, then make with the big lift. Except that the bottom of the carton will open like ballroom doors, and there will be a mountain of magazines on the floor.

Nor is the grocer the only fellow who's in business mainly to get rid of cartons.

There is the man in the package store, who adds a refinement. He sells beer in cartons, each bottle placed in a separate hollow square of cardboard. This paper network may be removed, if the ultimate consumer wishes, but there is no use for it. A trained mosquito would be easier to get rid of.

The obvious thing to do with a carton is burn it, but that's difficult. Before it can be put in a fireplace it has to be disassembled, and even then, it creates too much heat. The outdoor incinerator, unless outsize, will hold only one carton at a time, which will burn like an oil well.

Next best thing is to use the carton in the home as a waste basket, and carry it to the Town Dump once a week. In this there is a small measure of satisfaction. The householder in this region may load the back of his trash wagon each Sunday morning with a dozen cartons, each overflowing with the end products of a complex civilization, and take them to the rubbish ramparts. Here, with a degree of vindictive pleasure, he may give each carton the heave ho, knowing it will be fuel next time the dump catches fire.

Incidentally, personal papers of any importance should not be included in the carton collection. Everybody can read, nowadays. More interesting stuff from the careless is available than in the public library.

How this will all come out there is no telling, but there has been one result. So much swamp in Massachusetts has been filled up by having cartons thrown in it that a group has been formed to save the wetlands. — D.B.W.

Memorial Scholarship Is Won By Tom Clarke

WESTON—..Mr. Raymond W. Coburn, Chairman of the Weston War Memorial Educational Fund Committee, announced recently that the 1958 War Memorial Scholarship has been awarded to Thomas N. Clarke, Class of '58, Weston High School, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Clark of Wellesley Street. Thomas will enter Emerson College in September where he plans to major in speech, dramatics and radio broadcasting.

The Weston War Memorial Educational Fund was established by vote of the town on March 23, 1953, as a memorial to all citizens of Weston who served in the armed forces of all wars. Its purpose is to assist the further education of graduatees of Weston High School. The first scholarship was presented in 1957 to Robert Walsh, '57, who is in his freshman year at Brandeis University.

Chairman Coburn expressed regret that present income from the fund is not sufficient to grant more than one scholarship annually. Any increase in the number of annual scholarships is solely dependent on additions to the principal amount of this fund, which is presently $4,294.35.

We hope that interested citizens and community groups will be moved to make substantial gifts to the fund so that other worthy graduates of the high school can be given financial assistance.

In addition to Chairman Coburn, other members of the committee include Mrs. Alice Fraser, Mr. Anthony Brayton, Mr. Harry B. Jones, and until recently, Mr. Julius H. Mueller, Principal of the High School who, because of his decision to take a position in another community, has resigned from the committee.

Little Leaguers Will Canvass Town To Help Baseball Program

WAYLAND — More than 360 boys are enrolled in the Wa-Co Baseball program this year, Jerry Joyce announces, and in order to provide them with extra equipment, more than the Park Department can supply, a tag day is to be held June 7, when boys will make a door-to-door canvass of the Town.

The Association now has eight sets of uniforms, 15 to a set, and would like to get more. A cap cost $1, a jersey $1.25 and a complete uniform $12.

The idea is to provide every boy, aged 8 to 14, a chance to play in every game. This holds until the middle of June, when, with many away, the program is somewhat rearranged.

The baseball program in Town has grown enormously since it was started in 1951, with 36 boys enrolled. Graduates of the Little League have contributed greatly to the recent success of Wayland High School teams in all sports.

graduates next month from Framingham State Teachers' College and expects to teach in the Framingham elementary schools next year . . . Joan Cahill, Jane's twin sister, a junior at Regis College, is recuperating from an appendectomy at the Leonard Morse Hospital. Both girls are graduates of Wayland High School. . . . Another local graduate from Framingham Teachers College is Mrs. Norman Ross of Commonwealth Road. Mrs. Ross is the mother of three young daughters, Nancy, Beverly and Charlotte, all of whom attend the Cochituate Grammar School, and a pre-school son, Glen. During the past year Mrs. Ross served as president of the Cochituate P.T.A., and doubled in brass for six weeks as a teacher when she did a session of practice teaching there . . . Mr. Ross is an attorney with an office on Main Street and a lot of experience at baby-sitting. . . .

Leslie M. Tourville of Commonwealth Road was among the secondary school principals invited by the U. S. Government recently to visit the new Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs. Press of duties in his job as principal of the Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School kept him from going on the trip, however. . . .

Cynthia Bryant, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryant of Old Connecticut Path, will be among the performers doing solo numbers at the recital of the Catherine Mackey Dancing School recital in June, at the new Framingham High School auditorium . . . Mrs. Addie Profit of Doran Road now has three of her four sons in the armed services. Gurney and Freddie, 18-year-old twins, enlisted in the Navy in February and spent a short leave at home after completing boot training at the Great Lakes Naval Station. They left on Saturday for Bainbridge, Maryland, for additional training. Before they enlisted, the boys were juniors at Wayland High School. Under a special provision which the Navy offers, they can stay together during their period of service. An older brother, Ronnie, a former member of the Wayland Fire Department, is with the Quartermaster Corps at Fort Leonard Wood. The youngest boy, William, is in the 10th grade at Wayland High School. . . .

A group of 20 members of the Cochituate and North Natick Mothers' Club attended the performance of the current Vokes Players hit, "The Gayside of Wayside" on Wednesday evening. . . . A food sale at the Hannah Williams playground which the Club held on a recent Saturday added about $40 to the scholarship fund, used for an annual award to a member of the graduating class at W.H.S. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth White of Walsh Road, Framingham, announce the birth of their first daughter and second child at the Framingham Union Hospital on May 12. She was baptized on May 25 at St. Bridget's Church, Framingham Centre, and named Terese Michele. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth White of Stonebridge Road and Mr. and Mrs. John Wales of Edgewood Road, Cochituate. The baby's mother is the former Suzanne Wales. . . .

Firemen and equipment from Station 2 went to the Cochituate bathing beach on Thursday when Box 132 was rung in. Chief Hartin thinks an early sun-bather might have started the brush fire there by careless disposal of a cigarette. . . . Mrs. Peter Wanecek of Old Connecticut Path has moved into the former Gallagher house on Edgewood Road which she purchased last fall. . . . Peter Bogren, of West Plain Street, Cochituate, winds up his post-graduate work at the University of Missouri School of Journalism in June. Pete is a Wayland High School and Colby College graduate, son of George Bogren and the late Mrs. Bogren.

Happy Hollow 6th Graders In Show

WAYLAND — Sixth graders at Happy Hollow School had a little medieval fun recently with a play directed by Mrs. Florence Shohl and Mr. Edward Sullivan. Seated, left, are Roberta Lombardo, a jester, and Peter Neuendorffer, a troubador. Standing, left to right, are Lorraine Genay, Cynthia Rossborough, Thomas White, Kathleen Krinopolis (queen); Stephen Dinsmore (king); Keith Kingsbury, Sandra Wilkinson, Dianne Lavers and Cheryl Gallagher.

WAYLAND — The musical play, "Quest for a King", was given by the 6th grades of Happy Hollow School on May 20 for the pupils, and on the evening of the 21st to an audience of nearly 200 parents and friends. The medieval legend of King Richard the Lionhearted's abduction as he traveled home after the Third Crusade, and his discovery and rescue by his friend, the troubadour Blondel, was set in the contrasting scenes of the English Court and an Austrian village inn. Early music was searched out, when possible, and included a wide range from the ancient "Sumer is Icumen In" and a bit of the "Chanson Roland" to the "Pilgrims' Chorus" from "Tannhauser", which had the right spirit, if not the right date.

Mrs. Florence Shohl and Mr. Edward Sullivan were the producers, and Mrs. Pauline Radford was the musical director. All 43 children had parts, and nearly all doubled as stage crew, ushers and announcers.

James Allen, 3½, In Framingham Hospital With Serious Burns

James E. Allen

COCHITUATE — James E. Allen, 3½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Allen of Willard Street, is in critical condition at the Framingham Union Hospital from burns received when his clothes caught fire on Saturday, May 24.

The youngster got too close to an open-wire incinerator in a neighbor's yard when he tried to throw away an orange peel. Roger Hewitt, 14, who lives nearby, wrapped the child in a burlap bag to put out the flames, and Bobby Regan, 17, another neighbor, rolled him on the ground. Mrs. Robert Groton of Winter Street rushed him to the hospital.

Adding to the parents' anxiety is the problem of meeting the heavy expense involved in his hospitalization and treatment.

Letters to the EDITOR

About Memorial Day

To the Editor:

An older Veteran's observations and viewpoint from a Jeep, Memorial Day, 1958. Such a fine day for the Wayland Townspeople and their Veterans to Commemorate.

A Salute to the Veterans' posts, the Boy and Girl Scouts, Cub, Brownies and their leaders for a splendid turnout.

Spacious parking area and grounds adjoining new Town office building to group and form a column for the line of march. Compliments to our Memorial Day Committee for securing such a fine marching band. Colorful parade underway 1:15 p.m. This is my thirty-third pilgrimage to our North and South Cemeteries.

So little change in those older residences on Old Sudbury Road with no new dwelling over these years. A goodly crowd of spectators on the line of march, using yards of film to record the event. A splendid road to march on, compared to bygone years. Beautiful saddle horses in their pastures—should be kept on a rope under restraint.

Commendation to the Wayland Historical for their display of our nation's flag. Such meadows in new Spring growth flecked with buttercups, wild mustard plants in full blossom on each side of the road.

With such views, we approach Old North Cemetery entering slowly with a dirge to perform, our duties to the veterans of all this Nation's wars and the many of the Town older residents and Natives in their last resting place.

At the Town's Soldiers' lot, our solemn services were conducted, with devout prayers and a fine recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Our compliments to that young Girl Scout.

We form our column again and with rapid steps to good music, proceed two miles to the Town's South Cemetery, where other ceremonies are conducted taking place at the grave of Sgt. Charles H. Alward, killed in action, Chateau Thierry, 1918. Our local Legion Post No. 133, formed in 1919, is named after this brave soldier.

These ceremonies always grieve me on our yearly visit to this grave for we were boyhood chums and schoolmates.

Reforming our line again we return to the Town Office grounds, there to disband. We trust our townspeople appreciate the efforts of these Veterans, Town Officials and the groups of Scouts in dedicating, conducting such ceremonies befitting to the Town's departed and Honored Dead.

May I, as one of the Town's older World War I Veterans, offer a few comments and criticisms I observed of some of the spectators on the parade's line of march. Many women were noted in garb not becoming this day of memories and dedication. Some of them even desecrated the cemeteries by walking over graves in their unsuitable attire.

Our Memorial Day parade is performed solely in memory to the Town departed and not as a celebration or carnival. People who care to view this parade in the future, and wishing to participate in the ceremonies should come in proper dress for such a function. That pertains to both sexes.

My final comment is to those men folk on the side-lines, many of you who are Veterans from your services in the Armed Forces in recent wars. How do you feel as the parade goes by on its way to decorate a Veteran's grave? You or I might have been resting in that cemetery plot under a flag, your son or daughter may have been among those Scouts. Do they ever ask you, as a Veteran why you are not part of this parade? Ask yourself, Why? Let me ask you why not join the veteran's organization of your choice and be part of this annual ceremony.

Respectfully
James J. Bolton,
Morse Road, Wayland

Thank You Note

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Women's Community League of Weston, I would like to express our gratitude and deep appreciation to Mr. Brewer and Mr. Calhoun of Brewer and Calhoun, Weston electricians.

For the past four years, they have donated a great deal of their time and their energy, and made available the necessary electrical equipment for lighting the Town Green for the yearly Dance-on-the-Green without charge! Much of the success of the dance has been due to the generosity of these two men.

They undertook this job at considerable expense and with many basic handicaps which as of this year have been eliminated.

There have been permanent lighting outlets installed on each side of the Green which will double the number of lights on the night of June 7th. This was done in collaboration with Brewer and Calhoun who again donated their time for this permanent installation.

With our sincere thanks to these men,

Yours truly,
Mrs. James C. Cook, Chairman

Boys Plant A Maple In Memory Of Pop Fullick, Friend Of Scouting

(John J. McCann)

COCHITUATE—A sugar maple tree was planted on Memorial Day on the Cochituate School green in memory of George "Pop" Fullick, friend of Scouting, who died recently. The tree was provided by the Cochituate Group of Citizens Committee, the sponsoring Institution for Scouting, William Irwin, Institutional Representative, and sponsored by the members of Pack 1, Pack 55, Troop 1 and Post 1 of the Cochituate Boy Scout Program.

In dedicating the tree, Explorer Scout Bernard Nolan said: "More than 25 years ago a man began an outstanding career in service which has brought the experience of scouting to hundreds of boys and parents. . . It is very fitting and appropriate that today we mark the memory of Pop Fullick with the planting of this tree."

Speaking for the Boy Scouts of Troop 1, Scout Jack Larkin said: "Pop's love of nature. . . will be preserved as we watch the growth of this tree. . . Here we can say a personal prayer and a sincere 'thank you' to one who gave so much and asked so little."

Kevin Courchine, representing Cub Packs 1 and 55, said: "The Cub Scouts of today salute the memory of his great life. As we help to plant Pop's tree, we pledge ourselves to do our best in our Cubbing, in our school, and in our life as citizens.' '

The planting took place following the parade to the cemeteries and was attended by a large number of Scouts, parents, friends and townspeople.

Latest In Romance --- The Young Love Peanut Butter, Wiped On Table Cloth Or Left On Knife

Great progress has been made recently in the study of nutrition. Everybody has heard about vitamins, green and yellow vegetables, carbohydrates and carbon in the engine. But it all breaks down when it collides with one of the hard facts of life.

The younger set has decided to feed on nothing but peanut butter sandwiches and the varieties of soft drinks known generally as glop.

Or sometimes the knife is left balanced across the top of the jar, so that an inadvertent whack may send it flying across the room, spraying goo all over.

One explanation for the popularity of peanut butter is that it's full of grease. Grease is what makes people love French fried potatoes, pizza pie, fried ham and eggs, fried clams and roast pork. The hotter the weather, the more people go for the old oil in cookery. But any old time, the kids go for the oil in peanut butter.

Nothing is to be done about this taste, even though many think the only proper way to use peanut butter is to smear it on the limbs of trees in January for the comfort of the hairy-chested rumpwing, who also likes oily stuff, but in Winter instead of Summer.

One critic of local customs says that children get the peanut butter habit because they get home from school hungry before Ma has returned from the afternoon meeting of Committee To Uplift the Civic Conscience, which of course often needs it, and they have to have something to eat.

So they take to the peanut butter, which is easy to handle if one doesn't care where he spreads it, and the young don't, and the bread, which is pre-sliced and also easy to handle. When well spread, the resulting sandwich is tasty, filling and, although vegetable, far removed from lettuce.

This sandwich may also represent a reaction from the school lunch, which, being official, results often in turned up noses. The peanut butter represents freedom.

Also, this sandwich doesn't do any harm. It's not like the reefer habit. All it does is fill the youngster's stomach and make him unhappy at meal time.

It says in the books that all of a sudden the growing boy or girl develops a great appetite. So he does, but it doesn't show at the table, when the spinach, potatoes and meat appear. It is satisfied between meals.

It may be that this tremendous consumption of the product of the peanut represents economic loss to this region. In fact, the peanut, generally thought of as growing in the South, can be raised in this region. Somebody with a few acres of land might grow peanuts right here, install a cider press or something and squeeze out peanut butter right in Town.

Peanut butter partakes of the nature of peanuts, anway, which is to be so tasty that one leads to another. There have been cases where guests at the cocktail party became so interested in the salted peanuts they went away overfed instead of overloaded, and that's about the limit in charm, for nuts.

Good cooking takes skill. But a good peanut butter sandwich can be made by anybody who can wipe a dirty knife blade across a clean table cloth.

There's even a fear that peanut butter may result in total lack of attendance at afternoon committee meetings. It's a brave little mother who can come home day after day to a kitchen which looks as though the Sioux had sacked it. — D.B.W.

New Organization

The Association says that while it would be happy to help get such a project under way, it would not be responsible or liable for any of the references or recommendations. Those interested, or those who know any possible helpers, are asked to call Mrs. Theodore B. Bayles, TW 3-6010, or Mrs. Lois Child, TW 3-6500.

One of the greatest needs of the Town, the Association has found, is some such organization to help families find adequate help in the home during an illness.

After the visiting nurse has done all she can for the mother with a new baby, for instance, she needs to turn her patients over to the care of a competent, reliable mother's helper. Many new families in Town are not yet acquainted with their neighbors, are far from their own relatives and in an economic dilemma if father loses time from business to do the housekeeping.

Although the visiting nurse and doctors in Town receive constant requests for assistance, they have only a few names to suggest, and many times none are available at any price.

James Allen,

"He has had 24-hour special nurses and will need them for another two weeks, at a cost of $48 a day," says Mrs. Allen. "Blue Cross and Blue Shield do not pay for this. The doctor told us he would probably be in the hospital for six months — that we could hope for five. Extensive skin grafting operations will be neecssary when he is well enough."

The Wayland Red Cross, according to Mrs. Allen, has assured her that it will take care of all the blood, perhaps 35 or 40 pints, that the boy will need.

The family rent their home and have been hoping in another year to be able to buy. Mr. Allen is an engineer. There are three other children: Ronnie, a senior at Wayland High School; Judy, a junior; and Leon, in the 10th grade. Mrs. Allen expects another child in August.

Rural fires in the United States cause 700 to 800 deaths a year while harvesting accidents, which city people seldom think about, cause 1000 deaths and 100,000 injuries.

second successive year and that more than 500 new shareholders had joined The Co-Op, Inc. Membership now exceeds 4800. In the eight years of its operation the Co-op has paid out $344,944.00 in patronage refunds and stock dividends to its local members and customers.

President Walter C. Ward of Main Street, Cochituate, reported that the Board of Directors has just appropriated funds to have plans drawn up for a Co-op shopping center to be erected at Franklin Street and Mt. Wayte Avenue, Framingham. The new Co-op market in the Wayland shopping center is due to open late this year.

At the directors meeting held May 28, Walter Ward of Cochituate was re-elected president.

Cochituate News

Mrs. John Rooney of Hawthorne Road, Mrs. Lawrence Dame of Edgewood Road and Mrs. Alfred Damon of Shawmut Avenue, attended the semi-annual meeting of the Massachusetts Traffic Policewomen's Association at Lexington, and came home with some good ideas about how "lady cops" can handle traffic violations without being laughed at, according to one of them. . . Cochituate was well represented at the first annual dinner-dance for Marian High School parents which took place at the Meadows on Monday, May 26. Mr. and Mrs. John Gebhardt of Oak Street, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Michalski of Haven Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gladu of South Street and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Marston of Maiden Lane were among the 300 present. . .

Mrs. Neal Guarino

Frank Guarino, one of the sixth grade teachers at the Cochituate School, coached the Wayland Junior High School baseball team in a highly successful season. Playing in a six-team Middlesex League with Acton, Billerica, Lexington, Maynard and Weston, the Wayland boys lost 2 and won 8 games. Pitcher Billy Wilkinson of Park Lane is credited with 6 wins, and in the last game against Billerica got a home run with bases loaded. Home games were played at the Cochituate ball field. . . Nelson Ashline, the other sixth grade teacher at Cochituate, is hoping for good weather on June 7, the day for the annual trip to the Miles Standish State Park in North Easton, which the sixth grades have been making for two or three years now. . . "The kids do all the planning for food, collecting the money and shopping around for good buys in hamburger", says Mr. Ashline. . .

Mrs. John Sullivan of Fairfield Road, who has served since its opening as the capable cashier at the Raytheon Wayland Lab cafeteria, left to take a new job at the Raytheon offices on the turnpike in Framingham, formerly the Rollerena. . . Mrs. Fern Taylor of Edgewood Road had a coffee hour at her home one Saturday morning recently to raise funds for new equipment for the treatment of cardiac patients at the Leonard Morse Hospital. . . Barbara Carroll, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carroll of Snakebrook Road, who was badly injured when she was struck by a car in Belmont several weeks ago, is making slow but satisfactory progress at the Mt. Auburn Hospital in Cambridge, her mother says. . . And John Rooney, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rooney of Hawthorne Road, is a medical patient at the Leonard Morse Hospital. . .

The season for school "field trips" is here. . . A group from the Cochituate school recently visited the boat-landing facilities at Lake Cochituate State Park. . . Mrs. Gladu's fourth grade and Mrs. Neal's fourth grade, are going to Babson Park on the 17th to see the famous relief map there. . . Mrs. Neal returned to teaching this week after an absence of several weeks following a fall on the stairs at the school. . . Members of the Shore Acres Club wound up the club's first year with a dinner for husbands and wives at the Frances Inn in Medfield. The group, organized last Fall, meets on Tuesday twice a month and takes its name from that given to one of the town's oldest "developments", Shore Acres, which was laid out back around the time of World War I. . .

Miss Dorothy Brewer of Old Connecticut Path, librarian at the Cochituate branch library, was chief obedience steward at the dog show at Raceland, the Macomber estate in Framingham Centre, on May 25. . . Herbert D. Place of Old Connecticut Path returned home on the 23rd from an 18-months tour of duty with the U.S. Army in Korea. He is married to the former Bette Richardson, daughter of Wayland Water Superintendent and Mrs. Richardson of Old Connecticut Path. . . The Richardsons' elder son, George, returned home this week from his freshman year at Brown University. . .

Cadillac

Meeting Ground for 40 Million Dreams!

It has been authoritatively estimated that over forty million people hope some day to own and drive a Cadillac car of their own.

And how wonderful it is to reflect on the number of those dreams that have already come true.

For it is a matter of record that—over the past decade alone—more than a million new Cadillacs were delivered to their proud and happy owners.

But the wonder should not be that Cadillac has proved a wise investment for so many—but that it would be a sound purchase for so many more.

In original cost, it is the rival of automobiles that make no pretension to Cadillac's eminence.

In upkeep, it is a source of constant satisfaction.

And in resale value, it is simply without counterpart.

So if one of those forty million dreams is yours—you ought to visit your dealer soon.

He'll be happy to show you Cadillac's new Fleetwood coachcrafting—and to tell you about all the models, including the Eldorado Brougham.

Hats Are Symbolic, They Insist

WAYLAND—Following a lively debate on the merits of a school item versus a regional planning item for next year's local study, the members of the League of Women Voters, at their annual meeting May 28, voted to accept both items. The school item to be undertaken as soon as possible since it will deal chiefly with the study of the plans for a new high school with regard to curriculum. The regional planning item will study planning with regard to Wayland in the Metropolitan area.

Mrs. Warren Eriksen presided at the meeting and gave her annual report to the members. Mrs. Karnig A. Berberian gave a report on the National Convention which she and Mrs. Eriksen attended at Atlantic City and Mrs. Luther Davis Jr. gave a report on the meeting of the State Council.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the League of Women Voters hat parade sponsoring the Reciprocal Trade Agreement. Mrs. Douglas Surgenor modeled a hat representing many of the items exported by the state of Massachusetts and Mrs. Ray Harris a hat representing Wayland's cultural exchange. Mrs. Harris herself is now completing plans for an extended stay in Europe with her husband, who is being loaned to set up a new branch of his company in Europe.

Mrs. Phillip DeBruyn, formerly a native of Holland, modeled our scientific and agricultural exchange hat, and Mrs. John Densmore modeled a hat representing our friendly trade with other countries.

Mrs. William Max Griffin, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, presented the report of her committee and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Luther Davis Jr., second vice president; Mrs. Richard Best, treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Roberts, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Durant, Mrs. George Mayberry, Mrs. Charles Peters, Mrs. Robert Page and Mrs. John Freymann, directors.

New and old board will hold a luncheon meeting at 9:30 Tuesday, June 10, at the home of Mrs. Harold E. Belles.

Dinner Parties Before Dancing-On-The-Green

Bachelder and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Fernald Jr.

The William L. Helms Jr. will be hosts to the Robert Lloyds, the Richard J. Comeys, the Philip Trumbulls, the Paul F. Gryskas and the Robert Haydocks Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Williams will give their traditional shortcake and coffee party following the dance for a large group of friends. The Gustave Damins will entertain at dinner for their son, Tristram. Guests will include Alton Stone, Lee Braconier, Kitty Talbot, Susan Revotskie, Janet Peterson, Wayne Tucker and Sandy Winsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chapman will have as dinner guests the Wendell Micks, the Robert T. Steinsiecks and the Richard Griffins.

Seth Heywood Jr. will be host to a group of his 6th grade friends. Guests will be Mark Rogers, Berkley Bottjer, Alan Gauld, Rickey Petri, Sally Derby, Susan Jolley and Anne Gyorgy.

No Double Sessions In Weston — Town Votes To Fix Up Bldg. B

WESTON — The June 4 Special Town Meeting approved all three articles on the warrant, appropriating $141,000. The Town voted $31,000 to avoid double sessions next year by renovating the six rooms in School Building B, $85,000 to buy 65 acres on South Ave. for the new high school and $25,000 to buy eight acres for a playground on the west side of Merriam St.

Glenn M. Lempereur presided over the three hour meeting in his first appearance as Town Moderator, with more than 500 voters present in the high school gym. The meeting, orginally scheduled to pick a site for the new high school, spent two hours on this one article.

There was no opposition to the appropriation of $31,000 for Building B. John G. Brooks, Chairman of the School Committee, presented this motion, which referred to the article inserted on the warrant by petition of a group of citizens who opposed double sessions for grades 4 to 6. Mr. Brooks said that the School Committee could not recommend such expenditure since sacrifices would have to be made elsewhere in the school system to take all three grades off double sessions. However, he said that if the Town wished to spend the money, the Committee would then use every effort to avoid double sessions altogether.

Mr. Brooks explained that the Department of Public Safety had relented recently on requirements for renovating the 48-year-old building. Former estimates had been $57,000. When renovated, the upper four rooms may be used for five years as classrooms and the two basement rooms for one year, with future use of the building permitted for other purposes.

Unanimous vote followed for a

Claypit Hill 6th Graders Hold Entertaining Musical Evening

(John J. McCann)

Among the dancers in "Sing A Song", presented at the Claypit Hill School, were Marilyn Manchester, left, above, and Virginia Moulton. Pupils helped write the show. Miss Mary Leahy and Mr. Francis White of the faculty were producers, and Mrs. Pauline Radford of the music department arranged and directed the music.

WAYLAND — Sixty of the sweetest voices made "Sing A Song", presented by the graduating class of Claypit Hill School on June 5, a musical hit!

Attractive scenery and costumes representing foreign lands, dancing, piano, flute and vocal solos and an energetic stage hand added to the evening's enjoyment.

The diligent efforts of Pauline N. Radford, music teacher, Mary G. Leahy and Francis J. White, 6th grade teachers, and Leonard M. Ridini, physical education teacher, brought forth the best of this younger set.

The unusual rendition of well-know musical selections made this a memorable experience for parents and pupils. — R. D.

Maybe It's The Climbing Cutworm Which Chews The Pepper, And Maybe It's The Manchu Pheasant

Fortunately for the peace of mind of local gardeners, up to now, it has been generally unknown that there is another kind of cutworm.

The known kind is a miserable little worm, all skin and insides, like a sacque, who burrows around near the roots of plants. His favorite prey is the freshly set out tomato plant, which he takes down like a woodsman felling a tree, unless the plant wears a paper collar. This paper collar will get a tomato somewhere, but it will get a man nowhere. Not since 1905, anyway, when it was in style, Grandpa says, although he tends to forget nowadays and he may be wrong about this. What Grandpa was doing around 1905 he has never told, the sly old dog.

Anyway, the other kind of cutworm is the climbing cutworm, like the social climber. This despicable little character looks for all the world like the burrowing cutworm, says a local naturalist, who adds that you can look it up in the book.

Sure enough, there it is in the book, "How To Know and Love the Crawling Things", by Eilby A. Glowworm, Grub Publishing Company.

Always Was Here

From the book:

"The climbing cutworm is the deadly enemy of the petunia. This is peculiar, because the petunia has no other enemies, except in cases where girls are named Petunia, which is not a name everybody goes for.

"Nor is it known how far up the climbing cutworm will climb nor how he knows what's up there, because he can't see on account of having dirt and commercial fertilizer in his eyes. The altitude record is believed to be held by a climbing cutworm who ascended four feet 6 inches up a morning glory vine and ate the string, not knowing any better.

"Authorities believe the climber came over in the Ark, like the creeping cutworm, whose motto is, 'Dig that crazy daisy!'"

Mystery

This matter becomes pertinent because a local garden is being devastated by a mysterious creature which attacks the fourth pepper plant in the row every night. The gardener, a persistent fellow, replaces the plant every day (it's ruinous, financially), and every night it gets bitten off, three inches above the ground, and the top gets thrown two feet away.

The gardener consulted the wild life expert because this sort of thing was making him wild, too, and got that stuff about the climbing cutworm.

On the other hand, he also consulted a cynical old wretch around town, who took, appropriately, a cynical view.

"It's birds what does it," he said. "Around here it ain't safe to blame a bird even for lousing up a park statute. It's a conspiracy. Everybody goes around peeking at birds and pretending they's without sin and ain't casting no stone, whereas in fact birds is the worst pests they is, like crows and buzzards and shrikes and third strikes and sea gulls and pheasants. Pheasants! Say!

"Them pheasants ain't American birds at all. They was imported from Manchuria, and that squawk they make all the time is in Russian. They look like a hen in a paint pot but they got no manners, no sense and no regard for private property. You ast me, it's pheasants what's digging that crazy pepper plant."

That's what he said, but you can't fight the Audubon Society. And who's going to get up at 3:30 a.m. to lie in ambush to see whether it's a dirty climbing cutworm which is eating the pepper plant or a dirty bird, especially if one doesn't care whether he ever eats another pepper and is only interested in detective stories. — D.B.W.

Letters to the EDITOR

About Ducklings

To the Editor:

As Weston Police Officer Barbetti was going off duty one afternoon recently, he saw a duck wth nine newly-hatched ducklings trying to cross the Boston Post Road from Children's Park to the pond at the Marsh home. Officer Barbetti held up traffic until they had crossed the street, but much to the consternation of the mother, the ducklings were too little to get over the curbstone. He gave each one a "lift" and started them safely on their way to the pond. In these fast-moving days, it is good to know there is still time for kindness like this.

Mrs. Charles L. Smith

Thank You Note

To the Editor:

I find it difficult to write personally each individual who helped support in every way the efforts to avoid double sessions.

Therefore, I would like to take this opportunity to thank sincerely each of you.

If you are as pleased as I am about the fine show of community sentiment against double sessions, I am sure you find this reward enough for the efforts expended.

Besides, your children and my children will not have their educational opportunity impaired.

Mrs. George W. Dick

New Officers of St. Ann's Guild

WAYLAND — Mrs. Gerard B. Fox of Parmenter Road was elected president of St. Ann's Guild at its annual meeting, held recently at Beacon Terrace, Framingham. Miss Mary Tierney of the Boston Traveler was the speaker.

Wayland Resident Is New MIT Track Coach

WAYLAND—Arthur E. Farnham, Jr., of Glover Road, was recently appointed varsity track coach at M.I.T. He was assistant to the track coach for about a year, coming to M.I.T. from Washington Irving High School in New York, where he taught some academic subjects and was track, cross-country and wrestling coach.

Arthur E. Farnham Jr.

He and his wife, Jerry (for Jeraudeane) and their 10-year-old son, Steven, moved to Wayland last December. Their house on Glover Road formerly belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lincoln, who now live on Lincoln Road, Wayland.

The Farnhams like Wayland because it is the kind of small town Lexington used to be when they were growing up there. Both attended Lexingon High School. Mrs. Farnham is the former Jeraudeane Buck, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerauld Buck, now live at Dennisport.

His success has been considerable since he quit his job with a Boston bank after nine years there and decided to go to Springfield College and thence to coaching. He was graduated from Springfield in 1954, with time out for service with the U.S. Marines during the Korean War. He coached the Marines' track team at Camp Lejeune in 1952, and also served with the Marines in World War II.

During the Summer months Mr. and Mrs. Farnham are co-directors of "Namequoit", a sailing camp for boys from 7 to 16, at Orleans. Steven, who was 2 years old when his father went to college, is in the fifth grade at the Claypit Hill School.

No Double Sessions

motion, presented by Edward R. Langenbach, to ask the General Court to exempt the town from the public bidding required by law which would otherwise prohibit completion of Building B. by September.

Mrs. Boardman Bump, Chairman of the Special High School Plant Committee, presented the motion to appropriate $85,000 for 65 acres of Paine land on the southeast side of South Ave. and Wellesley St. for the new high school. During the two-hour debate, this motion at first received only a majority vote instead of the two-thirds vote required. A motion to reconsider was presented by Richard H. Field and passed, and the site itself finally was approved by a vote of 433-40.

Mr. Field said: "We have a majority and we need a two-thirds vote for something. Our children will have a long wait if a site is not selected." Eugene O. Hanson spoke in favor of the South Ave. site, saying that the vote two years ago for centralized schools referred to elementary schools, and emphasized the traffic problem if the new High School were built near existing schools.

Acquisition of eight acres of Mary M. Renwick land for a playground was passed by a voice vote. Frank Hitchcock, Chairman of the Recreation Commission, requested the appropriation from existing funds for the purchase. The land is west of Merriam St., south of Westland Rd., and is not the same acreage that was considered for elementary school use two years ago.

Biggest Classes Ever Are Graduated From High Schools

(John J. McCann)

The Weston graduation exercises, favored with beautiful weather, were held out of doors in front of the main entrance to the school. Both schools had the biggest graduating classes ever, and in a few more years, it is supposed, both will be housed in big new buildings.

(John J. McCann)

The Wayland High auditorium was full of parents and friends of the graduates. Amateur photographers kept flashlights popping, and as at weddings, a few tears were shed.

WESTON—The largest class in Weston High School history was graduated on Thursday afternoon, June 12, at 4 o'clock. Eighty-eight students and one exchange student from Rombas, France received diplomas from Mrs. Harry C. Crawford, Jr. of the School Committee, and special awards and scholarship announcements were made by Mr. Julius H. Mueller.

In performing this task for the last time as Weston's principal Mr. Mueller noted that his 13-year tenure of office had coincided exactly with the 13-year school life of the class of 1958. Twenty-five of the present graduates were members of the class that entered kindergarten in the fall of '45 when Mr. Mueller became principal.

Mr. Mueller also reminded his audience that the present class is graduating 21 students from the neighboring Town of Lincoln marking the end of a very rewarding relationship.

Of the 88 graduates, 74 will attend four-year colleges, and 27 will go to business or technical schools and to junior colleges.

The following were given awards and scholarships:

To Joshua Fabyan Lombard,

WAYLAND — Fifty-eight boys and girls were graduated from Wayland High School on June 12. It was the largest Wayland class ever, expected to be followed soon by classes more than twice as big: The program:

George A. Bradley, president of the senior class, gave the address of welcome.

The graduation theme was "Education Maketh a Full Man" and was elaborated by six young people. Peter Clarence Baker spoke on "The Social Studies and Education"; Anne Marie Walsh, "Languages — The Key to Understanding"; Lois Elaine Dunklee, "Business Education and Our Economic System"; Peter Jay Gierasch, "Science and Math — Factors of Progress"; Joan Roberta Walston, "The Manual and Creative Aspects of Education", and Barbara Ann Wood, "Curricula Experiences Outside the Classroom". Cynthia Joyce Duncan recited the original class poem, written by Anne Marie Walsh.

Rev. William P. Castles gave the invocation and Rev. George C. Gütekunst the Benediction. The musical numbers were "Pomp and Circumstance" for

Cong. Church Seating Capacity To Be Doubled

WAYLAND — Members of the Trinitarian Congregational Church, at a meeting held June 16, voted to double the capacity of the church, from 176 to about 350, and to rebuild the basement to provide from eight to 10 new Sunday School rooms.

This step, one of the biggest in the 130-year history of the church, was occasioned by its great growth in recent years.

Special Town Meeting In Weston Set For June 19

WESTON — A Special Town Meeting will be held Thursday, June 19, at the Town Hall at 8 p.m. for the purpose of authorizing the Special High School Plant Committee to proceed with the building of a new high school. The Selectmen will request an appropriation of about $33,000 from existing funds to permit the Committee to begin its work. The Committee will report at a later date on its progress and will then request the Town to borrow money to build the school.

Kiwanis And VFW Join Forces To Run Campaign For The Jimmy Allen Fund

(John J. McCann)

WAYLAND—The Kiwanis Club of Wayland and the Wayland Veterans of Foreign Wars Post have joined forces in a campaign to raise money to help Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Allen of 14 Willard Street, Cochituate whose 3½-year-old son, Jimmy, was terribly burned on May 24 when his clothes caught fire from a back yard incinerator.

Jimmy is in Framingham Union Hospital, coming along but still in serious condition. His treatment will be long and costly.

The Kiwanis directors, in a special meeting, pledged the Club's entire treasury to the cause. The VFW Post, which had decided independently to run a campaign to help the Allens, joined forces with Kiwanis when it seemed there was no point in a duplication of effort.

Such an effort to give help to neighbors in trouble is not unprecedented in Town. On the contrary, it is typical of the community.

Kiwanis and VFW leaders met on June 13, with George V. Deverell, Kiwanis president, and William R. Gauthier, Post Commander, both present, and it was decided to join forces to promote the Jimmy Allen Fund.

An appeal was made over radio station WKOX, Framingham, and the VFW put collection boxes in stores and public places on June 14. Small donations had previously been coming in as the result of letters sent out by the VFW.

The Salvation Army, Wayland Service Unit, through director Mrs. Ethel Cassidy, gave $100 to the fund.

Contributions may be made by mail to Jimmy Allen Fund, Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust

About Pheasants

To the Editor:

Have your fun about cutworms vs. pheasants, but there are such things as climbing cut worms, as most gardeners know to their sorrow!

You are right in saying that pheasants are not native American birds, but come originally from Asia where there are a number of different species. Perhaps you would be interested in the true story about them.

According to legend, pheasants were first brought to Europe by Jason of Golden Fleece fame, from the area between the Black and Caspian Seas (now part of Russia). They became established in Europe about 1250 B.C., and in Britain in 1299 A.D., where it is said they were introduced by the Romans and Normans. The full-blooded English Pheasants (descendants of this original stock) have no white ring around the neck. Ring-necked Pheasants from eastern China were brought to England later, and most of the pheasants now there are called English Ring-necks — a cross between the two races.

The first pheasants in the U.S. were 28 Ring-necks shipped from eastern China to Oregon in 1881 where they became well established. The first in Massachusetts were brought from Oregon in 1894 and turned over to the Commission on Fisheries and Game. Breeding pens were established in Winchester and this was the start of game-bird breeding in the state. These original Massachusetts birds were called Mongolian Pheasants, but E. H. Forbush, then Ornithologist for the State Board of Agriculture, says they were full-blooded Chinese Ring-necks.

You may be further interested to know that while the main food of pheasants is seed, especially of cutivated grain, green vegetation, buds, nuts and some fruit, they also eat many insects, among which are cutworms (climbing or otherwise!), grasshoppers and beetles.

Sincerely,
Charlotte Smith

Scouts Open House

To The Editor:

A few years ago two men, Walter Smith and Ronald Wood, visioned the possibilities of rebuilding an old house at the Wayland Beach area for use by the Scouts of Cochituate.

Through the untiring efforts of George "Pop" Fullick the building was torn apart, torn apart again and rebuilt. "Pop" put many hours of hard labor into this building in his effort to finish it for "his boys". Due to the untimely death of "Pop" he never really saw the completed building.

The history of the rebuilding was getting long until Harvey Newton stepped into the void and with the help of many friends the building is today in use and ready for the public to visit.

The Cubs, Scouts and Explorers of Cochituate appreciate the many donations of money, materials, time and effort that made this building the place it is.

So many of our friends in Town, along with many from outside of Town helped us, that we hesitate to try and thank each in turn. These boys and their leaders publicly thank each and everyone who may have had any part, small or large in bringing this building to completion.

We extend an invitation to all that might visit the "Scout House" at the Wayland Beach Friday night, June 20, the hours of 7 to 10. If you miss us then try Saturday afternoon, June 21, from 2 until 4.

Applause Card

To the Editor:

I just wanted to write a note to you and the Weston group to express my appreciation of the wonderful program you developed this year. I honestly feel that what Weston has done in encouraging and making it possible for interesting families to entertain foreign students, get to know them and give them a meaningful existence, is not only grand in itself but has pointed the way to similar programs in other communities.

The Weston approach of involving families in a community who are really interested, and so interesting to the students, and then making it easy for these families to entertain occasionally, and even to develop the continuing relationships out of the group experience seems a very good solution to the problem combining the best features of each.

So I would appreciate it if you would convey to the many wonderful people in Weston who have helped in so many ways this year our sincere thanks for all they have done.

Yours,
Anne Forbes

Weston LWV Models A Hat, Too

(John J. McCann

WESTON—The hat modeled by Mrs. J. Bruce Dougherty is the Massachusetts entry in the Hat Parade held at the National Convention of the League of Women Voters at Atlantic City to point up the League's strong support of the renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. Inspecting the cod fish shaped hat filled with items exported by Massachusetts are (left to right—standing) Miss Florence Freeman, Weston President, Mrs. Dougherty, Mrs. Allen E. Cole and Mrs. Burton A. Bromfield, the two chairmen responsible for the foreign policy item on the League program. Mrs. Bromfield has acted as World Trade Chairman this year.

WESTON — One resident has requested driver training for a child this summer. If there are enough children who will not be in Weston High to take the driver training class regularly offered during the Winter, the School Committee will consider setting up a class this summer. The class would also depend on whether the Town could find an instructor at this late date.
